KIDNAPPED AND RELEASED.
BELFAST, Feb. 9. Four special constables were kidnapped in Risslea District, County Donegal, yesterday. Major Miles, of the Donegal, kidnapped yesterday, returned home to-day. Others in the area are reported released. The Rev. Ivan Carson, former High Commissioner of Ulster, and relative of Carson, former Ulster leader, was kidnapped Wednesday and a letter from him to-day with address stating that the writer was well and that there was no cause for anxiety. It develops that large numbers of trees were felled over a wide area, apparently in preparation for raiding operations and that many trenches were dug along the Fermagh and Monaghan border. The operations were so extensive, it is believed hundreds of men were engaged.

IRELAND'S TROUBLES.
DUBLIN, Feb. 9. Michael Collins, head of the Provisional Government of Southern Ireland, received the following telegram to-night from the Sinn Fein Executive in Conkstown, County Tyrone. "Special constabulary are believed to be mobilizing around here for further raids and outrages to-night. Apprise British and Northern Government to have them stopped or the consequences will be serious." Collins immediately informed the British Government, stating that such action by specials could only be carried out with the support of British troops and adding that the Provisional Government is doing its utmost to get the situation under control, but if the action forecast at Conkstown was taken things would become extremely serious.

RETALIATION.
BELFAST, Feb. 9. It was reported here to-night that the Provisional Government of Southern Ireland would not release any more captured Ulster Unionists until the Monaghan Football players, arrested recently while travelling in a motor car to Londonderry for a game and in possession of some revolvers contrary to Ulster law, were set free.

Public is Amazed at Continued Enormous Demand for Tanlac

People All Over America Want to Know What is Behind the Phenomenal Success of This Preparation That Makes It the World's Greatest Tonic.

Day after day the question is being asked all over the United States and Canada: What is the reason for the phenomenal success of Tanlac? Why do we hear so much about it? and why do Tanlac sales keep increasing every year, when other medicines seem to have a short-lived popularity and are then forgotten?

The answer is simple enough. The test of time has proven to people all over the American continent that Tanlac always produces most gratifying results and that the remarkable effect it brings seems to be more permanent than ever before believed possible.

Tens of thousands of persons, everywhere, who look it when it was first introduced six years ago, report that they are still enjoying excellent health and millions of American homes are now using Tanlac as the family medicine after first trying it out thoroughly and proclaiming it the World's Greatest Tonic.

Thousands of men and women of all ages and in all walks of life afflicted with stomach, liver and kidney disorders, some of them of long standing as well as thousands of weak, thin, nervous men and women apparently on the verge of collapse have testified publicly that they have been fully restored to their normal health, strength and weight by its use.

Still others, who seemed fairly well yet who suffered with indigestion, headaches, shortness of breath, dizzy spells, sour gassy stomach, coated tongue, foulness of breath, constipation, bad complexion, loss of appetite, sleeplessness at night and terribly dejected, depressed feelings, state to put into effect the terms of the Anglo-Irish Treaty, was formally introduced into the House of Commons this afternoon by Austen Chamberlain, Government leader. The Bill will be given a second reading next Thursday.

CANADA'S VETERANS' ORGANIZATION FEDERATE.
WINNIPEG, Feb. 9. Provisional Federation of the Canadian Veterans' Organizations with a view to an organic union within nine months was effected at to-day's conference of veterans here. Falling the carrying out of complete amalgamation within nine months, a new Dominion convention is to be held with the matter. The new Federation is to be known as the Dominion Veteran Alliance and will embrace the various soldiers' and sailors' organizations in Canada.

CAPSIZED SCHOONER DISAPPEARS.
ST. JOHN, N.B., Feb. 9. The schooner Senator which capsized in the Bay of Fundy last week and which has been lying on her beam ends off Chance Harbor, had disappeared this morning.

CANADA WILL BE REPRESENTED.
OTTAWA, Feb. 9. Canada will be represented at the coming economic conference at Genoa. It was announced to-night.

Pickled tripe is good fried in batter and served with mashed potatoes and stewed tomatoes.

Dr. V. P. Burke Writes on War Memorial.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir.—I was not present at the Rotary Luncheon on Tuesday, but I gather from your paper that the Rev. (Colonel) Nangle, in his address, said he was not favorable to the erection of Universities and similar institutions as War Memorials, and that he said some crushing things about the C.H.E. Examinations.

With regard to the C.H.E. Examinations, I fail to see what they have to do with the erection of War Memorials, but possibly the Rev. Colonel may have made this connection quite clear in his address. Respecting his opposition to Colleges or Universities as War Memorials, however, while everybody has a right to his opinion on this matter, I have to say that his opinion and the opinions of some of the greatest minds of Europe and America are not in agreement. For instance, All Souls' College, Oxford, was erected as a memorial to those who died in the French Wars, and in the whole of English History, I wonder is there any epoch that impresses itself more upon the school boy than that same epoch, which is commemorated in the famous Oxford College.

Some people, even to-day, see a connection between the prominence given to this period of British History and the training of many British historians at Oxford. Some of these historians lived there, and were a shadow of this College, which was a living reminder to them of the bravery of their ancestors in days gone by, of which they were proud and of which they never wearied in the telling. Again, the University of Leyden was erected to commemorate the victory of the Dutch over the Spanish, and who can estimate the effort this University has had in keeping Holland a free and independent state on the borders of a grasping neighbor?

It was only a little over a year ago that I stood in the War Memorial Hall at Harvard University, a Hall erected in commemoration of those who fell in War, and a few days after I had the honor of visiting the War Memorial Building at Yale University. Evidently the people who were responsible for these buildings would not agree with the Rev. Colonel's ideas on our memorials, and among these people were some of the greatest minds in two continents. As an illustration of how great men of to-day look upon Colleges and Universities as suitable Memorials, let me refer to the following excerpt from a speech made by the Right Hon. H. L. Fisher, M.P., one of the outstanding members of the present British Cabinet, at Bedford College in 1917, he said:

"I remember in olden days, reading the story of the building of the University of Leyden (Holland). The University of Leyden was built in the year 1574 to commemorate the tragic issue of the great and heroic siege of Leyden. The Memorial of that heroic siege was the foundation of a University, a University, which in the course of a generation, achieved for itself the renown of being one of the most famous centres of light and learning, and I suggest to you, Ladies and Gentlemen, that our memorial of this War should be a great University of England, which should be the means of raising the whole population of the country to a higher level of learning and culture than has hitherto been possible."

The opinion of Queen Victoria upon the question of memorials and also that of General Sir Archibald Hunter, M.P., as expressed in the following excerpt from a British Journal, will be read with interest in this connection:

"General Sir Archibald Hunter, M.P., unveiling a roll of honor at St. Thomas' School, Lancaster, which included the names of 107 old boys who had made the supreme sacrifice, said Queen Victoria told him in 1898 that when she died she hoped that whatever memorial was erected to her memory in Scotland would be something of practical good to the living. In 1901, just after her death, he was appointed to be Commander-in-Chief of the forces in Scotland, and when the question of the form of a memorial to Queen Victoria arose, he made a

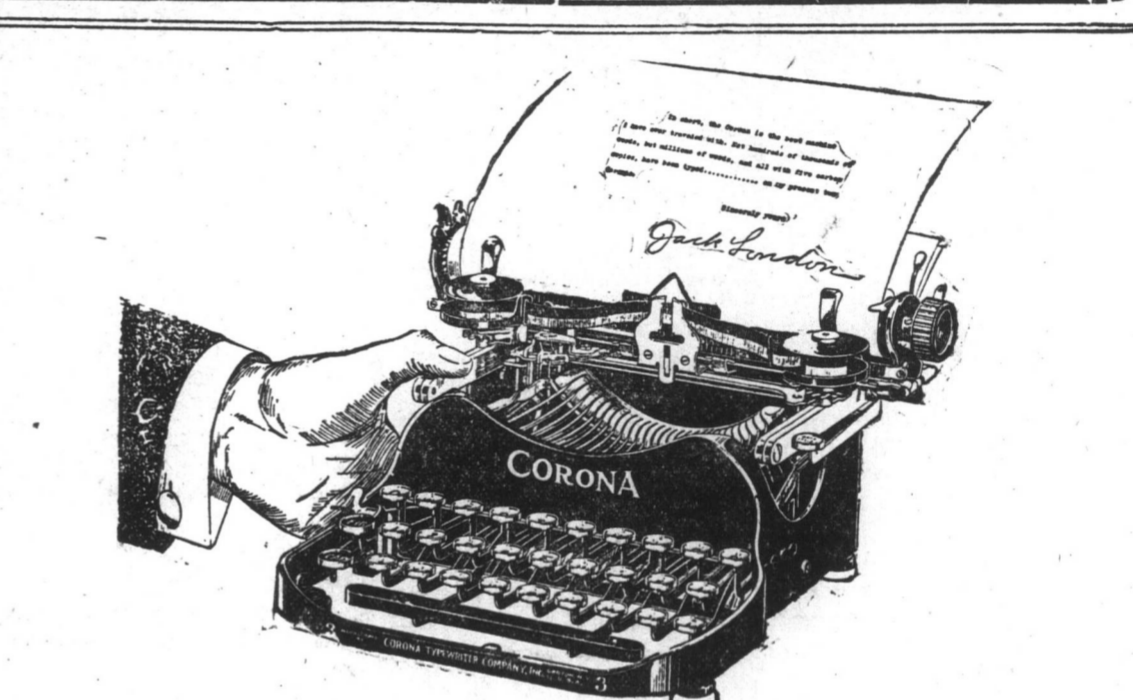

HOW TO BAKE BREAD FROM CANADA'S BEST FLOUR.

MATERIALS:
3 quarts of Windsor Patent Flour,
1 Tablespoon Salt,
4 Cups Lukewarm Water,
Dry Yeast Cake.

PREPARATION

Let yeast cake dissolve in 1/4 cup lukewarm water for about 10 minutes. Put salt into mixing pan. Add water and enough flour to make a stiff batter (about the consistency of pan-cake mixture). Add yeast and beat two or three minutes; put in warm place to rise over night; in the morning sponge should be twice its size. Add enough flour to make a dough stiff enough not to stick to hands or board; after flour is all mixed in, turn mass out on bread board and knead two or three minutes; let rise again about twice its size, then mould lightly into pans, cover well and let rise twice its size. Bake in a modern oven until loaf is nicely browned and feels light when taken out of pan. This quantity makes 5 small loaves. If large batch of bread required, increase materials accordingly.

Household Notes.
Narrow-loaf pans insure thorough baking.
Serve peas in delicious little carrot timbales.
Too much handling is sure to make pie crust tough.
Fry noodles in peanut oil and drain on blotting paper.
Simple steamed puddings should be served with rich sauces.
Stewed raisins are nice served with the prepared cereals.
Carrots and cabbage can be shredded and cooked together.
Cubes of stale bread are good in well-seasoned stewed tomatoes.
Noodles or small pieces of macaroni are good in mushroom soup.
A pinch of salt and a little vanilla will improve peanut brittle.
Mints are nice dipped first in butter-scorch and then in chocolate.
Squash pie is delicious. Make just as you would pumpkin custard.
Young carrot tops may be used for a garnish if everything else fails.
Cocoanut, chopped figs, raisins and marshmallows are nice on caramels.
Left-over pork can be scalloped with noodles and served with apple sauce.

"Saved My Little Girl!"
Mother tells how her little Ethel's life was saved.
That is what one woman wrote me recently, and then she goes on to say:— "Ethel, who is just past eight, caught a bad cold last August. The child is of a highly strung, nervous temperament and could not be kept quiet in bed. We tried everything we could think of to cure her cough. But, the cough became worse and from a rosy, healthy, sturdy girl she became pale and thin. Nothing we did seemed to stop the cough and by this time regular spasms of coughing had developed. These coughing spells left the child weak and completely tired out. I believe that in a short time the cough would have reached the child's lungs. After trying everything I could think of, I saw an advertisement for Carnol, saying that this preparation would build one up. I got a bottle from the druggist and before it was half finished my little girl had almost completely shaken off her cough. Her cheeks began to get back their old color. She started to put on flesh again and would run and play all day without being tired. Today, after having taken two bottles of Carnol, she is looking and feeling better than she has ever felt in her life."
Carnol is sold by your druggist and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle and we will refund your money.
