MONUMENT TO WAR CHARGERS

Splendid Memorial Erected in South Africa.

Cost Defrayed by Public Subscription—Horses Who Died in War Honored.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—Horses killed in battle now have a monument in their honor. It has recently been erected at Port Elizabeth, South Africa. When Lord Byron put up an elaborate monument for his dog "Boan," everyone regarded it as a mad caprice, but now a general public subscription has been raised by English people for the purpose of perpetuating the memory of the services of the gallant animals which perished in the Anglo-Boer war 1899-1902. Pictures of this monument are being sold in great numbers, mostly among army officers, though the animal-loving public is also buying them largely.

The first horse monument ever raised by public subscription consists of an oblong pile of granite, on the top of which are two figures—a life-size bronze horse, and a kneeling soldier offering the animal its food. The figures are beautifully executed. The granite base of the statue serves a utilitarian purpose by forming a fire drinking fountain both for man and beast, a huge granite block being hollowed out into a trough, into which water flows from three spouts in the form of lion's heads.

On the base of the monument is the significant inscription: "The greatness of a nation consists, not so much in the number of its people or the extent and justice of its composition. It is perhaps the world's greatest need of animals than to those of children or men. For instance in London there is a splendid animal hospital, where dogs are provided with 'endowed' beds, the donors having given $500 for the endowment of each cot. The humane tendency of the British people is shown in the fact that a large organization which controls large funds, and with the Anti-Vivisection society, has been established to care for the animals of these 'dumb animals' anything but dumb.

The services of horses in the South Africa campaign have been quite as essential as those of men. Many of the battle were cavalry engagements, and many of the men were mounted on these animals. The raising of monuments to animals is a unique departure of modern civilization, though to the Egyptians have often put up monuments to dogs, cats and even crocodiles. AGITATION OVER ENDEAVOR TO MAKE IRISH COMPULSORY

The Irish Catholic Bishops are Unanimous in Their Condemnation.

DUBLIN, Ireland, Jan. 25.—The Irish Catholic bishops, with Cardinal Logue presiding, have unanimously condemned the agitation to make Irish compulsory in the new university. They notice with deep pain the attack made by the Gaelic Leaguers on the Senate of the university; and add that while they are hoping for a day when Irish will again be spoken throughout the country, they believe compulsion would now be a hindrance and not a help. "The bishops' pronouncement comes as a surprise, since the principal attack upon the Senate was made by a Mayoist professor.

"A UNIVERSAL MOVEMENT." Great country meetings are being held throughout Ireland in favor of the demand that a knowledge of Irish be made compulsory on entrance to the new national university of Ireland. Dublin, Cork, Leth, Mayo and Limerick already have had such meetings. Writing to the promoters of the movement, Dr. Douglas Hyde, president of the Gaelic League, repudiates the charge that the agitation is engineered by the League. He says that there are hundreds of thousands of supporters of the demand who have never joined the League itself.

"Never," he says, "have I known a more spontaneous, universal and less 'machined' expression of public opinion in Ireland on any subject."

STATISTICS IN MEDICINE

OLD REMEDIES RETAIN THEIR POPULARITY.

Investigations of French Physicians Show that Large Production of Synthetic Medicines is Not Crowding Out the Old Favorites.

A late despatch from Paris says: Prof. Grimbart presented a notable paper before the Academy of Medicine on the therapeutic tendencies in the last ten years. Basing his figures on medicines furnished to 219 large hospitals and hospitals by the State Pharmacy, he finds that the old-fashioned medicines retain their popularity.

An expert authority on being interviewed states that the tendencies of the medical profession in Canada are along exactly the same lines. He gives the following old-fashioned vegetable mixtures the safest and best treatment for all stomach and liver troubles, constipation, disorder of the kidneys and bladder, and states that many of the leading physicians use these ingredients in some form, often by some fancy and expensive name—Syrup of Scammony..... 5 oz. Carriana Compound..... 5 oz. Syrup of Marshmallows..... 5 oz. Taking one teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

This acts in the best and safest way, and is free from the bad effects of strong purgatives and synthetics.

We advise all our readers to cut this valuable formula out and use it. Any druggist can supply these ingredients at a small expense. You can mix them at home if you prefer.

WANT PACIFIC NAVY EQUAL TO ANY OTHER NATIONS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 25.—Nathan C. Coghlan, of San Francisco, introduced a joint resolution today in the assembly, calling on the California delegation in congress to urge the establishment in Pacific waters of a fleet whose war strength shall be as great as that of any other nation on the Pacific. Coghlan's resolution is similar to one introduced by Senator Anthony, except that it does not mention the Japanese as one of the peoples against whom protection is sought.

The dry weather hindered fall ploughing, and from the same cause the winter wheat crop will be less. Where sown, this crop has to be a large extent perished badly, and it presented but a poor appearance at the commencement of winter. As a general rule farmers are well supplied with winter feed; though, except in favored localities, there will be little if any surplus. Many correspondents refer to the value of fodder corn, which proved an excellent crop. Mangos have also turned out well, but turnips have been universally poor.

MANITOBA. Fine weather facilitated the completion of a large area of fall ploughing. With plenty of well-saved prairie hay, of straw and of grain, there would appear to be no shortage of winter feed. Low prices have caused a considerable reduction in the number of beef cattle.

SASKATCHEWAN. The fine open fall has been very favorable for live stock and has enabled farmers to economize their winter supplies. These appear to be ample in most cases.

ALBERTA. Except in the southern parts of the Province, in the dry regions which have suffered severely from drought, there is abundance of winter feed, hay being especially plentiful and of good quality. Stockholders are therefore commencing the winter under favorable conditions. In some parts the lack of transport facilities is apparent.

BRITISH COLUMBIA. Agricultural conditions are too variable to admit of much generalization. The winter did not set in early, and crops today. Both men have shown conclusively that they are innocent and the police now are without a clue to the identity of the assassin.

DAYTON, Ohio, Jan. 25.—Sam Morris and Charles Snyder, held as suspects in the case of criminal assault and murder of Mary Forchuer, fifteen years old Saturday night, were released from custody today. Both men have shown conclusively that they are innocent and the police now are without a clue to the identity of the assassin.

VALPARAISO, Jan. 25.—The Italian steamer Santiago, belonging to the new line Lloyd-Pacific, has gone ashore on the rocks near Caldera, a Chilean seaport, and is in total wreck. There was no loss of life. The Santiago was of 3,000 tons. She sailed from Genoa November 28, bound for Valparaiso, via River Plate.

CANADA'S CROPS AREA AND VALUE

Some Figures Given in Booklet Prepared by Government

News of Each Province—Feature in Reports Was Prevalence of Drouth From Midsummer to Winter.

"An area of 27,506,633 acres of field crops has yielded a harvest which, computed at the average local market prices has a value of $432,534,000. The principal grain crops of the country are wheat, oats and barley, which aggregate an area of 15,377,109 acres and in value $209,070,000; and the principal fodder crop is hay and clover which cover an area of $40,000 acres has a value of $12,183,000. Rye, peas, buckwheat, mixed grains and flax grown in 1,637,000 acres have a value of $25,044,000; the hood or cultivated crops of beans, potatoes, turnips and other roots, corn and sugar beets, and alfalfa, cover an area of 3,473,523 acres, have a value of $13,336,000."

The above interesting information is conveyed in the Department's "Notes on the Crops and Statistics Monthly," issued by the Dominion government.

The total value of the wheat harvest in the Northwest Provinces is $23,424,000 and in the rest of the Dominion $18,849,000.

The reports of the Provinces are detailed and summarized. A feature in the report is the prevalence of drought, continuing from midsummer to the setting in of winter and extending from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic Ocean. The summaries are:

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND. Wheat has again suffered from the joint worm. Grain crops are variable in yield and the straw is light. In some cases wheat and oats have rusted. Corn is grown mostly for home consumption. Root crops have turned out well, especially potatoes. The prospects for the winter feeding of live stock are excellent, all correspondents remarking upon the abundance of winter feed.

NOVA SCOTIA. In most districts grain is grown only for home consumption. Field crops appear to have produced up to the average. An abundance of winter feed is reported. Root crops have turned out well, especially potatoes. The prospects for the winter feeding of live stock are excellent, all correspondents remarking upon the abundance of winter feed.

NEW BRUNSWICK. With the exception of the northern portion where severe scarcity is indicated, the supply of hay is everywhere abundant. Grain crops have given a very satisfactory result. The quantity of winter feed is reported to be ample or as indicating a surplus at the end of the season. In some districts it is necessary to purchase winter feed for dairy cows, and there are a few cases where the supply is short owing to the effects of drought.

QUEBEC. The prolonged drought of the past season has affected more or less adversely the prospects for the wintering of farm stock. In general there will be sufficient, with no surplus. But in many parts an equilibrium between requirements and supplies has only been effected by the forced sale of live stock in the fall, often at a considerable sacrifice. A dearth of water is experienced in some localities, thus adding to the difficulties of wintering stock. Silage or fodder corn, for which the season has been particularly favorable, and roots also, where grown successfully, are proving welcome as supplementing the usual supplies.

ONTARIO. The dry weather hindered fall ploughing, and from the same cause the winter wheat crop will be less. Where sown, this crop has to be a large extent perished badly, and it presented but a poor appearance at the commencement of winter. As a general rule farmers are well supplied with winter feed; though, except in favored localities, there will be little if any surplus. Many correspondents refer to the value of fodder corn, which proved an excellent crop. Mangos have also turned out well, but turnips have been universally poor.

AMUSEMENTS.

POPULAR COMEDIAN

WARMLY GREETED.

With a house crowded to the doors, Jere McArthur opened his latest engagement at the Opera House last night, presenting A Daughter of the People. It was the same old Jere with a new line of specialties and a play that afforded numerous opportunities for working them in. All through the action of the piece there was continued applause, and when Jere bowed in for the last time and rescued the heroine from the machinations of the villain, the applause was deafening.

Jere has an evenly balanced company, who were seen with success in the drama, A Daughter of the People. Burke Eldridge, the leading lady, gave a decidedly pleasing natural and sympathetic impersonation of the heroine, Mrs. Howard, the old favorite is as clever as ever, though his character was not of the heroic nature in which the theatre-goers have been accustomed to see him. Carter Cash, W. A. Leveau, Miss Gay and the other members of the cast all did well.

The Gay sisters captivated the gathering with their songs and dances. Eddie Gonyer, who was here last year, has a clever partner in Dollie Gay, and they give an excellent dance turn; Miss Leveau gives a beautiful suspense dance, with magnificent effects, and the three Castelvici are a splendid musical act, making a big hit.

Jere and his company will be seen in How Baxter Batted In tomorrow night with the same specialties. An Outcast of Society will be the play at tomorrow's matinee.

Amateur night is arranged for Thursday night.

NICKEL'S HARPISST ANOTHER TREAT.

The rich, quiet harmonies of the real Italian harp were most delightfully demonstrated at the Nickel last evening by Miss Alice Darle of New York, who played solos, recited to a harp accompaniment and sang to her own accompaniment. Her hearers sat spellbound with the unique programme. Each song brought forth an insistent demand for more. Moore's "Believe Me, If All Those Endearing Young Charms" was her first number and (b) was a pathetic little "Poor Little Joe," spoken and strummed, while (c) was that charming sentimental song, "What's What The Rose Said To Me." Miss Darle proved a most unusual treat, and her stay at the Nickel will undoubtedly be a continuation of it. She performs at 4 p. m., 7.30, 8.30 and 9.30. Miss Edith Fort, who was here last year, gave a very satisfactory performance of a high class, and judging from the applause given by the large and enthusiastic audience, present, the performance was heartily enjoyed.

Today Wm. F. Adams will render a new and beautiful song entitled "Rolling Home With Jenny," by Walter Jacobs.

THE BRIDE OF LAMMERMOOR A GREAT SUCCESS AT UNIQUE.

The Scottish drama, The Bride of Lammermoor, made a distinct hit at the Unique last evening, and delighted the usual capacity audience. "The Bride of Lammermoor" is a pathetic tale of poverty in the family of an artist, and a one thousand foot comedy. "The New Star-ographer," came in for a large share of popular approval. Mr. Dick comes out this week in a rip roaring success. His singing of Maudie Lane with the aid of a guitar accompaniment, such as only Mr. Dick is capable of, brought the audience to their feet with enthusiasm at its every rendition. Watch for this versatile artist in a new role next week.

"STAR" THEATRE VERY POPULAR.

The new picture house in Union Hall, North End, is certainly getting a generous share of the patronage accorded this form of entertainment. Last evening the large auditorium was packed all evening and in the afternoon there was a good-sized crowd of ladies and children. A strong feature is the magnificent line of travel pictures, the educational value of which nobody denies.

Tonight A Trip To Campagna, in France will be put on as well as comedy and dramatic films. Popular Jeanette Von Brander in catchy songs.

GETS SEVEN YEARS FOR A SERIOUS OFFENSE.

BRAMPTON, Ont., Jan. 25.—Geo. Brett, who was arrested some weeks ago charged with committing criminal assault on a widow named McDougall, at Walton, was today sentenced to seven years in penitentiary.
