

Nations it continually fosters, in a realistic manner, the creative values which nations and peoples seek to fulfil domestically.

This is a field of international activity in which Canadians can make an invaluable contribution to the future of mankind if we are imaginative and diligent. I hope some of you will apply your talents to this endeavour.

S/C