Fire at Wills' Range. PUMPER DEMONSTRATES USE-FULNESS.

Since the addition of the pumper to the Fire Fighting Apparatus of the red at Wills' Range on Wednesda afternoon. At ten minutes after two o'clock a telephone message was re ceived at the Central Fire Hall, stating that a big blaze was in progress at the home of Stephen Halfyard Pleasant Street. The pumper was the first to leave the hall and arriving on the scene, the house was found to be all ablaze. The apparatus from the West End Fire Hall followel but owing to no hydrants being near, it was some time before the hose could be connected. In the mantime, however, the men on the pumper had run out 800 feet of hose to a river near Casey's slaughter house, and although they had to construct a small dam, a splendid stream of water was being poured on the flames within minutes after the 'phone message was sent in. In 15 minutes the fire was under control. Considerable damage was done the kitchen and adjoining rooms. It is understood that the house is insured whilst Mr. Halfyard has also $700 on his furniture The work of the firemen is very commendable and the Inspector Genera is to be complimented both on the efficiency of his men and the up-todate apparatus with which he has equipped the city. It is possible, that had not the pumper been present, whole of Wills' Range would have been razed to the ground as the nearest hydrant was at Beaumont
