"FEED MY LAMBS."

Good Shepherd of Thy lambs, Oh! may Thy servants be Obedient to Thy charge, To feed them as for Thee; To teach them day by day Their Heavenly Father's fear, And ever show to them The way of duty clear!

O Thou, Who when on earth Didst with Thy loving hand Gently embrace, and bless That little childish band, Teach still all parents' hearts How safe their children are, When folded in Thine arms And in Thy Church's care!

We think of them to-day, Thy servants now at rest, Who built in faith and love Many a guarded nest, When, near Thine altar, Lord, They nurtured in Thy sight The young, ere yet they took Into the world their flight. Perhaps their prayers with ours Are blending now to-day; Better than we they know That Love to which we pray, Oh, may that Love Divine Teachers and learners bless, And make them all to grow In truth and holiness.

The Rev. W. Barker, rector and rural dean of St. Marylebone, London, and Prebendary of St. Paul's Cathedral, has been appointed Dean of Carlisle Cathedral.

A superb chalice and paten have lately been dedicated to the service of God in Hursley Church in memory of the late vicar, the Rev. J. G. Young, who held that living for over 40 years. This memorial has been presented by some 250 parishioners and friends of the late vicar. The chalice in design and workmanship is singularly beautiful, being modelled from a chalice of the early part of the 15th century. The chalice has six brilliant amethysts set in the knob and in one of the panels of the base is a crucifix which is surmounted by a star of small diamonds.
