

A New One

Here is the newest two-button sack with long, smart lapels. It is essentially a dressy young man's style. The coat is beautifully modelled and perfectly draped. The shoulders and sleeve head are cleverly tailored by experts, the skirt hugs the hips and the trousers are designed specially to suit the young man. Let us show you this style.

HAVE YOU A SKIN RASH?

Zam-Buk Will End It.

For skin rashes, eruptions, eczema, etc., either in adults or children, there is nothing known to science which equals Zam-Buk in the quickness and certainty of its curative power. Mr. Raymond Webber, of Allanburg, Ont., writes: "I have tried Zam-Buk for many ailments, and every time have found it successful, and every time had a bad rash all over my body. I tried home-made salves, herb salves, and various home-made preparations, and these proved of no use, but when I tried Zam-Buk I was cured in a quarter of the time that I had been experimenting in vain with other preparations."

On another occasion I had one of my fingers crushed, and in that case also Zam-Buk was the only remedy I used. It healed the wound splendidly.

"My boy had boils, and once again Zam-Buk brought about a complete cure. We have also used it as a household balm, for the injuries and skin diseases which are common to every person, and can say that in our experience there is nothing to equal Zam-Buk."

Zam-Buk owes its unique healing power to certain herbal extracts it contains. Unlike most ointments it contains no poisonous coloring matter, no animal fat, but is purely herbal. For eczema, piles, blood poison, abscesses, ulcers, cuts, burns, and all skin injuries and diseases it is without equal and should be in every home. 50c. box all druggists and stores. Use also Zam-Buk Soap, 25c. tablet.

GOOD AS A DOCTOR IN THE HOUSE

Baby's Own Tablets are as good as a doctor in the house. They never fail to relieve the little one from stomach and bowel troubles, to expel worms, make teething easy and promote healthful sleep. Concerning them Mrs. J. H. Turner, Glenora, Ont., says: "I always recommend Baby's Own Tablets to my friends. I have used them for a long time and find them without an equal. They relieved baby of the feverishness and restlessness while cutting teeth and have made her one of the most healthy babies there is. I always keep them in the house and consider them as good as a doctor." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

PIONEER DAYS

In School Section No. 10, Warwick.

In 1840 our grandparents and their children knew few of the comforts we now enjoy. Think of a trip across the ocean lasting 14 weeks, in a sailboat. The boat drifted on the rocks near where the Titanic met her fate, but Providence willed it that instead of going to the bottom of the ocean as the captain expected, all were safely landed with but little damage to the boat. Many of the old settlers left comfortable homes and loving friends in the old land to settle in a wilderness where there was not a clear space to build a house. Brave men cut down trees, built log houses and made small gardens. Sometimes these houses contained no bedrooms, and if they had bedrooms there were no windows in them—just one window in the living room. The springtime coming men walked to London for a bushel of potatoes, taking turns carrying them on their backs. Finding the task too heavy they sat down and cut the eyes out of the tubers for seed and left the residue in a heap and proceeded towards home. Women often walked to London and back. The trails were rough, many of them traced by nicks on trees (called blazes). Oxen were used instead of horses all those days and each family tried to keep a cow or two, a few sheep and some pigs, the latter becoming very wild through being turned out in the woods. They lived chiefly on bechnuts and roots and became very fat. Dogs were required to catch them. Occasionally one would be penned up so as to be ready for killing when required. One night a pig was heard squealing furiously. The folks went with a light to see what was wrong and found a bear walking off with the porker in its arms. A trap was set and the bear killed soon after. Deer were seen occasionally but they were not often captured. At sheep-clipping time the women helped the men, picked the wool, and with a Hack spinning wheel worked by a foot treadle, spun their own yarn. The yarn from a black sheep was mixed with that from the white ones in order to make grey flannel.

Plaid or striped flannel frocks for the ladies were considered just the thing for Sunday wear. For making men's clothes flannel was sent to the fuller's and made into full cloth, which was considered fit for church going. Some of the settlers had old-fashioned hand looms and did weaving for the settlement. Girls were well pleased to get 50c. a week for their services in those days. When the London Road was in course of construction the men assisted in grading and grubbing stumps. Alas! they have nearly all of them long since gone to their long homes. When the first school house was built it was of unheated logs. Long sticks called chinks, V-shaped, were placed between them and the crevices filled with mud to keep out the wind and cold. The floor was of slabs made with slabs boards three feet long laid across them in rows, then another row of poles laid on top to answer for nails, which were expensive. A chimney was made by crossing sticks one upon another and lining the inside with mud. Doors were made of rough boards and the hinges were wooden. A fireplace was made six inches below the floor. Its walls were of stone lined with mud. A back-log thrown on made it cozy indeed. Long benches without backs and with round sticks for legs were brought up close to the fire and about 40 or 50 children sat and tried to keep warm in cold weather. The floor was of slabs made with ax and wedges. No saws then. The boys had good times binging mud into the school-house to make marble which they burned to make them white. They had few books in those days and the children were not allowed to write until in the second book. Many other instances could be recorded would space allow.

In a few years another school was built in this section. Mr. John Mitchell taught here in 1864. A severe frost came on July 4th of that year cutting off nearly everything. Cattle were let go through the woods all through the winter and eat browse cut from the trees, and many horses and cattle died the following spring. Some of the boys had to leave school to cut browse.—Mrs. J. B.
