

Rammed, She Founders With Crew

The tug Ocean King, owned by the Saint John Dry Dock and Shipbuilding Company, Limited, which was sunk with nine hands off Quebec Harbor yesterday by the Canadian Pacific steamer Marloch. She was the largest of four tugs owned by the Saint John company and was engaged in towing work in the summer port at Quebec.

THREE LOCAL MEN DROWNED WHEN OCEAN KING RAMMED

tug, leaves a wife and three children. They reside at 178 Victoria street, where Mr. Belmont lived during the winter port season. He was born in Bristol, Eng., but has lived here for many years. He was well known along the local waterfront. The children are: two sons, Otty and Calid, and one daughter, Florence.

R. AVERY MINNIS.

R. Avery Minnis of 48 Duke street, West Saint John, who was drowned on the Ocean King, at the port of Quebec, in the collision with the Marloch last evening, had had ill luck from the time he started out on the tug from here to go to Quebec, more than two months ago. When they neared Halifax, N. S., Mr. Minnis had the misfortune to lose two fingers and had to go to the hospital in Halifax, until he was well enough to come home. He left just two weeks ago to join the tug at Quebec.

He leaves his wife, who is a sister of Mrs. W. H. Kelly of West Saint John, wife of a well known grocer there, and three children, Miss Keetha, Wallace and Miss Geneva. He was born in Kings county, Nova Scotia, but had resided in West Saint John for more than 25 years and was a popular man. Mr. Kelly said this morning that they had no intimation that anything was wrong until The Telegraph-Journal arrived this morning. Mrs. Minnis was overcome by the distressing news.

CAPTAIN STEVENS

Word of the disaster in Quebec was received in the city last night as a stunning blow. Captain Frank D. Stevens was one of the best liked and most able of the tugboat captains who have guided steamers to anchor in the Saint John harbor. He was a recognized authority upon port matters and shipping matters and was of so kindly and likable disposition that everyone who came in contact with him, either working for him or meeting him as an acquaintance or as one of his employees, held him in warm regard and high esteem. He had known tugboating from his childhood, having first taken up his nautical training at the age of 12 years.

HIS LONG SERVICE.

He had been on the crew or in command of practically every tugboat that had been in the harbor in the last 30 years. For many years he was a commander of tugboats for the C. P. R., taking charge in Saint John in the winter season and in Montreal in the summer. An authority on shipping said of him last night that without doubt Captain Stevens could handle any of the largest tugboats that ever was afloat in Canadian waters.

WIFE AND DAUGHTER THERE.

Captain Stevens' wife and daughter were with him in Quebec. His surviving relatives are, besides his wife and daughter, two sons, two brothers and one sister. The eldest son, Frank L. Stevens, is chief officer of the Laurentian, which last night was in the Bay of Fundy, and he was expected home early this morning. Just a short while ago Frank L. Stevens had to be called home by wireless when his little daughter had died very suddenly only a few hours after he had sailed.

Captain Frank D. Stevens' second son, Oliver, is a bank clerk now in the United States. The two brothers are Charles F. Stevens and Garfield H. Stevens, of this city, and sisters are Mrs. Burpee P. Belyea, of West Saint John and Miss Tillie Stevens, also of Saint John.

WAS POWERFUL TUG.

The tug Ocean King was one of four owned and operated by the Saint John Dry Dock and Shipbuilding Co., Ltd., of this city. She was about 100 feet in length and was one of the most powerful tugs working in Saint John in the winter port business. She was here last winter, but was taken to Quebec for the summer port towing trade there. The boat was originally known as the Gopher.

Of the rest of the fleet, two, the Ocean Eagle and the Ocean Hawk, are in Saint John, and the other, the Ocean Spray, is in Nova Scotia.

The Canadian Pacific steamer Marloch is well known here, being on the Saint John-Glasgow route in winter. She was formerly the Victorian and was a sister ship to the Virginian, which was sunk by a torpedo during the war.

Y., and the late John S. Currie, formerly of this city, to Miss Daisy Marguerite Brough, younger daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Brough of Brooklyn. The announcement is made by the brother of the bride-elect, P. W. Brough, of Wellesley Hills, Mass. No date has been set for the wedding. Mrs. Currie is visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Paul B. Cross, and Mr. Cross in the city.

New Brunswick Election Date Likely Fixed Wednesday

"The date of the New Brunswick elections will probably be fixed at a meeting of the government to be held in Fredericton next Wednesday," said Premier Vautour in an interview with The Times-Star this morning. Premier Vautour was in Saint John en route to St. Andrews, where he was due to speak at the government convention for Charlotte county this afternoon.

The Premier also stated that he would be in consultation today with the engineers of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission and with Hon. Dr. E. A. Smith, chairman, to find out what progress had been made in preparing the call for tenders for Grand Falls development.

Deaths

Rev. Dr. Cathels

Friends in Saint John yesterday heard with keen regret of the death of Rev. David Cathels, former moderator of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland. Dr. Cathels' son, Paul Cathels, was at one time very active in work for boys in connection with St. John's (Stone) church in Saint John. Dr. Cathels was in Saint John on two occasions, once when he was en route to China on a special mission of the Scottish church to conduct an investigation of Presbyterian missions in China and on another occasion when he made a short stay here and preached in St. David's and Knox churches.

3 DENOMINATIONS TALK CO-OPERATION

Consolidation of Christian Churches is the Eventual Object in View.

CARDIFF, Wales, June 27.—The episcopalian archbishop of Wales and representatives of the congregational and Methodist churches who were guest speakers at today's session of the Presbyterian Alliance Council advanced the plea that all christian churches co-operate with one another which, they said, it might be hoped would eventually lead to consolidation of all Christian churches.

The archbishop read a paper saying his church had adopted the policy that this consolidation was a necessity in this age. His church had even gone so far as to express willingness to meet with other denominations to discuss the point.

Other speakers voiced the same views and the Presbyterians agreed that something should be done in the next few years to see if the churches were ready to meet on common ground.
