Dr. Rixey was asked about these reports and he replied earnestly and without any hesitation what-

"Those statements are not true. The president is not in a serious condition, and there is no alarm felt over him. THE FACTS ARE JUST AS STATED in the regular bulletins of the physicians, who are anxious that the public shall be fully acquainted with them." The scare caused by even the faintest indication of trouble in connection with the president's wound, coming on the heels of steady and continued improvement was only natural under the circumstances. But there is absolutely no reason to doubt the frankness of the official statement of the physicians that the opening of a few stitches of the wound last night can give rise to other complications, and Dr. Rixey this morning was emphatic in his insistence of the complete truth of this statement. The opening of the wound

On the contrary it is usual for gunshot wounds to heal by what is termed "second intention" through granulation. Especially is this the case with older persons, whereas in the case of young people they usually heal by "first intention."

NO SIGN OF BLOOD-POISONING. There is absolutely no sign of bloodpoisoning in the president's case, said the doctor, when a newspaper man hinted that the irritation which had appeared at the exterior wound might have partaken of that nature. As the morning advanced and the isual activities of the day began, the feeling of confidence grew stronger.

They came in accordance with the usual understanding that a consultation would be held at 8:30 preparatory to the 9 o'clock bulletin. WHAT CAUSED THE SCARE. The following bulletin was issued by the president's physicians at 10:30

GROUNDLESS FEAR. Late last night there was a slight scare at the Milburn residence, caused by the protracted visit of the consulting physicians, who remained almost two hours, and this was increased by the announcement in the official bulletin that a slight irritation of the exterior wound had necessitated opening of a few stitches. As explained in the bulletin, this irritation was attributed to the fact that a small fragment of the presiden's coat had been carried into the body by the bullet, and although, this foreign substance was removed, a slight disturbance developed which made necessary the opening of the wound. The doctors seek to allay all apprehension by the positive state ment that this incident cannot give rise to other complications, and their frankness in giving the news to the their entire good faith.

OUT OF DANGER.

The corps of eminent surgeons and physicians in attendance upon the wounded president today committed themselves without reservation that their patient was out of danger and only complications threatened his life. Of course we will all feel easier when a week has passed," said Dr. McBurney, the dean of the corps. "We would like to see every door locked and double-locked, but the danger from president's abdomen is not heal-double-locked, but the danger from ing by "first intention" is not, possible complications is now very re mote." Dr. Rixey placed himself squarely on record, not privately to the friends of the president, but publicly, throught the agency of the press, danger point had been passed, and that the president would survive the attempt on his life.

THE BULLET.

The little piece of lead in the muscles of the back is giving the physicians no concern whatever. Unless it should prove troublesome to the president later on, he probably will carry this grim souvenir of the anarchist with him to the end of his days. The doctors say that once encysted it can do no harm. Thousands of men are today walking the earth in perfect health with much larger chunks of lead in At 8:30 o'clock the physicians began their bodies. The X-ray machine is arriving for the morning consultation. ready for instant use, however, and if there is the slightest inflammation or pain in the vicinity of the bullet an operation will be performed. The president will be taken direct Washington as soon as it is safe to move him. A most important development of the day was a determination reached among those in charge of the case that food should be administered to the patient tomorrow by the mouth, and not by the rectum. importance of this feeding by the mouth is that it will restore the mor-mal condition of the stomach for the first time since that organ had both its walls pierced by a bullet.

Widespread Sorrow for Bro. Hungerford Is Thoroughly Genuine-Messages of Sympathy.

At the regular communication of St. John's Lodge, No. 20, last night, the worshipful master, Bro. O.
