such a source of revenue has been available since the Union. But for the position assumed for so many years by the Dominion Government the Secretary should visit the Island at his earliest convenience, and who made with reference to the rightful control a motion to that effect. of these inland fisheries, this income would have been sooner available.

Former Governments would only have been too glad to gather the amount into the Provincial coffers had they been in a position to do so. Now that the Dominion authorities have been forced to abandon their attitude with reference to riparian ownership, the Province is in a better position as regards the fishing lots fronting on ungranted Crown Lands, which gives however no occasion for the attempt on the part of some of dred topics. the Government papers to contrast the late with the present local admindo so, the late Gov't would have pursued the same course as that taken by the new administration. We are of the opinion however, that the Protheir respective properties, (a gues- joyable one. Reference was made some time ago to tion which has for years been in dispute) asserts its authority as to when and how these rights shall be exercised, and also throws the burden of protection solely on the riparian owners, unless he brings himself under the protection afforded by the Act by taking out a lease or license at a nominal fee. We think it only reasonable that if the Dominion Government assume the right to regulate and control the inland fisheries, the duty of protecting the same should rest with the Do ninion Go ernment, irrespective of ownership. As the matter now stands, parties who obtain leases from the Local Government must assume the burden of protecting the fishing grounds allotted to them unless they also procure a t lease from the Fishery Department at Ottawa. This may be all right in the eyes of those who uphold this sort of legislation, but it seems absort of legislation, out it seems ab surd according to our views—one Government may lease but cannot protect what it leases—while the there can protect but will not unless protect what it leases white it leases white the set of the running of this is assented to. The fish ery question is not yet settled to the satisfaction of the public. But—wait; I see you are lame. Do you that nothing short of the running of this is assented to. The fish ery question is not yet settled to the aljective and never can be properly used otherwise; would not 'rather' or 'some that nothing short of the running of this is important industries is, we think, fairly entitled to the increased railway of a hundred and seventy-four votes on to be a lively as ever."

The basis of the Union was accepted by the Montreal Conference by a small imajority, and rejected by the London Conference by a somewhat larger ma-jority. The Toronto Conference has however more than made up for the dis-couragement felt at the action of the London body, by accepting the basis by a vote of one hundred and thirty-seven out of a hundred and seventy-four votes years. He was in the habit of walk-ing from his son's residence to the In the defendant's pleading, filed in out of a hundred and seventy-four votes cast—a splendid victory. The Novas Scotia Conference, which met on Thurs-day, (we learn by telegraph from St. Stephen) has carried Union by a vote of 34 to 32. There will likely be an animated Dr. D. A.
