

Christmas Books

The Ruling Passion

By Henry Van Dyke

Color Illustrations by Walter Appleton Clark

Cloth, $1.50

Stories of the French-Canadian habitant—a real drama of men and women, standing forth with marvellous reality against a background of river and forest. This book, with its beautiful color-drawings, will make an ideal holiday gift.

Amos Judd

By John A. Mitchell

Color Illustrations by A. I. Keller

Cloth, $1.50

The great sales of pretty holiday books have encouraged the publishers to continue issuing artistic editions. This is not only a beautiful story, enhanced by mysticism and love, but several exquisite illustrations in color make a perfect work.

Lauriel, or The Love Letters of an American Girl

By a Well-known Writer

Drawings in Black and White

Cloth, $1.25

An American girl goes to Europe. There she meets a crown prince, who falls madly in love with her. On her return beautiful letters are written, which tell their own story. The name of the author is a profound secret.

A Kentucky Cardinal and Aftermath

By James Lane Allan

Illustrations by Hugh Thompson.
Cover of Cardinal polished cloth; design worked in gold. Each copy boxed.

Price, $2.00

This story, both typographically and in its binding, is a beautiful Christmas thing.—Toronto Saturday Night.

Wanted A Matchmaker

By Paul Leicester Ford

Illustrations by Howard Chandler Christy.
Decorations on every page, in green and black, by Margaret Armstrong.

Cloth only, $2.00

The most artistic volume that has come to me this season.—Geraldine, in Kingston Whig.