The non-appearance of Scott's Standard Catalogue this fall will not likely injure the present smart condition of the stamp business.

We are informed that another sheet of half cent Canada Jubilees was purchased at face at a branch post office in this city last week.

The Colonial Stamp Co. have opened shop at 399 Spadina Ave. They are comfortably situated in the central part of the city and we hope they will neet with success.

Several prominent Toronto collectors are discussing the formation of a stock company to deal in stamps and publish a high class philatelic monthly. We would like to see matters take a more definate position than at present, but those who have the matter in hand consider that whatever is worth doing is worth doing well and if you can't do it well, don't do it at all.

The last regular meeting of the Philatelic Club of Toronto, was held in the Club Rooms, 29 Forum Building on Tuesday, Nov. 22nd inst., ten members present. The Executive Committee made several recommendations but none were considered. After the business of the evening the members spent a pleasant half hour enjoying the tree sures contained in Mr. E. Davenport's magnificent collection of foreign stamps numbering over 10,000 varieties.

Much interest has been aroused among numismatists by news just received from Rhodesia respecting the discovery of ancient Venetian coins in proximity to one of the Mashenaland rivers. The coins in question have, in the meantime, been sent down to Natal, and submitted to expert scrutiny at Pietermaritzburg, with the result that casts of the originals are to be sent on to London. The coins have been declared to be medals struck at Venice between 1570 and 1577 A.D. On the one side is the figure of St. Mark, with the inscription; 'This dukedom be thine, O Christ, and the giver be thine; while on the reverse are three figures, two in a kneeling position, the other upright, with a halo, on which the inscription is: 'The Doge Aloys Mc enigo, first magistrate of Venice.'—'St. James' Gazette.'
