HE REFUSED $500 A WEEK

Harold Jarvis Had a Big Offer to Go Into Comic Opera With the Alice Nielsen Co.

And the Well-Known Tenor and Instructor Decided That Life on the Road Was Not to His Liking.

DETROIT, Jan. 5.—Harold Jarvis has been offered $500 a week to go into comic opera with the Alice Nielsen company, of which Mr. F. L. Perley is manager.

Not so many years ago The World had an article or two in which the question of constitutional reform in Canada was discussed at length.

Such a revision of the constitution ought to be conducted, above all things, outside of party lines.

We believe that some such commission and some such study of the constitutions of other federal countries would result in a progressive measure of constitutional reform, which we are quite certain the Imperial Parliament would grant.

GLOBE'S STRICTLY SPEAKING

It is not a reform of the Senate that is proposed, but a provision for maintaining the danger of conflict between Senate and Commons.
