

NEW YORK

The Fulton Fish Market is the most important fish market in the New York area. The Fulton Fish Market is a wholesale seafood market with 70 wholesalers. It is located on South Street in lower Manhattan. Open from 4 to 8 a.m., it sells mainly to day distributors who arrive at 4 a.m., buy their required products through selective shopping, load on to trucks, and usually start their deliveries by 6 or 7 a.m.

The market was originally a direct-delivery dock for local fish boats. Later there was a live holding complex that kept fish in nets in the river beside the market, but pollution has stopped any live holding of fish. Further, boat delivery has ceased because of present-day commercial water travel logistics and all products are now brought in by truck. The market has been in general decline in terms of volume, quality and general demand for some years now. Discussion is underway to build a new and more acceptable facility in a better location.
