

the previous administration committed itself to, that, in itself, is an important achievement, it is an important thing for us to hear because there is a much more radical change in the United States when there is a new administration than there is with changes of governments in Canada. Therefore, that is a very important development.