AMUSEMENTS THIS WEEK.

THE SHADOW OF MORGAN. The shadow of Morgan is spreading There is scarcely a railroad in the entire country which in some form or other has not felt his influence. Unthat for years have been fierce comnetitors, always grappling at each other's throats, are now working hand in hand, with the utmost harstructionist and not a destroyer of values. Jay Gould's fortune was worked out. reared upon the wrecks of companies ed to his own gain. Morgan is a born organizer. He has taken hold of non-paying, hadly managed roads and by the adoption of method and system turned them into profitable properties. His unparalleled success has made him a gigantic figure in the the money and property now under ican occupation of the Philippines thusa, which was sent from here at his control being practically unlimit-

· But people are now beginning to ask what the end of it all is to be. Is it desirable that such tren power should be placed in the hands of an individual ? Is there not something radically wrong in an economic system which admits the possibility of one man attaining the position now occupied by Morgan?

These and similar questions are now commanding the attention of the people of the United States, and they are applying themselves to their solution as they have grappled with other and equally difficult problems. There is a growing belief in the United States that Morganism will prove in the end a stepping stone in the direction of nationalization of him because they know they can detransportation.

Morgan cannot live forever, neither can the small coterie of multi-milonaires with whose wealth he has absolute play. What will happen hen these men die cannot be said. But it is not beyond the range of possibility that the American people will be prepared to demand that the position now occupied by the great transportation king shall be assumed by the national government. In what other direction to seek shoulders sufheiently broad to bear the burden it is difficult to suggest.

Freight receipts at Dawson have thus far been unprecedentedly small. Boats are arriving daily with cargoes scarcely large enough to afford good ballast. Nevertheless this year's output of gold bids fair to equal if not to exceed that of previous seasons and the population of the territory,

The Klondike Nugget it anything, is slightly on the invery least observant that an abnormal condition exists in commercial circles which cannot continue indefinitely. Sooner or later something must give way

The belief has been held by many people that hydraulic operations are impracticable in this country by reason of the frost which remains in the ground during the entire year. Actual. experience has demonstrated that such an opinion is not based upon Not Courted by Health Officer reasonable grounds. The excavations that have been made upon the Acklin property by purely hydraulic means have proven beyond question that hydraulic operations are not only possible but comparatively easy to And Small Packages can be sent to the carry on after the water question is solved. #### A Treacherous Lot

Washington, May 28 .- The Philippine mails today brought to the war department the records of a number of interesting court martial cases in the Philippines. Private Charles L. Leonard, Company G, Sixth infantry, was assisting an enlisted man of the hospital corps in vaccinating the native inhabitants of Bacong. Among the natives vaccinated was one named Almin, who at first was reluctant to have the operation performed, but who later submitted to it with seeming willingness. He then accompanied the two soldiers on their rounds, apparently friendly, and much interested in their work. But on leaving the house of a person whom he had just vaccinated Private Leonard was waylaid outside the door by Almin, who plunged a dagger into his breast, inflicting a mortal wound. Almin admitted the crime and said that he murdered Leonard because he had vaccinated him. Gen. Chaffee approved the sentence of death imposed by a court martial.

Basilio Leynes, a native, stabbed to death another native named Diocampo while the latter was seated at breakfast in the public market at Bauan, Batangas. The only motive for the crime appeared to be the fact that Diocampo was in the employ of the United States. Leynes was sentenced to hang.

Nicolas Espada, a native, surrendered and took the oath of allegiance to the United States. He was given his liberty, returned to the mountains and resumed his calling as an insurgent chief and later was Moran's attorney said his client captured with arms in his hands and sentence to ten years imprisonment The magistrate smilingly remarked at hard labor, on the recommenda-

Large Wheat Cargo Portland, Or., May 23.-The larcest cargo of wheat that has ever left the Pacific Coast for South Africa will be shipped from Portland early in June on the ship Speke. This vessel, which is said to be the largest three-masted ship afloat, was chartered yesterday to load a full cargo at this port for the dark continent at 27s 6d.

This leaves the Columbia river again without a disengaged grain ship ready for business, the repairs there being nothing else available.
