LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—Five drunks were discharged at the Police Court this morning.

—The Methodist Transfer Committee will meet in Toronto on April 7.

—David Evans, proprietor of the Stratford Age, was in the city to-day.

—E. Adamson, Government grain inspector, of Toronto, is at the Grigg.

—D. M. Cameron, a prominent Reform politician, of Stratford, was in the city to-day.

—The water commissioners met last evening and decided to call for tenders for the year's supplies.

—F. P. Redfield, agent for the Glasgow Horse Training Company, registered at the Grigg last evening.

—Andy McNulty, the popular foreman at the central fire hall, is off duty on account of illness.

—A fireman from the central fire hall chimneys at the residence of Dr. Tennant last evening.

—The issue of the campaign will be ably discussed by Sir R. Cartwright, J. F. Lister, Q.C., and others to-night at the Opera House. Hear them.

—The city engineer has taken the Victoria bridge breaker contract out of Ben Johnson's hands, and will superintend the work himself, with the consent of Mr. Johnson's sureties.

—A pinechom, of London West, a pressman, was carrying up paper from the cellar one night recently, when by some means he fell, and as a result he is now laid up with hemorrhage of the lungs. He lies in a critical condition.

—W. J. Haywood, of the Customs House, Windsor; L. F. Friedvaldt, of Toronto; C. H. Dymen, of London, England; T. H. Tindall and Joseph Eastwood, prominent among Cornwall sons of England, are all at the Grigg.

—F. Soper, C. and R. Tatham, Fred Evans, Corporal Wyatt, Mr. Milligan, Miss Barnard, Miss Mutch, Miss L. B. Gull, Mrs. Morrison, Miss Nixon and Miss Orrell took part in the concert of nations in aid of St. George's Church, London West, last night.

—At the last meeting of the Quarterly Official Board of the Amherstburg Circuit Rev. W. H. Gane, formerly of this district, was unanimously invited to return for the third year. A handsome new Methodist Church is to be erected in Amherstburg. Building operations will begin with the opening of the spring.

—The death occurred to-day at her late residence, 640 Waterloo street, of Mrs. J. G. Finchamp, who has been a resident of this city for a number of years. She leaves a husband and seven children—five C. P. E. and two daughters—two mourn her loss, all of whom are married except two youngest sons.

—Mr. Alonzo M. Strong, of Seaford, died yesterday at his home, aged 60 years. The funeral will take place from the residence of his brother, W. T. Strong, of this city, on Saturday afternoon at 2:30. The many friends of deceased in the city will deeply regret his demise. He was well known and highly respected here.

—We have received a letter from Mr. Pring, saying that his assailant "was a man who very much resembled (if it was not him) a prominent worker in your political ranks." Mr. Pring himself does not seem to know with any certainty who assaulted him. Mr. Pring also strongly denies that he is concerned in any domestic scandal.

—John Ferguson, of Ferguson Bros., London, Ont., has purchased, through Fitzgerald & Lucas, C. P. E. land, at Sprink, Calgary, two C. P. E. sections at Sprink, back for a stock farm. They intend to breed roadsters chiefly, having already 30 brood mares and 3 stallions, trotting breed. A track will be laid out on the farm for exercising and training purposes.—[Winnipeg Free Press.]

—Sir Richard Cartwright, M.P., J. F. Lister, Q.C., and Charles S. Hyman will speak at the Grand Opera House to-night. Everybody welcome.

—Mr. John Miller, of the Pease Furze Company, Toronto, has accepted a lucrative position with a large furze firm in Chicago, and leaves for that city next week. His two eldest sons have been there for a year past and are prospering. Mr. Miller has taken this step because he can do much better for himself and his family than he can in Canada. Canada loses a good citizen with his five sons and three daughters, who might all have been retained in the country, but are now absorbed by the nation south of us. On an average five families with their household effects leave Toronto each day for the United States.

—The Sewage Farm System.

Engineer Willis Chipman has sent his plan for the proposed sewage farm system to the city council.

The main sewer runs along Stanley street and the Pipe Line road to the Cove flats. It is two feet six inches wide and three feet six inches high. There are two brick sewers running north and south from the mouth of the main one, and the street sewers empty into them. The low territory at the north end of Talbot street, including Cartwright's brewery, Harvey's property and

A. Smith & Co., cigar manufacturers of London, having purchased the plant and stock of the Globe Tobacco Works, intend to give their long experience in the tobacco business for the furtherance of their new undertaking. Owing to the fact that Mr. Smith will personally superintend the works, the public may rest assured that the goods placed upon the market will be of the finest quality only.

the old Renwick swamp cannot be drained, nor can the flat ground along both sides of the south branch of the river.

A Large Funeral.

The funeral of the late J. B. Lawson yesterday afternoon was marked by an unusually large attendance.

"D" Company, I. S. C. Band, headed the procession. The Grand Lodge of the Sons of England, now meeting here, turned out in a body, including detachments of the naval and the artillery brigades in uniform. Deceased was buried under the auspices of Piccadilly Lodge, S. O. E., to which he belonged.

The pall-bearers were: Bros. Wm. Mason, Wm. Evans, Edward Fawcett, E. Dolby, F. Owens and Walter Gibbling.

The Study of the Poets.

The special subject for the consideration at the meeting of the Toronto Ministerial Association Monday was brought forward by Rev. J. V. Smith, formerly of this city, who read an interesting paper on "The value to ministers of a study of the poets."

The essayist opened with a brief criticism of the works of Shakespeare, Milton, Browning, Wordsworth and many other poetic writers, pointing out the particular features in the work of each that commended it specially to the minister of the Gospel, and concluded by expressing the opinion that the study of the best that the poets have produced could be of untold value to the brethren, helping them to a terse and forcible expression of the great principles it was their duty and privilege to teach.

A Raid on the Bakers.

A raid was made by Inspector Bell and staff this morning upon the local bakeries, and a large quantity of the state of life now in their possession. Most of the loaves have been weighed in the balance and found wanting. "Look here," said the inspector, as he put a six-ounce loaf into the scales and they registered at nine and a half pounds, "that is open fraud, as those loaves should weigh twelve pounds. The law says that Vienna rolls and fancy bread may be made in one-pound or one-and-a-half-pound loaves, provided the weight is stamped on the top. Some bakers make merely a few marks on the crust and then palm it off at fancy bread weight. That is a direct violation of the law." If some of the loaves had been properly stamped the bakers would not have been seized. The authorities say it was hard to get hold of the bread this morning, as word was telephoned to the bakers that they were after them.

Death of Mr. John Arnold.

At his residence, Alma street, after a short illness, Mr. John Arnold passed peacefully away yesterday afternoon aged 64 years.

His first wife, who was known by the name of Mrs. Arnold, died after a long illness developed into pneumonia. Some 40 years ago deceased emigrated from Wales to Canada. For a long time he dealt extensively in stoves, lumber and wood in Mount Brydges and then some twelve years ago he came to this city. He has been in the employ of the Carling Brewing and Malting Company and afterwards acted as Mr. Carling's Agent. The Liberal Conservative Association appointed him secretary, a position which he held for years. Mr. Arnold was noted for the straightforward way in which he carried on business, and wherever he was known he was respected. He was a deacon of the Talbot Street Baptist Church, of which he was a valued member. A wife, one son and two daughters remain to mourn his departure. The funeral will take place to Mount Brydges to-morrow afternoon.

The Visit of the Grand Master.

Arrangements are now being made by the Masonic fraternity of London and London West to give the Most Wor. Bro. John Ross Robertson, Grand Master, a suitable reception on his visit to London on Thursday, March 3. It is expected that the distinguished visitor will address the brethren of Corinthian Lodge, East London in the afternoon. In the evening he will lecture on "One Hundred Years of Masonry in Canada," making special reference to the early days and progress of the craft in this neighborhood. At the close of the lecture, which will take place in the Blue Room, Masonic Hall, the Grand Master will be entertained by the brethren in the banquet hall. At the meeting of past masters, held the other evening, Very Wor. Bro. J. D. Clarke and Wor. Bros. Luscombe and McWhinney were appointed a committee to receive the Grand Master on his arrival at John's Lodge, No. 20, the senior lodge in the city, was selected to open the lodge, and the junior wardens of the various city lodges, and of King Solomon's Lodge, London West were appointed a banquetting and hall committee. It was ordered that officers and brethren shall appear in full Masonic clothing.

CARLING'S PALE ALE.

A Canadian Boy in Cleveland Asks a Pertinent Question—Mr. Carling's American Trade.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

While taking my usual stroll Sunday afternoon my eye alighted upon the signboard of a large brewery. Painted thereon were the words "Carling & Co." As an old London boy, the name was familiar, and I at once recalled the analogous industry in the place of my birth, the products of which have made Hon. Mr. Carling's name known throughout Canada as a synonym for first-class bottled ale.

I found upon inquiry that the brewery in this city was a branch of the main establishment in London, and under the control of the same "Carling & Co." I see by your excellent paper that a political battle is waging, the broad issue of which is reciprocity. This, I understand, Mr. Carling vigorously opposes on the ground that it would ruin Canada's industries.

This I do not believe, although I think the moral element of the community would not object to it in which Mr. Carling is engaged met a like fate; but I wondered whether the honorable gentleman conscientiously thought it would be disastrous in his own case. Now, Carling's pale ale is accounted one of the best brands on the American market; it can be found in almost every bar room from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Under reciprocity, could not Mr. Carling supply this large American trade from his central quarters at London, instead of being forced to erect a branch on foreign soil? To one who professes to be so zealous in the furtherance of Canada's material interests it must indeed be painful to be compelled to extend commercial operations to the United States and build up an industry there, the benefits of which, but for the tariff wall, might be retained in the Forest City. Only the immense remuneration accruing from the American trade can probably alleviate these feelings. I trust all the young men of London will work and vote for the popular nominee of the Liberal party—Mr. Charles S. Hyman, whom I personally know and esteem—and that they will support a policy which will give young Canadians a chance to compare their qualities with their American cousins without having to leave their own beloved country to do so. There are hundreds of Canadian boys in this single city of Cleveland, who if they could do as well would gladly prefer to live in their own country. Yours truly

A CANADIAN BOY.

His Mind Completely Gone and a Physical Breakdown Threatened.

PARIS, Feb. 24.—The friends of Guy de Maupassant, the eminent French author and writer on political topics, are alarmed by the fact that the temporary improvement which was noticed in his mental condition has now disappeared. He has totally lost his mind and recognizes nobody. There is danger of his utter breakdown, physically as well as mentally, from paralysis.

COUNT TOLSTOI.

The Czar Orders Him Back to His Estate for an Alleged Unpatriotic Letter.

LONDON, Feb. 24.—A dispatch to the Standard from Moscow states that Count Tolstoi, who has been engaged in the work of relieving the distress in the famine districts, has been ordered by the Government to return to his estate. This action is taken in consequence of a letter concerning the famine which was recently published in London as written by Count Tolstoi. The Government holds that the letter was unpatriotic.

Countess Tolstoi has written a letter denying that her husband is the author of the London letter.
