FIRE-ALARM RUSE FAILS IN BURGLARY

Three Men, Trained to Hotel Shots Fly—Robbers Get Girl's Gems.

New York, Jan. 12.—Hundreds of persons in Columbus Circle were startled when a score of shots were fired as detectives ran down three men alleged to have been attempting to rob a safe in the bar-room of the Hotel Pontchartrain, in West Fifty-eighth street.

The neighborhood already had been excited by fire engines and other apparatus responding to a false alarm believed to have been turned in by one of the burglars. Their idea, it was suggested, was that they might work with greater security amid an uproar in which the noise in the bar-room would escape unnoticed.

The burglars, however, were being watched by six detectives. They had been followed for two days. A large section of the Safe and Loft Squad were watching them when they forced their way into the Hotel Pontchartrain through a side door. As sirens and gongs sounded outside and attendants in the hotel ran out to see what was the matter, the three intruders entered the bar-room near the lobby and walked behind the bar to the safe.

Before they could start work on the safe, the three men became aware that the detectives were following them and dashed for the street. They were followed by Detectives Lewis Barrett, Thomas O'Brien, Thomas Ryan, William Kelly, Elwood Dwyer and John Morrissey. Twenty shots were fired in the air and all three of the fugitives were soon overhauled. The prisoners described themselves as Reggie Gardner, twenty, of 64 East Broadway; Thomas Mullins, thirty, of 24 Madison street; and Charles Harriman, twenty-two, of 38 Amsterdam avenue.

Another prisoner is James Toomey, thirty-one, or 849 East Fifty-fifth street, who was arrested while following closely the policeman on the beat. The man who turned in the false alarm of fire was not doing. Dynamite and a flashlight found on a stone ledge in front of a house near the hotel is believed to have belonged to the gang.

Miss Fowler followed a young woman into the hallway of a photographer's shop at 1,917 Third avenue, set upon her, beat and choked her and robbed her of a diamond ring. She was Miss Vita Cala, seventeen, of Corona, L. I. Hands over her mouth prevented her from screaming as the ring was torn from her finger. They fled in a taxicab.

A bag containing $6,000 was stolen on Saturday morning from the cashier of the restaurant of Miller & Waxman, 35 West Twenty-first street, it was reported to the police. The cashier and a messenger were struck down with blackjacks in Twenty-first street just west of Fifth avenue. The robbers escaped in taxicabs.

Armed with revolvers, two robbers entered the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Store at 2,828 Seventh avenue, and, finding the cash register empty, took $38 from John Malady, a clerk, and escaped.

"Movie burglars," so called because they operate at night while the victims are at theatres, are stirring Washington Heights. Friday night the burglars visited 618 West 194th street and by going up the fire-escape and forcing a window gained an entrance to the apartment of H. Nozaki, on the top floor, where they got $800 worth of clothes and jewelry. In the apartment of Samuel Berkner, on the floor below, they got $1,200 worth of furs and jewels. Henry Newman, on the same floor, lost $1,200 worth of furs and jewels. The same night the burglars ransacked the apartments of Frank Strick and Charles Muthing at 610 West 164th street. In each apartment they got goods and jewels of the value of $1,200. At 619 West 163rd street, in the apartments of Charles Isaac and Morris Goldfarb, they got plunder valued at $800 and $1,000.

AUTOS, NOT GUNS, "SAFE" WAY TO KILL, SAYS JUDGE

Points to 58 Deaths in Two Months And Only Four Drivers Held, as New Menace.

(New York Tribune)

Magistrate Frederick B. House, in commenting on homicide Court yesterday upon statistics from the time the court opened, October 31, until December 31, said "the safest way to kill anyone in this community is to discard a gun or a knife and run over that person with an automobile."

The judge's statistics showed automobiles, classed as pleasure cars, killed fifty-eight persons in the two-month period. In the arraignment of persons driving these machines, fifty-four were discharged and four held. There were thirteen arraignments of owners of commercial cars, with three held and ten discharged. Nine taxi drivers were arraigned and one held, and three mail truck drivers were arraigned. None was held.

"This court," said Magistrate House, "is confronted with almost insurmountable difficulties in getting witnesses to auto killings. The hands of the District Attorney and the courts are tied. I propose to call a conference of persons who may be witnesses. The condition at present is intolerable. Witnesses to auto killings are rare, and where they are found their testimony is conflicting in the extreme."

The staff of the Canadian General Electric Company and their friends enjoyed a sleigh drive last evening under the chaperonage of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Robinson. The party drove to Torryburn and returned to the Manor House where the evening was spent in music and dancing. A short programme was carried out. Those taking part were: E. H. Thurston, W. C. Brown, Miss Margaret Creary, Miss Ruth Brown, Miss Eleanor Mullin, Keltie Jones, Miss F. Roberts and Miss Markey.

WIFE SUES HER MISSING HUSBAND OVER GEMS

Lawyer's Third Spouse Attaches His Property After She Redeems Jewelry.

New York, Jan. 12.—Mrs. Myrtle Goodrich Bauche, third wife of George Young Bauche, lawyer and grandson of George Young, licentiate manufacturer, from whom he inherited $250,000, is suing her husband in the Supreme Court for $4,896. This sum represents money she alleges she paid pawnbrokers to redeem jewels which she says she entrusted to her husband for safekeeping between 1916 and 1921. She says he pawned them.

Mrs. Bauche got an attachment against her husband's property on the ground that he disappeared last year and she did not believe he intended to return. Before he went he had the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company substituted as trustee under his grandfather's will of a fund of $250,000 which his daughter, Joyce, now seventeen years old, a child of his first marriage, will inherit when she is twenty-one years old. She also obtained an order from Justice Tierney permitting her to serve the papers upon her husband by mailing them to an address from where he wrote last summer to the trust company.

The petition of Mrs. Bauche stated that she was told by Nathaniel Evans, former business associate of her husband, that he is now in China and does not intend to return. She said she asked Arnold Rothstein about her husband, and Rothstein said he did not believe he was in China, because he thought he would have heard from him on account of a claim by Bauche that Rothstein owes him money.

Mrs. Bauche adopted her stepdaughter in 1916. She had herself appointed guardian for the daughter in the Surrogate's Court last spring on her statement that Bauche told one of the officers of the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company that he had squandered property left him by his grandfather and that he owed $50,000 to hotels, restaurants, shops and other creditors when he left New York. At the time he left he was technically in contempt of court for failing to appear for examination in supplementary proceedings on a judgment obtained by his second wife, Mrs. Florence Fyles Bauche, under an agreement to support her when she got her divorce in Retho in 1913.

A party of about eighty of the Y. M. C. I. seniors and the senior members of St. Vincent's gymnasium classes returned to the Y. M. C. I. afterwards enjoyed a toboggan race at Lily Lake last night. It was an ideal night and the outing was good fun. The party returned to the Y. M. C. I. afterwards and refreshments were served. The outing and entertainment were a splendid success and everyone voted the evening the best yet.

CURB ON DIVORCEES BY ATLANTA CLERGY

37 Ministers Decide Not to Remarry Any Except Innocent Parties in Infidelity Suits.

Atlanta, Jan. 12.—Stirred by the increase in divorces which has become a local scandal, the Evangelical Ministers' Association voted that its members should not wed divorced persons unless the divorce was granted on the biblical ground—infidelity.

The resolution, signed by every one of the thirty-seven clergymen present, read:

"We, the Evangelical Ministers' Association of Atlanta, viewing with dismay the growing evil of divorce which is so grievously destroying the sanctity and integrity and lowering the ideals of married life, desire to put ourselves on record that we will not perform any marriage ceremony in which either party to the contract has a former husband or wife living, except in the case of the innocent party divorced for the reason given in the New Testament. We make this statement in order that no one in the future may be put to the embarrassment of being refused."

So great has become the divorce evil in Atlanta, which has become known as the Reno of the South, that one Judge intimated the other day that as a remedy it might come to pass that judges will decree that divorce cases will take their places
