HER 15 YEARS SEARCH FOR HEALTH ENDED
Halifax Woman Had Spent Hundreds of Dollars in Vain Effort to Get Relief—Tanlac Fully Restored Her.
 "My only regret about Tanlac is that I didn't get it sooner, because for fifteen years I hunted high and low for something to give me relief and spent hundreds of dollars on medicine and treatments that were just so much money wasted," said Mrs. F. Walker, 144 Duncan St. Halifax, N. S.
 "I was in broken health for years and finally got to a point where I was on the verge of a nervous breakdown. I don't believe anybody ever had headache any worse than I did. I would suffer so that I would have to stay in bed for days at a time. My sleep was broken and restless and in the morning I felt worn and tired.
 "I was both alarmed and discouraged about my condition when I began taking Tanlac and I certainly know how to appreciate the splendid health this medicine brought me. I feel just fine now and haven't a trace of any of my old troubles."
 Tanlac is sold by all leading druggists everywhere.

BRIDAL FLOWERS HERE AGAIN
 That Orange Blossoms Are in the Market is a Sure Harbinger of World Peace.
 One interesting sign of the coming of peace has been the reappearance of real orange blossoms at weddings. During the war they were difficult to obtain, owing to the fact that they come as a rule from France. Nearly all the orange flowers which are used at smart marriages in London and Paris are grown in the sheltered valleys of the Alps Maritimes behind the Riviera.
 Here there are orchards of orange trees scattered over the sunny slopes, and the local peasantry devote most of their time to growing the beautiful flowers. No attempt is made to get the fruit, seeing that the orange trees are solely cultivated for the sake of the glistening blooms.
 A large part of the floral crop finds its way to the perfume factories of Grasse, but the choicest sprays are picked for the London and Paris markets. Orange flowers keep fresh for a considerable time, and they stand the journey to England very well, arriving in perfect condition.—London News.
 One Thing More.
 A pretty girl fluttered over to a neighbor's house Sunday last to borrow some writing paper. She had an important letter to write and mail, and she was out of stationery. About half an hour later she returned for an envelope, and a little later still came back for a stamp. "Well, I hope that's all she wants to borrow today," said the disgruntled neighbor woman as she slammed the door after the pretty girl. "She needs a little 'spit' to make the stamp adhere," said the neighbor woman's husband "and she'll be over after that in a minute."—Arkansas Thomas Cat (Hot Springs, Ark.).

COULDN'T BE HAPPY.
 "Your wife says she is entirely happy," said the spiritualistic medium.
 "I don't see how that can be," replied the man.
 "She is in heaven," replied the medium.
 "There she would naturally be happy."
 "I don't think so," replied the man stubbornly. "I don't see how she could ever be entirely happy without me being around to find fault with."
 Before Starting Work.
 "Well, come down to the shop tomorrow morning and I will put you to work."
 "Tomorrow? I couldn't possibly come until the day after."
 "Why?"
 "Why, tomorrow I must take part in the great demonstration of protest of the unemployed."—Life.
