WALL STREET COSSIP.

Robt Cochran received this despatch from its New York agents to day:

New York, May 22.—There was only a slim attendance at up town recorts last eve. The dozen or so brokers found at the Windsor felt more or less bullish on the market. Their arguments in favor of higher prices were the same as usual, the only new suggestion advanced was in the matter of bond redemption. Parties whose remembrance of old gold days is still vivid say that if the treasury officials executed a depost of 10 or 20 per cent. by certified check on all offerings, there could not be any "monkying" for put-up-jobs, as was the case with the offer of $5,00,000, bonds on Friday last. The selling of $1, Paul was conceded on all sides to be long stock. Rumors appear to be from Washington concerning U.P. Many think that the long standing obligations will be settled this time. Brokers who are generally employed in the interest of Commack and other prominent bears and J. Davies, who has better facilities for finding out what is transpiring than a good many other brokers, say that in their judgment the market will sell considerably higher.
