

HARRY GRANFIELD GIVES TANLAC FULL CREDIT

"My health has undergone such a wonderful improvement that I must say Tanlac is an unusual medicine and tonic," states Harry Granfield, 153 Haverty St., Toronto, Ont.

"For two years past I have been troubled with indigestion to such an extent that I felt unfit for anything. My nerves became all undone and my sleep was unsteady. My energy had about all left me and I would tire out easily."

"Since taking Tanlac I have a wonderful appetite and my stomach never troubles me any more. My sleep is sound and restful and I get up mornings with renewed energy and really feel like active work for the first time in two years. I am strong for Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 Million Bottles Sold.

TANLAC VEGETABLE PILLS, for constipation, are recommended by the manufacturers and distributors of Tanlac.

TENDER INCIDENTS IN "CHILDREN OF DUST"

What a poor little boy of the New York streets did to get one insignificant flower in a big private park is one of the many human incidents in "Children of Dust," a First National picture, which comes next Saturday evening to the Neighborhood Theatre. It was directed by Frank Borzage, the young director who made "Humoresque."

When the little urchin's mother dies, he goes out to get a flower for her. As he climbs the iron gates of Gramercy Park, the gruff old caretaker grabs him and beats him severely.

When Archer is imprisoned for the deed, the boy's forgiveness and sympathy arouses a love and remorse in the old chap's soul. After his release he takes the boy as his own.

The story is simple, but pulsates with life as it is really lived. The old man is played with fine sensibility by Bert Woodruff, while the boy is done by Frankie Lee and later by Johnnie Walker. Pauline Garon, Lloyd Hughes, George Nichols and others make up the all-star cast.

"There are two sides to every question," proclaimed the sage.

"Yes," said the fool, "and there are two sides to a sheet of flypaper, but it makes a mighty big difference to the fly which side he chooses."

METHODIST CHURCH

There were two preaching services last Sunday at the Methodist church. In the morning the congregation had the pleasure of hearing Rev. J. Spencer Crisp, who several years ago was pastor of this church for two years. He gave a very forceful sermon. In the evening the church was crowded to fullest capacity by those anxious to listen to the former Evangelist, Fred Foster of Fort Fairfield, and although he is a member of the Hartland Methodist church, they seldom have the opportunity of listening to him.

The services next Sunday will be as usual: 10:30 a.m., prayer and social service; 12, Sunday school, and in the evening at the usual hour, 7:30, preaching service, at which Rev. J. Spencer Crisp will take the service. A cordial invitation is given to all to come, especially those who have no regular place of attendance.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Irene Lea, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee C. Hatfield, who departed this life September 14, 1923, aged 16 months and 6 days.

A Shepherd came when the sun grew low

By a path that had long been trod, And carried our darling, through the mists of night, To his fold in the mount of God.

With tearful eyes and bleeding hearts We must bear it and struggle on, Must climb the mount by the Shepherd's path,

To the fold where our loved one has gone.

Father and Mother. (Poetry paid for).

"Pat," said his master, "your wages are now 25 cents an hour, are they not?" "Yes, sir." "Well, I intend to raise them to 30 cents an hour in future." "Stop a minute, sir!" exclaimed Pat. "If I lost two hours will I lose 60 cents?" "Why, certainly," said the master. "Bedad, then," cried Pat, "I don't want your rise, I only lose 50 cents now."

Small Son: "You do look tired, mother."

Mother: "So tired, dear, that I can't move a hand!"
