

WISE WORDS.

"He is a wise man who always knows what to do next."

"Not only strike while the iron is hot, but make it hot by striking."—Cromwell.

"The human heart refuses to believe in a universe without a purpose."—Kant.

"Thought is the action of men and action is the thought of the people."—Mazzini.

"The philosophic mind is ever compelled to seek a reason for the realities of the world."

"A man's ideal, like his horizon, is constantly receding from him as he advances toward it."

"Now let me burn out for God." — Entry in Henry Martyn's diary on his arrival in India.

"The true greatness of nations consists in those qualities in which the greatness of individuals consists." — Charles Sumner.

"I don't believe that the way to make a man love heaven is to disgust him with earth. Let us love all that is bright and beautiful and good in this world."—Beecher.

"Be a bold, brave, true, honest man. If you know a thing is right, do it. If you have a solemn conviction, dare to utter it in the fear of God, regardless of the wrath of man."—Gough.

It is doubtless needful that popular theology, which, like everything else, tends to settle down into mere formulas, should thus be shaken up from time to time, and measured and adjusted by its eternal standards.—Gladstone.
