FINN ANXIOUS TO FIND LODGING IN CENTRAL STATION

Proved He Could "Come Back" By Making Seven Attempts To Get a "Room"

It is seldom that such persistency is shown in an effort to be lodged in jail as was manifested this morning in the police court by John Johnson, a native of Finland, who, after having been given his liberty on a charge of lying and lurking, came back over seven times, and though he met with an icy reception, and was forcibly ejected time after time, he showed a striking degree of persistency in his desire to be a boarder at central station.

Johnson, who made his bed in the bell tower in King street east on Saturday night, can say but little more in English than, "I dunno," but to a person acquainted with his language he said he wanted to go back to jail as he had no other resting place. With about five minutes' intermission between each visit, he would return repeatedly this morning to the police court, and stand with a sheepish grin on his face, until Acting Sergeant McCollum took a hand and the presence of the two bluecoats seemed to make an impression on the stolid Finn for he remained outside about twice as long after being put out on this occasion.

But he proved, beyond a doubt, that he could "come back." He did not seem to mind the reception awaiting him. About noon Police Constable Gosselin took him a distance from the court house, but within half an hour he was again in front of the police court, and at last account, was sitting on the doorstep, seemingly forgetful of everything, except his fixed intention of finding shelter in a cell in central station.

ROAMED STREETS GLAD ONLY IN A NIGHTSHIRT

Young Man Who Escaped From Provincial Hospital Early This Morning, Had Walked All The Way Into The City

Becoming weary of his monotonous existence as an inmate of the Provincial Hospital, Lancaster, Gus Porter, a young man of about 27 years, belonging to this city, resolved this morning to make a dash for it, and get a glimpse of the outer world, even though he had to jump from a two-story window to effect his escape. This was a little after midnight, but in a remarkably short space of time, he was in the city, having walked from the hospital grounds, clad only in a nightshirt, and was found by Sgt. Caples and Policeman Lucas in a yard of Carleton street, and taken to central station.

He was quite painfully injured about the hands, and in a severe cut in one of his legs, and his clothes had to be placed in a bag. It is thought that these wounds were received in his jump from the window. No bones were broken, and Dr. Berryman, who examined him said this morning that he did not think his condition serious, except that he might suffer from exposure. The air this morning was damp and chilly, and an undershirt is but little protection for even a very strong man at such a time.

Porter was called for by a couple of keepers from the hospital and taken back to his room.

THE BOY PROBLEM

W. H. Moor, Boys' Secretary of Y. M. C. A. Delivers Thoughtful Address Before Every Day Club

W. H. Moor, boys' secretary of the Y. M. C. A., delivered a thoughtful address on Boys, at the Every Day Club last evening. He pointed out that the term "boy problem" was largely a misnomer, as the parents were chiefly responsible. The modern city has changed conditions for the boys. The lack of playgrounds and the life in closely packed tenements deprives him of rights he should possess. Mr. Moor said that he had never yet encountered a boy who did not possess a heart that could be reached by somebody. Without justifying the conduct of boys who go wrong, he pointed out how great are the temptations and how urgent is the need that parents should know how and where and in what company their boys spend their leisure time. He appealed especially to fathers to be the companion of their boys and themselves teach them lessons in purity and warn them against the terrible results of impurity. Mr. Moor spoke very frankly on the whole subject of boy life, and pressed home to parents the responsibility resting on them to give the restless activity of their boys a right direction. He was heard with deep interest by the large audience.

GEORGE K. BELL WEDS MISS ANNIE D. EDWARDS

An interesting nuptial event took place this morning at 7 o'clock at the home of the groom's father, W. H. Bell, King street east, when his son, George K. Bell, was united in marriage by Rev. F. H. Wentworth, to Miss Annie D. Edwards. The young couple were unattended, and the ceremony was performed in the presence of only the close friends and relatives of the principals. A wedding breakfast followed, and the bride and groom soon after left on a honeymoon trip to Boston and vicinity. On their return they will live in St. James street.

Among a splendid assortment of presents received was a handsome piano from the groom's father, and a beautiful cut glass pitcher from the choir of St. John's church, of which Miss Edwards was a popular member.
