

Nova Scotia as second. The entire number referred to by Mr. McLachlan in his work is over 600, and his remarks thereon are uniformly instructive and will prove interesting even to the casual reader. The book is well got up and is ornamented by well executed wood cuts.

Mr. R. W. McLachlan, of Montreal, has published a descriptive catalogue of the coins, tokens and medals issued in or relating to the Dominion of Canada, and Newfoundland. The catalogue is a reprint from the American Journal of Numismatics, in which the series of articles, now republished, as a whole first appeared. The work will be interesting to coin collectors, containing as it does short historical notes on many of the coins described. It is well printed on fine paper.

CANADIAN NUMISMATICS.—A descriptive catalogue of coins, tokens and medals, issued in or relating to the Dominion of Canada and Newfoundland, with notes, giving incidents in the history of many of these coins and medals. By Robert Wallace McLachlan. [Arms of the Dominion.] Montreal; privately printed for the author. Royal 8°, pp. 127.

In this volume, largely reprinted from the pages of the Journal, Mr. McLachlan has added another volume of value to the slowly increasing list of works by American numismatists. It has been a labor of love to the author, whose diligent study of the coins in his own cabinet,—one of the most extensive, if not indeed the very largest of those devoted to this special department,—has enabled him to make an interesting book, as well as one which shows on every page how large an amount of careful research and industrious application he has bestowed upon it.
