

Foreword

This publication outlines programs and services offered to Canadian nationals interested in obtaining international work experience.

A number of exchange activities administered by community colleges and universities are not included in this booklet (i.e., international co-operative education programs). Exchanges of this nature are tailored specifically for students registered at institutions of higher education. For the applicant's convenience, we have included a list of colleges and universities in Canada and suggest that they be contacted directly for information on their international exchange activities.

Non-work-oriented Homestay programs such as those of Rotary International, Interculture Canada, etc., and cultural and linguistic programs, including the European Au pair movement, are not listed in this publication; however, we would be pleased to provide information on these exchanges upon request.
