

the Committee of Management, excepting in the case of the first next ensuing election after the passing of these By-laws, for which at least two days' notice will suffice.

IV. The committee elected shall meet within one week after their election, for the election of the officers, and such officers shall be elected by ballot.

V. No Member shall be eligible for election to the committee for more than two years in succession.

PRESIDENT.

VI The President shall preside at all meetings of the Institute and of the Committee, maintain order, and state the business before the meeting: he shall announce the result of all ballots and votes, give the casting vote when necessary, call for accounts and Committee Reports, sign all drafts on the Treasurer, call extra meetings when requested by ten members or the Committee of Management, or when deemed necessary by himself, and generally superintend the execution of the By laws and Regulations of the Association, and see that the other officers perform their duty, and shall sign all reports of the Committee of Management, and call special meetings of committee when he shall deem it necessary. He shall not be eligible for more than one term in succession.

VICE-PRESIDENT.

The Vice-President shall assist the President, and the duties of that officer, as already specified, shall, in his absence, devolve on the Vice-President, and, in the absence of both, a Chairman shall be appointed by a vote of the meeting.

TREASURER.

The Treasurer shall, before his installation, give a bond to the President with two sureties, to be approved of by the Committee, for the faithful keeping of the funds.

He shall receive all sums of money due or payable to the Association, and pay all orders drawn on him by the Committee of Management, signed by the President, or in his absence by the Vice-President, or in the absence of both by the Chairman, and attested by the Secretary, and no others; he shall keep a correct account of all sums received and expended by him; he shall report monthly to the Committee of Management the state of the funds,