

MURDERER IN COLLAPSE.

Moans and Yells When He Reaches Auburn.

SORRY FOR HIS CRIME.

His Talk on the Way to the Prison— Wouldn't Do it if It Was to Do Over Again—Hopes Mrs. McKinley Will Live.

Auburn, N. Y., Sept. 27.—Czolgosz, President McKinley's murderer, in the custody of Sheriff Caldwell, of Erie county, and twenty-one regular and special deputies, arrived in Auburn at 3.15 a. m. The prison is just across the road from the depot, the distance which the party had to walk after alighting from the car being less than fifty yards.

Awailing the arrival of the murderer was a crowd of only about 200 people, but either from fear of the crowd, which was not very demonstrative and which made no attempt to harm the man, or from sight of the prison.

Czolgosz's Legs Gave Out, and two burly deputy sheriffs were compelled to practically carry the man into the prison. Inside the cell his condition became worse, and he was dragged up the stairs and into the main hall. He was placed in a sitting position on the bench while the handcuffs were being removed, but he felt over the man and groaned, evidencing the most abject terror.

As soon as the cuffs were unlocked the man was dragged into the principal keeper's office. As in the case of all prisoners, the officers immediately proceeded to strip him, and put on a new suit of clothes.

During this operation Czolgosz cried and yelled, making the prison corridors echo and resound with evidence of his terror. The prison physician, Dr. John Gerin, was summoned, and on his arrival he examined the man, ordered his removal to a cell in the condemned row, which he will occupy until he is taken to the electric chair.

The doctor declared that the man was suffering from fright and terror, and declared that he was shamming to some extent.

The collapse of the murderer was a surprise to every one. En route from Buffalo he showed no indication of breaking down.

the trigger. I felt nervous all the time and thought someone would catch me. I held my hand against my body to keep the handkerchief from falling or rubbing off.

QUEEN OF ANARCHISTS.

The Career of La Bella Teresa.

A FAIR PLOTTER OF MURDER. Small doubt exists among those who have followed the progress of the anarchist movement during recent years, says the London Daily Mail, that one of the instigators of the attempt on Mr. McKinley's life were the Italian anarchists, and among them, a woman of singular beauty and magnetic influence, who for a period of eight years has made London her home.

It will be remembered that last year, when the awful murder of the Italian King started the world, the man sought by policemen of London and New York was an individual known in the "brotherhood" as "Enrico Malatesta, the leader of the Italian anarchists."

He was reported to have been in America when the plot to murder King Humbert was hatched, and to have been actually in touch with Sassi, the feather worker, Quintavalle, the barber, and Lana, the navy—three of the secret agents who came to Europe from New York with La Bella Teresa and Bressi, the murderer of the Italian King, on May 18th, last year.

She was reported to have been in America when the plot to murder King Humbert was hatched, and to have been actually in touch with Sassi, the feather worker, Quintavalle, the barber, and Lana, the navy—three of the secret agents who came to Europe from New York with La Bella Teresa and Bressi, the murderer of the Italian King, on May 18th, last year.

She was reported to have been in America when the plot to murder King Humbert was hatched, and to have been actually in touch with Sassi, the feather worker, Quintavalle, the barber, and Lana, the navy—three of the secret agents who came to Europe from New York with La Bella Teresa and Bressi, the murderer of the Italian King, on May 18th, last year.

She was reported to have been in America when the plot to murder King Humbert was hatched, and to have been actually in touch with Sassi, the feather worker, Quintavalle, the barber, and Lana, the navy—three of the secret agents who came to Europe from New York with La Bella Teresa and Bressi, the murderer of the Italian King, on May 18th, last year.

She was reported to have been in America when the plot to murder King Humbert was hatched, and to have been actually in touch with Sassi, the feather worker, Quintavalle, the barber, and Lana, the navy—three of the secret agents who came to Europe from New York with La Bella Teresa and Bressi, the murderer of the Italian King, on May 18th, last year.

BROKE DOWN AT CELLDOOR GOT LIVELY RECEPTION.

Montreal Murderer Collapses in the Prison.

DEATH WATCH NOW IN CHARGE. Montreal, Sept. 27.—Joseph Laplaine, who was yesterday sentenced to death for murdering Mrs. Lefebvre, has completely collapsed. When he was taken to the jail he had to be assisted into the prison van and out of it, and when he reached the door of the death cell he broke down completely. He will stay in this cell from now until the day of execution, Oct. 25th, with the exception of a few minutes walk in the corridor at stated intervals, when no other prisoners are near.

BOERS APPEAL TO HAGUE.

Claim Britain Has Broken Rules of War.

THEIR RIGHT TO INDEPENDENCE. New York, Sept. 27.—Charles D. Piorce, representative in the United States of the Orange Free State, has received a copy of the appeal made by the Boers to the Administrative Council of the permanent court of arbitration at The Hague.

The appeal, which is dated The Hague, Sept. 10, says in part: "Now that this war has gone on for nearly two years without any prospect of an end thereto, except in the way only recently acknowledged as being the most efficacious and at the same time the most equitable means of declining international differences, to wit: submission to arbitration, the desirability mutually, for such a peaceful termination cannot be become more and more acknowledged."

In her early childhood her father kept the post house at Molaret, and when she left her mountain home above the valley of the Dora she took up her abode with her maternal uncle, Ignazio, in Turin.

Ighina was the moving spirit of the Malfattori and a desperate Anarchist. He was banished, and came to London bringing Teresa with him in 1892. Here she first met Malatesta, who used her as his recruiting sergeant.

Her influence was too magnetic for weak men to resist. The murderer Bressi first met her in America in December, 1899.

In 1895 Teresa Ighina—her real name is Brugnoli—she had adopted her uncle's surname—went to Florence as a delegate to the Italian Congress assembled by Malatesta. She gained an international reputation by charging the Socialists with encouraging trade unionism, and declared the following: "The Marxists are the enemies of freedom, because they favor a form of government. Her startling words to the delegates were: 'Emancipate yourselves by organizing force to meet force, and you shall be free! Use the knife!'

MUCH-BURIED LINCOLN.

Remains Now to be Laid in Final Resting-Place.

HAVE BEEN ELEVEN TIMES MOVED. Springfield, Ill., report: The remains of Abraham Lincoln will soon be put away for all time, never to be disturbed again, in accordance with the wish of his son, Robert T. Lincoln. An excavation 15 feet deep is being made beneath the vault where they now rest, and in this the casket will be placed. It will be surrounded by a concrete block, 8 by 8 feet and 15 feet long. The transfer will be made after the return of Governor Yates.

This will make the twelfth removal of the body, the record being as follows: May 4, 1865—Casket containing body of Abraham Lincoln received in Springfield, Ill., and deposited in the public receiving tomb in Oak Ridge Cemetery.

December 21, 1865—Removed to new brick vault built to receive it on the east side of the national Lincoln monument and deposited in centre crypt in catacomb. Oct. 9, 1874—Removed from the centre crypt and from iron casket to a lead-lined cedar case, and deposited in the marble sarcophagus in centre of catacomb room in the monument.

Nov. 7, 1876—In an attempt by thieves to steal the body, marble sarcophagus was removed, and when detectives surprised them the casket had been moved 18 inches out through the open end.

Nov. 9, 1876—By order of the Board of Control, the cedar casket was replaced in the marble sarcophagus, which was restored and sealed. Nov. 15, 1876—Removed from sarcophagus to rear of Memorial Hall.

Nov. 18, 1876—Removed from Memorial Hall and placed in a new stone vault and placed in excavation in middle of the east outside wall under the terrace of the national Lincoln monument and left on wooden trestles.

Nov. 22, 1878—Cedar casket covered six inches deep and ground leveled down like the rest of the passage ways under the terrace of the monument and an hour later the casket was removed and the remains identified by six personal acquaintances of Mr. Lincoln.

March 10, 1900—Removed from connection with the national Lincoln monument was taken down and deposited in a new stone vault built for the purpose in the side of the terrace on hill on which the monument is built.

FATHER AND SON KILL FIVE MEXICAN BRIGADS.

HACIENDA OWNER SHOT.

But Continued to Use His Pistol With Good Effect—The Attackers Fled—Brigades' Guide Arrested and Gendarmes Pursuing Fugitives.

Puebla, Mexico, Sept. 28.—Brigade recently obtained entrance to the Hacienda de La Joya, in this State, taking advantage of the hour when the workmen reported at the office of the hacienda. One of the robbers shot Amor Lastiri, owner of the place, the bullet entering the abdomen. Lastiri fired a revolver at the bandits and killed his assailant.

Lastiri was then wounded by a machete, but continued firing his pistol with his left hand, when his son came to the rescue and opened fire on the robbers, killing four of them. Then the band, seeing that their attempted robbery was likely to cost them dear, fled.

The man who guided the robbers to the hacienda, which is surrounded by wooded hills, has been arrested. Mounted gendarmes are scouting in all directions, and it is expected the entire band will be captured or shot.

SHOT HIMSELF AT SWANSEA.

Bert Card, a Young Toronto Man, Commits Suicide.

HE LEFT A LETTER AND A RING. Toronto, Sept. 28.—Looking out toward the dock which covers the intake pipe of the waterworks at Swansea last night, a young man named Heber Howard saw a man on the end of the dock pull out a revolver and fire twice into the water, and then turn the revolver on himself and fire again. The body toppled over into the water, the whole thing occurring in a moment.

Howard at once notified Constable Pressley, and he secured a boat at Nurse's bathhouse, and with Mr. Nurse, recovered the body. But though it was done as speedily as possible, there was no sign of life, and the position of the body indicated that the man was dead when he fell into the water.

The remains were at once taken to Nurse's Hotel, and coroner Cotton notified. Upon examining the body, the coroner found that the man had entered over the right temple, and that death had been practically instantaneous.

STORY OF HIS ESCAPE.

Captured Thief Tried to Swallow Newspaper Clipping.

WHICH GAVE HIS CASE AWAY. Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 27.—Detective Maguire and McDonald, of the local police, made an important arrest last night, in the capture on information from Syracuse of a man giving the name of Robert C. Edwards, of New York. The Syracuse authorities sent word that he had stolen $100 worth of goods from a dental office in that city, and to look out for him.

The thief was captured in a pawnshop here in the act of disposing of the dental goods. On the way to the police station he was caught in the act of trying to swallow a newspaper clipping which describes the digging out of the jail in Malden, Mass., of Bert O. Taylor, arrested there for larceny on Sept. 15th. Edwards, alias Taylor, admitted that he was the man who dug out of jail.

SENTENCED TO DEATH.

J. E. Laplaine Found Guilty of Murder.

A PATHETIC SCENE IN COURT. Montreal, Sept. 26.—Joseph Ernest Laplaine, who has been on trial in the Court of Queen's Bench for several days on a charge of murdering Mrs. Lefebvre, a respectable married woman, with whom he was infatuated, was this afternoon declared guilty by the jury, and sentenced by Judge Oulmet to be hanged at the Montreal jail on October 25th. The defence made a big fight to get the accused off, on a plea of insanity, but failed.

There was a pathetic scene in court when the verdict was announced. The murderer's mother, sister and brother have been watching his interests from the first, and they had great hopes that the worst would be a verdict of murder while temporarily insane.

Madame Laplaine fell in a swoon on hearing the verdict, and the doctor had to be helped from the court room. Judge Oulmet announced that he would at once pronounce sentence, and the accused was asked if he had anything to say. He did not reply anything to say.

His Lordship then placed the black cap upon his head and pronounced sentence amidst a profound silence in the crowded court-room. The condemned man broke down, and had to be led from the court by the guards.

MCKINLEY'S WILL.

Leaves Pr. party to His Wife With a Few Changes.

Canton, O., Sept. 27.—This afternoon Judge Day and Secretary Catelyou went to the office of the probate judge and offered the will of President McKinley for probate. The following is the substance of the will: "I publish the following as my last will and testament, hereby revoking all former wills.

COURT HAS NO JURISDICTION.

Plea of Archbishop Bond in Steen Controversy.

Montreal, Sept. 27.—What is known as the Steen controversy, which has been dormant for some months, has again been revived by the filing in court of the plea of the Archbishop of Montreal to the action for damages taken against him by Prof. Steen, as a result of the removal of his casket from the national Lincoln monument.

The time of the final transfer will be decided by the Monument Commission after conferring with Governor Yates.

Montreal, Sept. 27.—What is known as the Steen controversy, which has been dormant for some months, has again been revived by the filing in court of the plea of the Archbishop of Montreal to the action for damages taken against him by Prof. Steen, as a result of the removal of his casket from the national Lincoln monument.

The time of the final transfer will be decided by the Monument Commission after conferring with Governor Yates.

Montreal, Sept. 27.—What is known as the Steen controversy, which has been dormant for some months, has again been revived by the filing in court of the plea of the Archbishop of Montreal to the action for damages taken against him by Prof. Steen, as a result of the removal of his casket from the national Lincoln monument.

The time of the final transfer will be decided by the Monument Commission after conferring with Governor Yates.

Montreal, Sept. 27.—What is known as the Steen controversy, which has been dormant for some months, has again been revived by the filing in court of the plea of the Archbishop of Montreal to the action for damages taken against him by Prof. Steen, as a result of the removal of his casket from the national Lincoln monument.

The time of the final transfer will be decided by the Monument Commission after conferring with Governor Yates.

The time of the final transfer will be decided by the Monument Commission after conferring with Governor Yates.