Mrs. Kingsley fainted during the trial and had to be taken home. during the trial and had to be taken home. In his charge to the jury the judge said that it seemed very clear that Irwin and Maxwell had followed Mrs. Tope with fish horns. He did not think there was much evidence against the other three defendants, except that they were in the crowd. After being out a short time the jury returned with a verdict of guilty against Maxwell and Irwin, the others being acquitted. The Crown not desiring to have the defendants severely punished, merely wishing the sentence to act as a warning, the judge fined the two guilty ones $0 each.

I recommended the Vegetable Discovery with Indigestion, Billians asked that the jury notice be struck out. The cases are Nos. 16 and 17 on the June list.

The grounds on which Mr. Ritchie made his application were on account of certain newspaper articles which had been printed concerning these cases. He argued that under the circumstances it would be impossible to obtain a fair trial in York. He put in nine affidavits to that effect. The affidavits were made by James A. McElwaine, commercial reporter; A. J. Patterson, secretary of the Home Savings and Loan Compony; J. Wesley Coe, Fred. A. Penton, G. H. Douglas, C. H. C. Brooke, Richard Armstrong.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Gooca, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately havoged beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' hills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frams."
