

hereafter means may be found of making up this deficiency.

3^d. A like difficulty occurs in relation to the Chapter, their number indeed might be reduced by letting the vacancies lye dormant, if some provision cannot be made for them as will hereafter be proposed.

4th. An expedient to assist the people in rebuilding their great Church, would much ingratiate their new Masters with them.

5th. The Jesuites are neither loved nor esteemed in general, and this order may be easily removed whenever the Government shall think proper without giving offence, out of part of their Estate provision might be made for the Bishoprick, and Chapter which would ease the Crown of further expences on that head.

6th. The Recollets is an order of Mendicants, as they depend upon charity for subsistence, they are careful not to give offence, probably should they find the Inhabitants upon the present change cool towards their Order, they will of themselves seek a better living somewhere else.

7th. The Seminary educates the youth, and fits them for Orders, it will be necessary to preserve and encourage this House on that account, and it is to be observed, this was the only Religious House or order, that heretofore did not participate of the French King's Bounty.

8th. As to the communities of women they are much esteemed and respected by the People, the narrowness of their circumstances will probably prevent their being filled up so easily as in former times; when the Canadians become a little more reconciled to British customs and
