NOT KNOWN TO BE FACT.
A rumor has been busy about the city that men were required for work of reconstruction in France and Belgium, but so far as local military authorities know there is no foundation for the report. It seemed to spread, however, and apparently quite a few believed in it for some thirty men have applied to be sent. While there is undoubtedly a vast amount of work necessary in re-establishing the devastated areas of Belgium and Northern France, so far as is known no call has yet been sounded for help from other parts and indeed it is believed that sufficient labor will be forthcoming from the other side to deal with the work.

IN COUNTY COURT.

Daniel Mullin, K. C., is appearing for the prisoner. The court had to do with the case to allow additional jury men to be summoned and the case was to be resumed this afternoon.

MATTERS AT CITY HALL

The matter of granting permission to the N. B. Power Company to place a track connection at the corner of Union and Sydney streets and to operate cars around the block between King square and Union streets came again before the commissioners this morning. Commissioner Fisher had moved that the company be granted the permission under the usual conditions, but with the added condition that the payment of two bills for paving done in 1918 and which the railway company had refused to pay be demanded.

Commissioner Thornton objected to this clause on the ground that the granting of the present request was a public benefit and he recommended that Commissioner Fisher should try to arrange the matter with H. M. Hopper, general manager of the street railway. This was agreed to.

The matter of an increase to the men engaged on the city works was laid over until Monday's meeting. Commissioner Thornton reported progress on the work of the new electrical bye-law, which was now in the hands of the city solicitor. Commissioner Fisher said that he was opposed to the general conditions of the new bye-law, as he thought that the terms laid down would make the installation of electricity too expensive.

There was some discussion on the clause relating to the powers of others except the power company's officials, in inspecting the main switches. The meeting finally decided to ask a representative of the power company and also representatives from amongst the consumers to attend Monday's meeting to discuss this question.

NO GRANT YET FOR VOCATIONAL TRAINING

Commissioner Bullock's Motion Not Seconded

Messrs. Jones and Thornton Speak in Opposition—Decided to Ask School Board to Appoint a Vocational Training Board

The question of a grant of $5,000 from the city for vocational training came before the city council in committee this morning. Although a motion was made by Commissioner Bullock that a grant be made, there was no seconder and the meeting adjourned after passing a resolution that the school board be petitioned to appoint a vocational training board, in accordance with the terms of the vocational training act. There was some adverse criticism to the introduction of the system.

Mayor Hayes presided and all the commissioners were present. The mayor said that this province was perhaps behind the others in the launching of the vocational training system and he thought something should be done so that the work could be commenced concurrently with the opening of the fall school term, or soon afterwards.

Commissioner Jones said he was not sure that this scheme was what was required at present and thought the manual training and night schools should be incorporated in the school system. He did not see any particular need at present and the money spent on vocational training could be put to better use in the city.

Commissioner Fisher said that the night schools were carrying out a different line of work than that planned under the vocational training scheme. "Vocational training should be taken up by the city," he said, "he was not fully in accord with the construction of the vocational training act."

"If the city is in control of grants for this education," he said, "I am in support of the enterprise."

Commissioner Bullock said the public schools were too much crowded to admit of the introduction of vocational training along with the present subjects. He said the act provided for education in industrial, commercial and home economics after a child had reached the age of 12 to 14 years. He favored voting $250 towards getting the process started and then await the requirements of the board for 1920.

Commissioner Thornton said he opposed a grant for this purpose. He said there was not sufficient money to carry out street repairs, etc., and he was therefore not in favor of it.

Commissioner Bullock moved that a grant of $2500 be made. This was not seconded.

Commissioner Jones said he took the stand he did in consequence of conversation with a citizen connected with the school board.

Commissioners Bullock and Fisher both reported that they had received favorable impressions from members of the school board.

After further discussion Commissioner Fisher finally moved that the school board be petitioned to appoint a vocational training board in accordance with the Vocational Training Act. Commissioner Bullock seconded and the motion carried. The meeting then adjourned.
