Mrs. Wentworth Barnaby of New York arrived on Saturday and will visit her sister Mrs. Starr Eaton and Mrs. James Sawyer at Steam Mill Village.

The death took place at Canning last week of a very old resident Mr. James P. Baines. The funeral was held on Sunday from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Burton Cain.

Mr. Baines was originally from the old country and has resided here many years. He was a merchant tailor and worked at his trade for a long time. He leaves besides his daughter mentioned above, two sons, Henry and George residing at Gaspeau and White Rock.

There has not been chronicled in this paper the death of L. Corpl. William Hilton Jackson of 112th Battalion, afterwards transferred to 25th, Lance Corporal Jackson an Englishman by birth, had been ten years in Canada and intended if living after the war to settle with his bride in this country.

His patriotism was shown by volunteering three times before he was accepted. After being in the trenches but a short time he received wounds from which he recovered, returned to the front where again he was wounded. He died at Clearing Station, France, April 29th. He was well known here at Canning.

249th Camp Jottings

(By "Don" Junior.)

The boys of the 249th Batt. are joying their "forced" stay at Aldershot Camp, and have made many good friends in Kentville.

Old man Jupiter Pluvius seems to be a constant visitor in this part of the country. His batting average is way over the 400 mark—so far.

Baseball has taken a grim hold at this early date. The boys of "C" Company after a fierce fought 8-3 draw with "A" Company on Thursday found their batting eyes and on Friday administered a neat little dubbing to the same team to the tune of 9-2.

On Saturday a match was arranged between the C.A.S.C. and the fast-moving "C" Company champions. After the smoke cleared away the C.A.S.C. found themselves snowed under to the tune of 16-2.

Lieutenant H. W. Lindsay has returned to his own after a visit to the Hospital suffering from a slight attack of pleurisy. The "Judge" and the "Camp" are both looking like themselves again. Its hard to keep a good man down—particularly a Scot.

Lieutenant Colonel G. B. Keenleyside, Captain A. H. Ball and Captain A. J. Badger are visitors to Yarmouth this week.

Church Parade was well attended Sunday morning. It is pleasant to notice that the Forestry Battalion seemed just as anxious to attend divine service as the 249th but the boys from the West demonstrated their superior marching qualities in no uncertain way. Too bad the bridge was so narrow.

In spite of the fact that the Presbyterian Church had been previous engaged for them. The 249th courteously retired in favor of the Forestry Battalion and marched to the Methodist Church. They had a service of their own—Capt. Gawthrop officiated and preached a splendid sermon.

A dance was given to the officers and men by the good people of Kentville on Friday night which was very much appreciated.

On the King's Birthday the Battalion enjoyed a picnic at Kingsport.

Captain J. T. Gawthrop preached a splendid sermon in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday night. The service was well attended and the singing by the choir was exceptionally good.

Corporal Griffith of C. Co. preached in the Kentville Baptist Church on Sunday morning giving an able address on Jesus the Bread and Water of Life and Light of the World. Corporal Griffith is one of several clergymen in the Battalion, he leaving a Methodist pastorate in Saskatchewan to serve in the ranks of the Battalion.

The officers and men are delighted with the prospects of seeing this valley in all its gorgeousness of bloom of apple, plum, peach and pear orchards.

CAMP ALDERSHOT.

Capt. C. W. Corey late of the 246th was in Halifax the last of the week.

Miss Nan De Wolfe nursing sister was at South Farmington visiting a few days last week.

Major Denton of the Forestry Batt. was at Digby a short time last week.

Mr. Allen Masters of Hantsport has lately enlisted with the Forestry Batt. Lieut. Claire Kinney, of Yarmouth, officer in the Forestry Battalion, motorized from Yarmouth Tuesday with his father Coun. F. C. Kinney, and sisters enroute to Aldershot. From Digby they were accompanied by the Commanding Officer Major M. C. Denton, of this town—Digby Courier.

Dr. Andrew C. Weir of New Glasgow a recent graduate at Dalhousie Medical College has come to Berwick and taken over the practice of Dr. Harris.
