A matter of $50 is standing in the way of a settlement between the board of health and the N. B. Telephone Company regarding a line to the isolation hospital, at Howe's Lake. A special meeting of the board was held yesterday afternoon when Senator Daniel and T. M. Burns, secretary, submitted a report.

At yesterday's meeting of the St. John City Assessment and Taxation Commission, Commissioner Potts gave several suggestions for the "single tax." He considers that the large undeveloped areas within the city limits ought to bear a large proportion of the taxation.

TOWN PLANNING

An Important Letter From W. F. Burditt, Secretary of Commission

To the Editor of The Times:

Sir,—As there seems to be a certain degree of misapprehension with regard to the action which the city is taking and is about to take in the matter of town planning, may I ask space for a few words of explanation?

The New Brunswick Town Planning Act passed in April, 1912, provides that any city or town council may apply to the lieutenant-governor-in-council for authority to prepare a town planning scheme for any land which is in course of development, or is likely to be used for building purposes, with the general object of securing suitable provision for traffic, proper sanitary conditions, amenity and convenience in connection with the laying out of streets and kindred matters. And that the government may authorize a local authority—such as the city council—to prepare and put into effect a town planning scheme with reference to any land within, or in the neighborhood of, the area over which it has municipal control.

The regulations which govern the mode of procedure in putting the act into operation provide that a local authority (city or town council), before making application to the government for authority to exercise the powers conferred by the act, must submit the area for which it proposes to prepare a town planning scheme, give public notice one month in advance of its intention, and provide for public inspection, a map showing in outline the boundaries of the proposed area.

The object of this requiring the publication of notice, is that any parties interested who wish to make any objections or representations with reference to the lands proposed to be included within the area, may have an opportunity of being heard.

The St. John city council has now taken only this first step. Assisted by the counsel of Mr. Thos. Adams, town planning adviser to the Commission of Conservation, when he was here in March last, a certain area which it was thought advisable to include in a town planning scheme was determined upon and defined in outline. During the intervening five months the city engineer has prepared a map, showing the details of the area, on a scale of eight inches to the mile, as required by the regulations. This map is now open for inspection at the office of the commission, Mr. H. E. Wardrop, City Hall.

From the above it will be understood that the preparation of a scheme itself has not yet been undertaken; no plans for the future development of the area have been made even in the barest outline. The present step relates only to the determination of the area for which it is proposed to prepare a scheme—its extent and what shall be included within it.

If anyone should question the necessity for including within the scheme so wide an area, the boundaries of which are in some places as much as five miles from the city centre, it may be said in reply that town planning looks to the future as well as the present—perhaps even more to the future than to the present—and endeavors to take into consideration the expansion which may possibly take place in
