

- Washington, George, sends Sir Henry's letter to Congress, iii. 119.
 force under, iii. 122.
 monitoring, iii. 122.
 war, iii. 122.
 militia evacuated, iii. 123.
 the enemy, iii. 123.
 Delaware at Coryell's Ferry, iii. 123.
 proposed to a general action, iii. 123.
 to attack the army, iii. 125.
 to satisfy Lee, iii. 126.
 upon an attack, iii. 127.
 to watch the enemy, iii. 127.
 to attack, iii. 127.
 toward the attack, iii. 128.
 American troops, iii. 128.
 Colonel Shreve and Major Howard, iii. 128. ng, iii. 128.
 eting with Lee, iii. 129.
 e retreat, iii. 129.
 for battle, iii. 130.
 Monmouth Court House, iii. 130.
 the enemy, iii. 132.
 Brunswick, iii. 132.
 "armus, iii. 134.
 adence with General Lee, iii. 134.
 under arrest, iii. 135.
 n relation to Lee, iii. 136.
 abuse, iii. 138.
 nity in regard to Lee, iii. 140.
 French fleet, iii. 141.
 adence with Count D'Estaing, iii. 142.
 operations, iii. 142.
 at White Plains, iii. 142.
 Sullivan to prepare for a descent on Rhode Island, iii. 143.
 Augustine on the failure of the plan against Rhode Island, iii. 151.
 as to its effects, iii. 151.
 ing on his failure, iii. 152.
 enemy's movements, iii. 155.
 ens the Highlands, iii. 156.
 camp to Fredericksburg, iii. 156.
 Fishkill, iii. 156.
 ion of troops, iii. 162.
 ters near Middlebrook, iii. 162. alarm signals, iii. 162.
 Lafayette's Canada scheme, iii. 164.
 eiphia, iii. 164.
 terioration of Congress, iii. 165.
 el Harrison on the decline of spirit, iii. 165.
 at the neglect of Congress, iii. 165.
 the next campaign, iii. 166.
 n on the Indians, iii. 166.
 it of Jersey troops, iii. 167.
 mediator, iii. 167.
 o the officers, iii. 168.
 the officers, iii. 168.
 er' Maxwell on the determination of officers, iii. 169.
 nds an expedition against the nds, iii. 171.
 s for the protection of West iii. 172.
- Washington, George, removes to New Windsor, iii. 173. detaches General Heath to act against the British in Connecticut, iii. 175.
 plans the recapture of Stony Point and Fort Lafayette, iii. 175.
 proposes the storming of Stony Point to Wayne, iii. 175. plan of surprise, iii. 175.
 evacuates Stony Point, iii. 179.
 at West Point, iii. 179.
 expedition against Penobscot, iii. 180.
 on the surprise of Paulus Hook, iii. 182.
 on the capture of Stony Point and Paulus Hook, iii. 183.
 furthers the defences of the Hudson, iii. 183.
 to Edmund Randolph for information of affairs, iii. 183.
 to Dr. Cochran describing style of living, iii. 184.
 reception of the Chevalier de la Luzerne, iii. 185.
 to Lafayette, iii. 186.
 change of plans, iii. 187.
 sends troops to the South, iii. 187.
 to President Reed for aid, iii. 189.
 on the destitution of the troops, iii. 189.
 calls upon the counties for supplies, iii. 190.
 to Colonel Ogden, to regard the rights of the people, iii. 190.
 bay of New York frozen over, iii. 191.
 projects a descent on Staten Island, iii. 191.
 Arnold's government of Philadelphia, iii. 194.
 good opinion of Arnold, iii. 195.
 instructions to Arnold, iii. 195.
 sympathy with Arnold, iii. 199.
 reprimand to Arnold, iii. 201.
 solicitude for the safety of the Southern States, iii. 203.
 on the safety of Charleston, iii. 206.
 to Congress, on his situation, iii. 207.
 re enforces Lincoln, iii. 208.
 steadfastness of mind, iii. 208.
 to Baron Steuben on his difficulties, iii. 208.
 to Congress, on military reforms, iii. 209.
 committee appointed to consult with, iii. 210.
 to Lafayette on his return, iii. 211.
 reception of Lafayette, iii. 211.
 to Lafayette, on the reduction of New York, iii. 211. reduction of the army, iii. 213.
 mutiny in camp, iii. 214.
 to President Reed, for relief, iii. 214. endeavors to rouse Congress, iii. 215.
 surrender of Charleston, iii. 225.
 supplies West Point, iii. 225.
 in position at Short Hills, iii. 227.
 watches Knyphausen, iii. 228.
 sets off towards Pompton, iii. 229.
 enemy move against Springfield, iii. 229.
 applies to the State Legislature for aid, iii. 233.
 congratulates the army on the arrival of French troops, iii. 236.
- Washington, George, his line of conduct, iii. 237.
 crosses the Hudson, iii. 238.
 interview with Arnold, iii. 238.
 withdraws his forces, iii. 238.
 interposes in the difficulty between Greene and Congress, iii. 239.
 on the derangement of the commissariat, iii. 240.
 the reverse at Camden, iii. 250.
 on militia and regular troops, iii. 250.
 to Gates on the battle of Camden, iii. 252.
 prepares to proceed to Hartford, iii. 252.
 crosses to Verplanck's Point, iii. 258.
 interview with French officers, iii. 267.
 returns to headquarters, iii. 267.
 reception by the people, iii. 268.
 detained at Fishkill, iii. 268.
 ride to the Robinson House, iii. 268.
 arrives at the Robinson House, iii. 269.
 at West Point, iii. 270.
 hears of Arnold's treason, iii. 270.
 sends in pursuit of Arnold, iii. 270.
 letters from Arnold and Colonel Robinson, iii. 271.
 to Colonel Wade, urging vigilance, iii. 272.
 to General Greene, to proceed to King's Ferry, iii. 272.
 to Colonel Jameson, to prevent André's escape, iii. 273. interview with Mrs. Arnold, iii. 273.
 André brought to the Robinson House, iii. 274. to Greene on the custody of André and Smith, iii. 274. refers the case of André to a board of general officers, iii. 278.
 to Sir Henry Clinton, concerning André, iii. 279.
 André's appeal, iii. 283.
 eulogium on the captors of André, iii. 286.
 on Arnold's address, iii. 287. opinion of Arnold, iii. 288.
 to Governor Reed on Arnold's conduct, iii. 288.
 strengthens West Point, iii. 290. takes post at Prakeness, iii. 290.
 plan to capture Arnold, iii. 291.
 failure of Champe's design, iii. 293.
 appoints Greene to command the Southern army, iii. 293. confidence in Greene, iii. 294.
 state of the army, iii. 294. to General Sullivan on the state of the country and army, iii. 294.
 to Lafayette on his desire for action, iii. 297.
 preparations to attack the British posts, iii. 297.
 his horsemanship, iii. 298.
 personal appearance, iii. 300.
 his character, iii. 300.
 at New Windsor, iii. 301.
 to Franklin on his disappointment, iii. 317.
 necessities state of the country, iii. 318.
 instructions to Colonel Laurens, iii. 319.
 revolt of the Pennsylvania line, iii. 320.
 to Wayne on the revolt, iii. 321.
 disaffection in the army, iii. 325.