Canada's Smaller Wool Crop Affords Food For Thought

Col. Robt. McEwan's champion car lot of Canadia weathe lambs, "Southdowns," at Chicago international Show.

Farms in the British Isles support 24,000,000 shorn sheep, while the whole Dominion of Canada supports but 2,000,000, one twelfth as many. Yet during the fiscal year ended March, 1924, woollen and knitting mills imported into Canada some 19,375,925 pounds of raw wool.

In Canada, in-1922, according to the Census of Industry figures we had 277 wool in and knitting mills, which employed some 22,000 workers. Yet in 1922, countries abroad sent into Canada $38,000,000 worth of woollen and knitted goods, and in 1923, $41,000,000 worth, representing employment for some 17,000 to 20,000 workers. Although during the past year the wool and knitting industries have expanded to some extent and, particularly in the Eastern Townships of Quebec, have new mills opened up, it is seen that only about half of the woollen goods sold in this country could have been produced here. Raw wool, grown in Canada, comprises but a small fraction of that which is used by the mills that are operation of the control of the co wool grown in Canada, comprises but a small fraction of that which is used by the mills that are operating in the Dominion.

There is not enough wool grown to supply the demand of the word. Japan and China, the staple clothing and beding materials for which countries were formerly six and cotton, are rapidly becoming great wool assuming countries, imports to Japan and china the staple clothing pumped 700 per cent in ten years.

Thus it is seen that the Canadian wool grower the solution are for increasing foreign market for his clips, yet sheep are rarely given due consideration by Canadian farmers even though they have been dusbed "mortage" lifters" in the West.
