AMERICANS MAKE BIG CLEANUP AT OLYMPIC GAMES; UNITED STATES FLAGS FLYING ON MASTS AT STOCKHOLM IN ARENA

STOCKHOLM, July 7.—The American athletes won two notable victories at the Olympic games today. R. C. Craig, of the Detroit Y.M.C.A., captured the final of the one hundred metres dash while James Thorpe, of the Carlisle Indian school, won the pentathlon, a series of five events. Three Canadians, Joseph Keeper, of Winnipeg, G. M. Brock, of Toronto, and Frank Lukeman, of Montreal, figured creditably in the various events.

Three flag staffs were erected in the Stockholm stadium where the colors of the different nations scoring first, second and third in the final contests of each event are hoisted. When the 100 metre sprint, the event most honored on athletic fields everywhere, had finished, the American flag went up on the first staff, on the second and on the third. Craig, A. T. Meyer, Irish-American A. C. and D. F. Lippincott, University of Pennsylvania, were the men they represented. Craig's time, 10-4-5 seconds, equals the Olympic record.

Only one other number on the program was included today. That was the pentathlon, which was intended to be a test of all-around prowess, when this event was included in the Olympic games, conservative old-timers, both English and American, who heretofore had dominated the field sports, regarded it with suspicion as a trick of the newcomers to gain points which were not contemplated in the original program.

The United States got the lion's share of the glory from that also. At its conclusion the first and third staffs floated American flags and the second Norway's.

The Indian Thorpe, by his victory, won his position as the legitimate successor of Martin J. Sheridan, as an all-around athlete. Of those who entered this competition, the four Americans, Thorpe, Brundage, Conque and Montauk started in all the events and stayed to the end with the Norwegian Bel, the Canadian Lukeman and the Swede Wiklander.

The semi-final heats of the 800 metres and the tryouts for the running high jump put the Americans in the position of practically owning these events, six representatives of the United States qualifying for the finals in both competitions.

The 10,000 metres race was less satisfactory but was not entirely disappointing. Louis Tewanima, of the Carlisle Indian school, Joseph Keeper, of Manitoba, Louis Scott of South Paterson, and U. S. McGuire of North Attleboro, Mass., qualified for the final. One of the spectators of the day was the running of the little Finn, T. Kolchmanen, who defeated the great Englishman, W. Scott, in the 10,000 metres. The two Scots, British and American, did well in that heat, but the trainers were displeased because the men finished on running, for blood instead of pluck.

The runners in the lead in the 800 and 10,000 metres included in some exciting racing for first place, while the spectators, knowing that they were sure of the final, reserved their strength. The disappointments of the day were the inability of Edward P. Dew, colored, of the Springfield high school, to compete in the final of the 100 metres, because of a strained ankle, and the failure of the popular runner, Lunghui, to get a place in the final of the 800.

The sprinters of the United Kingdom, whose professors taught the world springing long distance running and bicycling, had a bad day. Except for the colored runner, Britain took a back seat, having no representative in the final 800 metres and having small prospects of winning the 10,000 metres unless the colored runner, Lunghui, took the front. However, they carried themselves like sportsmen and were prompt to congratulate the victors.

On the other hand, the meeting proves that the continentals, particularly the northern races, are not behind the British and Americans in the qualities that go to make athletes. They need only practice in the special sports they have taken up recently to hold their own.

In the Stadium
The exhibition in the stadium is as hard for a spectator to follow as a three ring circus. There was something about the central track most of the time and within the oval the jumping and pentathlon events. One end had the wrestling contests. The wrestling includes feather, middle and heavy weight. In the preliminary bouts all the contestants were Europeans from the northern and central countries. No Americans or Britishers participated. The heavyweights were the most popular, some of them swarthy giants in the countess lights. They walked around the platforms under a fierce sun for hours, like fighting bulls with horns locked. From time to time throughout the afternoon a cyclist entered the stadium, black, bearded and dust covered from the race over the rough roads around Lake Malar. The race, which began at 2 o'clock this morning and was over a distance of about 200 miles, was won by Lewis of South Africa, who covered the distance in 10 hours 42 minutes. Grubb, England, was second and Carl Schulz, Kansas City, attached to the St. Louis Cycling club, third. The team race combined with the individual competition, gave Sweden first place; England second and the United States third. The Swedes had the advantage of familiarity with the tortuous track.

Brook won Heat
In the 800 metres semi-finals, second heat, Brock of Canada was first with Caldwell and Edmondson second and third respectively.
In the Lake Malar cycle race of 200 miles, Lewis of South Africa, retained the championship. Grubb of Britain, was second and Schulz third, and Meredith of England, fourth; Brock of Canada came fifth among the 135 competitors.

INTERNATIONAL.
Jersey City, N. J., July 7.—In the mid-season game between Providence and Jersey City, the Grays forced the Skeeters to an even break with two wins each.
The score of the final game was 4 to 0. Providence squeezed through the eighth inning with Kelly at bat, the ball striking to Latiff's fingers and shooting at right angles from the plate. The umpires decided that it was an excusable error while the manager claimed it was a ball on the pitcher, which would have enabled Kelly to reach base instead of retiring on an infield out. Scores:

BOOSTERS CAPTURE BOTH ENDS OF A DOUBLE HEATER FROM BRONKS IN TWO HARD FOUGHT CONTESTS SATURDAY

Chester Eugene Cox did not win the pennant which is symbolic of the championship of the first half of the 1912 Western Canada league season. But his hired men did all that was in their power to do it. What they did was to capture both ends of Saturday's double-header between the Boosters and the Bronks in two hard fought contests being decided by a 5 to 0 score, and the evening one 5 to 0. That they had not captured the pennant can and must be blamed upon the Edmonton Bronks and the westerners. Had the latter person just supplied a few tons more or moisture up north, the Boosters would have captured the pennant and had the Bronks defeated the Deers in the one game which was played in Northbrookville, the Boosters would have won. But as neither of these things happened, the Boosters will have to play with the winner of the final series for the second championship.

As was intimated previously, the Boosters did their best to win the flag. They played splendid ball, both in the afternoon and evening, which is more than can be said of the Bronks. The latter tribe played listless, and the Boosters took advantage of their lack of interest. In the afternoon it was his boot which allowed four of the Boosters' runs to come across the pan while in the evening he had a couple more bad errors chalked up. The evening errors, however, were not as expensive, but they each helped the Boosters grab the game.

There are at least two Bronks who may be eliminated from the blame for their defeat. They are Snick Myres and Pete Standridge. The former did mound duty in the afternoon and evening, and the latter was in the line of duty in the evening. Myres allowed but four hits, and would have won the game with good pitching. Standridge was a little better, but he allowed three bingles were collected from Standridge's delivery.

The Bronks started off like a real team in the afternoon, and in the very first round scored, and in the second round they scored again. The Boosters' score was 5 to 0. MUST FAIR NAME OF BASEBALL SUFFER FOR THIS?

Edmonton, Alta., July 7.—About the crudest deal in baseball this season was pulled off by Edmonton and Red Deer here against Bassano on Saturday. This was the closing one for the first half of the season, the winners to play off with the second series winners. It poured rain all Friday night and Saturday and the diamond here was mud six or eight inches deep. In the early afternoon no one contemplated a game, but when it was learned that Bassano had won in the afternoon in Calgary and with another win in the evening would lead the league, a hurry call was sent out and in pouring rain Red Deer and Edmonton rushed down to the diamond. While players floundered around in mud like flies on sticky flypaper a perfunctory six inning game was played and then in broad daylight Longacker called the game, and no one kicked except a few spectators who had heard of the game. Of course, Red Deer won, score being 4 to 3. Bassano, who captured a double-header on Saturday at Calgary, was thus jockeyed out of the first series.
