and if the Imperial Legislature would consent to transfer this branch to commissioners acting under its eye, and controlled by its authority, a considerable share of the evil might be remedied. A London morning paper, which is known to be inspired by Lord John Russell, has put forth a feeler on this subject which has authority, "the simplest and best amendment that could be applied to the evil would be to establish a system of mixed or join, committees, say of three Peers and three Commoners whose inquisition into all matters should be final.

It is rumoured that the Duke of Newcastle, since his transatlantic trip, has devoted considerable attention to a project for consolidating all the North American Colonies into one Confederation—a subject which has been more than once urged on the attention of the Imperial Government withous effect, The Duke's stay in the provinces was not very protracted, but a man of forceight and intelligence, like the present Colonial Severnary, who has had his very and care open, would be better enabled to judge wife the practicability of such a scheme than any amount of information conveyed to him without such azyperience could possibly impart. He had the further advantage of passing from the Colonies into the neighbouring Requible, and this rapid transition would probably steengthen the resolution at which he is said to have arrived. When we see what the Federal principle has done in the United Satos, it may be presumed that the Duke thinks the time has arrived for its introduction into the British Passersions of North America. Lard Durham and Mr Charles Buller, when they went to Canada, more than twenty years ago, after the termination of the Cutter of the Colonies to dohar them from carrying cut accessfully the great scheme which has wereled such marvellous results in the Lawer Provinces entertained in the colonies to dohar them from carrying cut accessfully the great scheme which has wereled such marvellous results in the American Univo, and the Duke thinks the measure of this kind would, of course, he untertained without consulting the feelings of the colonies to dohar them from carrying cut accessfully the great scheme which has wereled such marvellous results in the American Colonies to the scheme.
