

A CHEERING TRUTH.

Thousands Prove the Statement

That Paine's Celery Compound Makes People Feel Young Again.

A Cured Man Says: "I feel just as Bright as a Boy."

The Right Medicine For Every Ailing Man and Woman.

All the combined powers of earth cannot stem the tide of truth that sweeps over this Canada of ours in regard to the curing and life-giving virtues of Paine's Celery Compound. Thousands of the best people back up the sensible, plain and unvarnished statements about Paine's Celery Compound published from time to time. The cured thousands send such convincing letters of testimony that the most hardened sceptics are forced to admit that they are founded on the rock of truth and honesty.

The following letter from Mr. A. R. McGee, Dixon's Corners, Ont., assures you, though your case may be desperate and death very nigh, and though doctors fail and other medicines prove unavailing for your relief, that Paine's Celery Compound will do more for you than you can justly realize or hope for. Mr. McGee says: "Some time ago my condition of health was alarming and I suffered very much. I was laid up three days out of every week; and I often said to my friends that it would be better, if it was the Lord's will, that I should be called away. Three of the best doctors attended me, but could not relieve me in any way. It was then I was advised to use Paine's Celery Compound, which brought relief at once. After using this great remedy I find myself a new man, and feel just as bright as a boy of eighteen years. I think it is the greatest medicine in the world, and would strongly recommend it to all who suffer."

An Australian Method.

There seems to be no limit to the devising of means for the transportation of perishable produce to a distance. A new method is that of packing butter in a box made of six sheets of ordinary glass, all the edges being covered over with gum paper. The glass box is enveloped in a layer of plaster of paris a quarter of an inch thick, and this is covered with specially-prepared paper. The plaster, being a bad conductor of heat, the temperature inside the hermetically-sealed receptacle remains constant, being unaffected by external changes. Butter packed in this way at Melbourne has been sent across the sea to South Africa, and when the case was opened, 700 miles from Cape Town, the butter was found to be as sound as when it left the factory. Cases are now made to hold as much as 200 weight of butter, and 40 boys and girls are occupied in making the glass receptacles and covering them with plaster. The top, or lid, is put on by a simple mechanical arrangement, and is removed by the purchaser equally easily. A saving of 25 per cent. on freight and packing is claimed, in comparison with the cost of frozen butter carried in the usual way.

WORK SPOILED.

Did Not Get the Right Kind.

Why labor in vain? Why do you try to dye cotton or mixed goods with common dyes that the makers prepared for all wool goods?

Well, you are not altogether to blame; the dealer who sold you the dye, and who told you it was good for either cotton or wool, is the one who is directly responsible for your loss and failure. He sold you worthless dye because they gave him a large return of profit.

If you had bought the Diamond Dyes made specially for Cotton and Mixed Goods your work would have been well and truly done. These special cotton colors of the Diamond Dyes are the latest discoveries of the best chemists of the world, and are far superior to all other dyes for the coloring of cotton goods.

Fast Diamond Dyes for Cotton are quite fast to light, and if you use them your carpets and rugs will be as bright after years of wear as the most expensive carpets you can buy. For dyeing Cotton or Mixed Goods, ask for Fast Diamond Dyes for Cotton; take no others.

Bridal Superstitions.

If the wedding ring is lost the couple will separate.

If an apple be thrown upon the roof of the bridegroom's house it is a sign the bride will be happy.

The bride must not look in the glass after performing her toilet unless one hand is unglued.

If a bride tears her wedding dress it is not good.

It is unlucky for a bride to put her bare feet on any bare floor on her wedding night.

To change the name and not the letter is to change for worse and not for better.

If the bride open an umbrella in the house bad luck will surely follow.

It is unlucky for two brides to meet in a church.

The bride should not permit the best man to wear everything black at the ceremony as it is a very bad omen.

Systematic Giving.

A PAPER READ BY MISS IRENE FITCH, AT A RECENT MEETING OF THE WOLFFVILLE W. C. T. U.

"Bring ye all the tithes unto the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of Hosts, if I will not open the windows of heaven and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it."

And now that this point is clear to us, we want to learn how to give.

First: give gratefully as did Jacob after God had promised him such great possessions and blessings and had given him a vision of angels ascending and descending that wonderful ladder, in his gratitude he said "The Lord be my God, and of all that thou shalt give me I will surely give the tenth unto thee."

Give willingly. Ex. 35: 21. "And they came, every one whose heart stirred him up, and every one whom his spirit made willing, and they brought the Lord's offering to the work of the Tabernacle of the congregation, and for all his service, and for the holy garments, and they came both men and women as many as were willing hearted."

In Cor. 9: 7, Paul says, "Every man according as he purposed in his heart, so let him give; not grudgingly or of necessity; for God loveth a cheerful giver."

In Luke, 6: 3-8, Christ himself said to his disciples "Give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, shaken together and running over shall man give unto you because—Ege with the same measure that you mete without it shall be measured to you again." This Bible is rich in promises to those who give as they are prospered. Listen again to the prophet Isaiah in chapter 53: 10. "And if thou draw out thy soul to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul, then shall thy light rise in obscurity, and thy darkness be as the noon-day; and the Lord shall guide thee continually and satisfy thy soul in drought, and make fat thy bones; and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water whose waters fail not, and in Prov. 19: 17, we are told "The liberal soul shall be made fat; he that watereth shall be watered also himself."

Now, to whom shall we give? This is a large question and the answer will vary with the circumstances of the giver. Our Saviour said in his sermon on the Mount, "Give to him that asketh thee, and him that would borrow of thee, turn not thou away," and again he said "Unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall much be required." David said in Psalm 41: 1 "Blessed is he that considereth the poor; the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble, the Lord will preserve him and keep him alive and he shall be blessed upon the earth." Mark the promises my sisters, how grand and full they are to those who give in God's way, and the poor we have all ways with us. "Trust in the Lord and do good, so shall thou dwell in the land and verily thou shalt be fed."

These promises are sure only to those who fulfill the conditions. Are there any here who do not believe in this system of giving and who does not practice the same? I would say to you sisters, you are losing a great deal of pleasure. You are rejecting the blessings which God is waiting to bestow upon you, and implore you to begin at once to keep a tithing account. Charge this account with one tenth of your net income, and credit it with all sums paid out for Christian and benevolent work. To-day count what money you have on hand and put aside one tenth of it. Add to this one tenth of all you receive from day to day, and draw from it as you have calls for aid in behalf of benevolent or Christian work. Try this for one year faithfully, and you will never want to go back to the old shiftless way of giving. Then there is so much we can give beside money, or even bounty of any sort. The "kindly affectionate" greeting to rich and poor alike, the warm, firm handshake, the sympathetic word, the cheery smile, the kindly interest in the neighbor who is not in easy circumstances, how little these cost us, and yet how rich the recipient feels. How the sorrowing heart is cheered. How the lonely home is lightened by a cheerful visitor and a judicious interest. May God help us to pay all our tithes and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus how he said, "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

As Well as Ever.

A Brickmaker Listens to Reason—Uses Six Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and tells it.

Cardinal, Dec. 7 (Special)—Mr W. H. Odell, perhaps one of the best known citizens of this town, has lately recovered from a long continued and painful kidney ailment. He tells the story of his experience to the correspondent as follows:—

"I have suffered for over a year from kidney disease, the pain in my back being so severe that I was unable to stand to my work."

"Noticing the published cures of what Dodd's Kidney Pills were doing for others I concluded to use them."

"Having used only six boxes I can say that I am perfectly cured and well so that I can attend to business as well as ever I could."

Louis Napoleon was of the opinion that no man should veto who was not married. Married men, he thought, had a different sentiment toward their country than the unmarried, and a greater stake in its welfare. In his opinion, also neither priests nor soldiers should be permitted to vote.

MISS ZELMA RAWLSTON.

A Charming Sourette Who Attracts Large Audiences.

She Tells Something of the Hard Work Necessary to Make a Successful Artist—Many Break Down Under the Strain—An Interesting Chat with a Telegraph Reporter.

From the Quebec telegraph.

Those who have attended the performances at the Academy of Music this week, will readily concede that Miss Zelma Rawlston is one of the brightest sourettes on the stage. She is a clever musician and a charming singer, and an impersonator shows a talent considerably above the average. She has winning ways, a mischievous twinkle in her eye, and a captivating manner. Her magnetism for drawing large audiences is not alone confined to the stage, as she is possessed of a character which is pleasing to come in contact with. It is full of good nature, amiable qualities, and a charm that endears her to all those who have been so fortunate as to have made her acquaintances. A Telegraph representative had the pleasure of an interview with Miss Rawlston which resulted in a biographical sketch of her life being published in these columns on Saturday. During the course of the interview, Miss Rawlston let out a secret, which she consented to allow the Telegraph to make public. For many years she has devoted the best part of her time to study, sometimes practicing ten hours a day, at the piano alone. It is not therefore, astonishing, that under a strain of this kind, she began to feel the effects upon her nervous constitution. She is of a robust build, and apparently strong physique, and stood the strain without interrupting her studies, until she had perfected that which she desired to accomplish. Like many other artists who have gone before, she completed her work, graduated with the highest honors, and prepared to enter upon her stage career. The reaction of over study, and long hours, soon began to tell upon her and although it did not interfere with her climbing the ladder of fame as an actress, she very soon became cognizant of the fact that she was suffering from a strain on the nerves which threatened sooner or later to result seriously to her health. Her sufferings did not interfere with her engagements, but prevented her from participating in pleasure of any kind. The nervousness increased to such an extent that she became a victim to insomnia, and slowly her digestive powers gave out, and she was fast becoming a chronic sufferer from nervous debility. After trying many remedies and prescriptions, she one day read an advertisement in one of the daily papers referring to the complete recovery of a similar case as her own, with the aid of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She had tried so many patent remedies that she almost despaired of trying any more. Something seemed to influence her to test this preparation, and she ventured to purchase one box of the pills. Before she had used half of them, she began to feel an immediate improvement in her condition, and by the time she had used two or three boxes, she was a different woman entirely, and today there are few actresses who display a better example of perfect health than our representative found Miss Rawlston in when he called upon her last week. The subject was suggested by our reporter seeing a box of Pink Pills in Miss Rawlston's possession. "I always carry them with me," she said, "and would not be a day without them; although I do not take them regularly, I find them a very beneficial stimulus for one in my profession. If the assertion of the benefit which these pills have worked upon me will induce the public to try good, I am perfectly willing that my name should be mentioned, and that the facts should be given to the public."

Miss Rawlston's permanent address is in care of her manager, Mr Tom McGuire, Room 5, Standard Theatre Building, New York City.
