

in detail, especially as to the site of the battle of the 13th of September, 1759.

(5) Another unpublished French manuscript of interest is entitled "Mémoire sur la campagne de 1759 par M. de Joannès, Major de Québec." The original of this document is in the Archives de la Guerre, at Paris.

(6) Memoirs of the Siege of Quebec, from the Journal of a French Officer on Board the Chezine Frigate, compared with accounts transmitted home, with occasional remarks, By Richard Gardiner, Captain of Marines, Published in London in 1761.

We have been able to trace only two copies of this journal, one in the Library of Congress, at Washington, and the other in the Library of Harvard University. The present text is printed from a transcript made under the direction of Mr. W. C. Lane, Librarian of Harvard University.

Mr. Gardiner, in his elaborate preface, states that "There is something particularly pleasing in hearing the account given by the enemy of the continual and constant apprehensions of the garrison within the walls during the progress of the Siege." It is certainly an interesting journal, but it is made more valuable to the student by the copious notes which have been added by Mr. Gardiner, which afford positive evidence of the exact location of the battle.

(7) A Journal of the Siege of Quebec, to which is annexed a Correct Plan of the Environs of Quebec, and of the Battle fought on the 13th of September, 1759, Drawn from the original Surveys of the Engineers of the Army, with a second plate overlying the first, showing the altered posi-
