

SELECTED BOOKS FOR

The Best Books of the Year

The Treasure of Heaven

Marie Corelli

"This is by all odds the best of Miss Corelli's books." $1.25.

Sir Nigel

A. Conan Doyle

This story shows Sir Conan Doyle at his best. It is one long succession of exciting adventures, sea fights and sieges, single encounters and great combats, in which Nigel bears himself most worthily. Nor is the hero less successful in love than in war, for he wins the heart and hand of the fairest and sweetest maiden in England. Six illustrations by the Kenneys greatly enhance the attractions of the volume. $1.25.

Jane Cable

George Barr McCutcheon

Artist and printer and bookbinder have combined to produce in the new McCutcheon book a specimen of book-making that has, we believe, no equal in the year's output of fiction. The series of six illustrations in color by Mr. Harrison Fisher will be greatly admired. $1.25.

The Call of the Blood

Robert Hichens

The unusual feeling for nature and the strange emotional power which made "The Garden of Allah" unique are even more marked in this later story of southern ardor. $1.25.

Knights Who Fought the Dragon

Edwin Leslie

The scene of this story, which is from the pen of a Canadian writer, is laid in China at the time of the Boxer riots. Edwin Leslie, by cunning art, and without wearying the reader by tedious description, has given a faithful description of Chinese thought and manners. $1.00.

The Camerons of Bruce

Robert Lorne Richardson

With 5 original illustrations and cover design by Mr. Geo. McElroy. The story opens in Bruce County, Ontario, and is transferred to the North-West, where the hero encounters a remarkable series of adventures among Indians and lawless whites. There is abundance of brisk action, much beauty of description, true Western atmosphere, and a love story. $1.25.

Cupid and the Candidate

Mrs. Leeming Carr

The scene of the story is laid in Ontario, and concerns an election contest in a rural constituency. It is a bright, racy novelette, with skill in characterization and a marked grasp of the incongruities and inconsistencies that make human nature worth living with. $1.00.

The White Plumes of Navarre

S. R. Crockett

A Romance of the Wars of Religion. With 16 full-page illustrations by W. H. Margetson. Mr. Crockett in this story leaves his favorite moors and glens of Galloway for the sunny fields of France and Spain. From beginning to end the story throbs with life and love, and the fight for religious freedom gives it a thrilling interest. $1.25.

A Midsummer Day's Dream

H. B. Marriott Watson

A story with six heroines and one bewildered hero, lost in a tantalizing pursuit of one whose little shoe had bewitched him and sent him on such a chase as the Prince had for Cinderella. It is another "Cardinal's Snuff Box." $1.25.

The Pancake Preacher

"Mack Cloie"

The author of "The Old Orchard," a story that enjoyed a successful sale and won commendation from many quarters, presents in "The Pancake Preacher" another tale of village and country life in Ontario. The loves, the joys and sorrows, the tragedies, the adventures and excitements that make up the sum of life are portrayed with a sympathetic pen. $1.25.

Wacousta

Major John Richardson

A Tale of the Pontiac Conspiracy. As a classic of the pioneer days it is considered equal with, if not superior to, Cooper's novels of similar subjects, and it well deserves wide reading at the present time. The story is founded upon incidents connected with the attempt on Fort Detroit by the famous Indian chief, Pontiac, in the year 1763. The series of illustrations, specially made for this edition by Mr. Chas. W. Jefferys, and the handsome cover design in colors by the same artist, make it a choice gift-book for Christmas. $1.50.

Studies of Plant Life in Canada

Catharine Parr Traill

With 8 engravings in natural colors and 12 half-tone engravings from drawings by Agnes D. Chamberlin. Lovers of the wildflowers will be pleased to learn that a revised edition of Mrs. Traill's valuable work (long a prize book for collectors) has been issued. No expense has been spared to make this edition in typography, illustration and binding, worthy of the text. $2.00 net; by mail, $2.15.
