New York, Jan. 17.—William H. Baker, former vice-president of the Postal Telegraph Cable Company and former secretary of the Western Union Telegraph Company, committed suicide today by shooting himself in the head in a room in the Hotel Ansonia.

Mr. Baker had been suffering from a nervous breakdown as the sequence of an operation. He left his home in Bayside, Long Island, yesterday, telling his wife that he had several important business engagements in New York. When he failed to return this morning the police and a private detective agency were asked to search for him. Discovery that he had committed suicide was made soon after.

Mr. Baker retired as-secretary of the Western Union Company November 30 1916, after 47 years of active business life, nearly all of which were spent in telephone and telegraph service. He began as a messenger in 1870.
