POLICE COURT CASES SATURDAY

Petty Larceny Cases Heard—Report Against the James Pender Co. Preferred by Factory Inspector Was Settled.

Two petty larceny cases were before the police court Saturday. John Dickson was charged with stealing a stick of timber, valued at $252, from the yards of George McKean & Company, and William Pyne was charged with stealing two pairs of gloves, valued at $3.60 from the store of Morris Lambert, Main street. Both men pleaded guilty and were remanded.

Two drunks were given the usual penalty.

Contrary to the usual custom, a Saturday afternoon session of the court was held when the case against the James Pender Co. was up for a second hearing. It was shown that this factory has two engines in one building and one engine in another, but only one engineer to look after the plant. The defendants agreed to get another engineer and with the consent of John Kenney, provincial factory inspector, the matter was held over for a week.

evening gown has a sash made of silver leaves and grapes, a garland trailing down one side of the skirt and looping up the lace drapey.

From A Child Was Constipated

According to the best medical authorities, fully three-fourths of the people of the civilized world suffer in some form from constiveness or irregular action of the bowels. There is no doubt that many distressing diseases are caused by constipation. It gives rise to sick and bilious headaches, jaundice, heartburn, floating specks before the eyes, catarrh of the stomach, biliousness and the painful, troublesome piles. Therefore, it is of supreme importance to health that the bowels be kept regular. Simple food, fruit, etc., should be used, and rich food and stimulants of all kinds avoided. This, with the use of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills to regulate and establish healthy action of the bowels can not fail to give permanent relief in the most obstinate cases.

Mrs. Letitia Wainman, Ogilla, Ont., writes:—"From a child I was always very badly constipated, and I can well remember when quite young, my mother giving me a small quantity of milk, and I got to dread it. After taking Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for a while I am not troubled with constipation any more."

FACTS OF THE WORLD'S GREATEST TRAGEDY STATISTICALLY STATED

Sixty million men went to war, and of that number 7,200,000 were killed and a number equal to the population of New York City.

There were almost three times as many men wounded as killed. Twenty-one million men were wounded. Not that many different men, however—some have been hit several times.

Out of the 21,000,000 wounded, 17, 800,000 recovered so as to be able to return to the front.

At St. Mihiel 1,000,000 rounds of artillery were used in four hours—the greatest amount of ammunition used in one day's battle during the war.

The war in money cost all nations the astounding sum of $185,000,000, 000.

It took about 7600 bullets to kill a man. Eight billion, four hundred and four million is the estimated number of bullets fired during the war.

Twelve million, nine hundred and forty-six thousand gross tons of shipping were destroyed by mines and submarines.

The enemy employed 371 submarines. One hundred and ninety of these were destroyed.

Two hundred and forty thousand airplanes were used by all nations.
Seventy-five thousand of these were destroyed.

One million miles of barbed wire, enough to go 40 times around the world, were used by the nations engaged in the struggle.

Sixteen million horses belonging to all nations were engaged. Of these one-half, or 8,000,000, were killed.

The Blue Cross organization cared for the wounded horses as the Red Cross cared for their masters.

Two hundred and twenty thousand carrier pigeons were used by all nations. Some of these won honors because of their wonderful service. Not a few now bear decorations.

The part that cats played in the war has been neglected. Life in the trenches would have been even more unbearable but for the activities of thousands of cats in exterminating rodents.

Canary birds saved thousands of lives. These delicate songsters were very sensitive to the approach of gas.
When the bird dropped and died the doughboys knew that a gas attack was in preparation.

One-eighth of the entire cost of the war was borne by the United States.

One million fewer children were born in France than there would have been had there been no war.
The figures are comparatively the same for the other nations engaged.

The war was really won in 115 days, four years, less 10 days, according to the maps, the central powers were victorious. Then came the decisive 115 days.

The number of A. E. F. dead was exactly 49,088; the total number of wounded, 205,690; 4489 were taken prisoners.

England took three years to get 2-600,000 men to France. The United States sent the same number across the Atlantic in just one-half the time.

Two hundred thousand disabled soldiers are on the lists of the War Risk Insurance Bureau.

The casualty rate in the A. E. F. was higher for officers than for men.

The percentage of casualties was highest in the infantry.

The total United States fighting force losses was 122,500. Of these the navy lost 10,000.

Fifty-nine thousand, nine hundred and ninety-three men of the U. S. fighting forces died of disease.

The death rate from disease was lower than the rate for any other war in which the United States has been engaged.

The United States had an armed force of 4,800,000 men when the armistice was signed. Four millions of these were in the army.

The total cost of the war to this country was $21,850,000,000.

One million three hundred and nine thousand of the total of 2,086,000 men sent to France, actually participated in the fighting.

The greatest battle in which American forces took part was the Meuse-Argonne. It lasted 47 days and 1,200, 000 American troops were engaged.

Seven million five hundred thousand and tons of supplies were sent to France during the time the American troops were in action.

The largest number of men sent overseas by all the wars of the world in one month was 306,000.

The three nations that spent the most in the war, in order, are: Germany, Great Britain and France. Germany spent $14,500,000,000; Great Britain, $12,000,000,000; and France, $10,000,000,000.

More deaths occurred in the past for the last 100 years.

During the battles of Chateau Thier, St. Mihiel and the Marne, German airplanes were used by the Germans down 755 German planes, losing only 357 themselves.

More men died from pneumonia during the war than were killed in battle.
The war was the most serious disease of the war. Next to pneumonia came influenza.

The Y. M. C. A. spent $98,000,000 in war work; $30,000,000 of this went into training camps, $43,000,000 went overseas, and $14,500,000 went to the service of the allies. More than 97, 000 concerts, vaudeville performances and other entertainments were staged by the "Y" in American cantonnments.
The audiences witnessing these entertainments are computed at 43,000, 000.

The "Y" maintained more than 1900 clubs and tents for the use of the A. E. F. It furnished 400,000,000 sheets of letter paper, 200,000,000 envelopes and 16,000,000 postcards.
This cost $2,296,808.

The "Y" used 13,000,000 feet of film in free motion picture shows in France.

It is computed that 600,000,000 people were engaged in war work.

LET "DANDERINE" SAVE YOUR HAIR

Hurry! A few cents stops hair falling and doubles its beauty.

A little "Danderine" cools, cleanses and makes the favorite itchy scalp soft and pliable; then this stimulating oil penetrates to the follicles, making every hair in the head, thus stopping the hair falling out, getting thin, scrag-gly or falling.

After a few applications of "Danderine" you seldom find a fallen hair a particle of dandruff, besides every hair shows more life, vigor, brightness, color and thickness.

A few cents buys a bottle of delightful "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter.

He Went 21 Miles
To Get A Bottle

Shad Bay Man Would Go 100 Miles, He Says, Rather Than Be Without Tanlac.

"Knowing what I do about Tanlac since trying it out, I would go a hundred miles for a bottle rather than be without it," declared John Redmond, of Shad Bay, Halifax county, when he called at Kinley's drug store in Halifax for more of the medicine.
Recently, Mr. Redmond was born and reared at Shad Bay and has been engaged in the fishing business there for many years.

"For six weeks before I started taking Tanlac," he continued, "I had not been able to do a lick of work and felt so bad most of the time that all I could do was lie around the house.
But now I am working every day, I have gained twelve pounds on three bottles of Tanlac, and am feeling just fine all the time."

"Two years ago I weighed one hundred and seventy pounds and was about as healthy a man as any generally sees. Then my appetite went back on me and I commenced suffering from indigestion and going down hill.
I would go to the table feeling like I would eat and just the sight of food would make me sick. I would have to leave without eating a bite. I have gone for days at a time, scarcely eating enough to keep soul and body together. I would go to bed and feel place of good. I would blot all up in my stomach and have cramping pains in my double, and it would take to eat any supper I would suffer so much from it that I couldn't sleep. Many a night I would sleep thirty minutes. I was also badly constipated and all the time taking something for this, as well as for my stomach, but I kept going down hill until I got so weak I could hardly walk and finally I simply had to stop work and do nothing but try to find relief.

"But I had tried so many medicines with no results that I had about concluded that nothing was going to help me. I was getting weaker every day. At papers about Tanlac I made a special trip to Halifax, which is twenty-one miles from my home, for my first bottle. Well, I never have regretted it and if Shad Bay was a hundred miles from Halifax I would go all that distance to get a bottle after the way it has helped me. That first bottle put me on my feet, in shape to work, and I have not missed a day since that time. My appetite is so big that meal stomach never gives me the least bit of trouble, although I am eating just anything and everything I want. I sleep good and sound every night, and all that tired, no-account feeling has left me. Well, to put it all in a few words, I don't believe I have ever felt much better than I do now, and Tanlac gets all the credit. It's wonderful medicine, no doubt about it, and I'll tell anybody they can't shake a mistake by trying it."

Tanlac is sold in St. John by Rose Drug Co. and F. W. Munro under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—Advt.

WEDDINGS

Mills-Murray.

Probusque, Nov. 13.—W wedding of much interest to friends in Kings county took place last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Murray, when their eldest daughter, Gertrude Mae, was united in marriage to Clarence Almon Mills, of Sussex. The bride, who was dressed in her travelling suit of blue broadcloth with hat to match entered the parlor on the arm of her father to the strains of Mendelssohn wedding march rendered by Miss Grace Steadman.
Little Mary McLeod acted as flower girl. Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served. Many handsome gifts testified to the popularity of the young couple. The groom's present to the bride being a set of fur straps of the finest quality. The bride left the parlor in a motor car, accompanied by the bride's maid, and the Maritime Express for a short honeymoon trip and on their return they will reside in Sussex.

Some Canadian Political Topics

Reaction of Peace Treaty on National Consciousness — Divergent Views of Farmers in East and West—Promoting Temperance.

The Farmer's Chances.
(Montreal Gazette.)

The experiment of forming a government with all new men may not now be so hazardous as it once would have been deemed. The war time experience in Great Britain showed that great reputations might be made in politics by men who failed in mentally when confronted with work that called for continuous toil, initiative, business sense and ability to meet out fear or hesitation. The whole Asquith Government, famous for its clever vote catchers and talking ability, was practically thrown out by the people, and the army and navy that won the war were strengthened and equipped and maintained by political unknowns who could work on right lines and obtain results. The forming of the Union Government in Canada was also a lesson to the effect that party labels neither ensured ability nor gave strength to the bearers. It also did nothing to increase the number of those who care nothing for party names and view the situation from a fact through clear glasses. The members of the Ontario Legislature are neither Conservatives nor Liberals shows how rapid and extensive has been the drift away from old political traditions. The change in general public opinion that made possible such a state of affairs will help to ensure for the new government, when it gets itself established, an opportunity to prove its good faith and capacity.

Our National Dignity.
(Ottawa Journal.)

Judged from the standpoint of ether political or legislative achievement, the recent session of Parliament was of considerable moment. In the sphere of Imperial and international affairs alone it is certain to rank as of epoch-making importance. For, beyond all reasonable question, the summitting of a Canadian Parliament to approve a world settlement of the greatest war of all time was an event of vast significance in the history of ward "he go" of nationhood. By such an act Canada told the world that she was conscious of her place in the family of nations and was willing to stand on her own feet and defend her own rights. And what is scarcely less vital importance, she showed to her own people a new and, we are afraid, a much needed consciousness of national dignity and strength.

Different Points of View
(Edmonton Journal.)

Mr. Drury, the former Premier of Ontario, is quoted as saying that the farmers in power must not be of considerable moment. In the
such an act Canada told the world
that she was conscious of her place
what is scarcely less vital impor-
needed consciousness of national dignity and strength.

Temperance Legislation.
(Ottawa Journal.)

The legislation passed in the final hours of the session greatly strengthens the hands of temperance reformers. In fact its provisions there is nothing except the will of the people to keep a province from going "bone dry." All that is necessary is that a Provincial Legislature pass a resolution requesting the Dominion government to take a plebiscite in its territory on the question as to whether the people desire importation and manufacture of liquor prohibited, and, if the vote then given is in the affirmative, the Dominion government is bound to enact a total prohibition law in that province.
Such a law, however, would have no effect. There are extremists who say that this does not go far enough.
They say that the Dominion government should have passed a total prohibition law in all provinces.
It would have had no regard for the wishes of the people to be considered upon a question of law which, unless it be upheld by a substantial majority would be exceedingly difficult to enforce.

Provincial Parties.
(Edmonton Journal.)

There is no reason why, in provincial politics, we should have the same party divisions as in the politics of the Dominion. It would be a very great reform if a complete divorce between the two could be brought about. The connection that has hitherto existed between the two has been a source of weakness. It ought to be possible for a man to have very distinct views on the country's fiscal policy and to support the party at Ottawa which stood for those views, without feeling at the same time that he is compelled to support in provincial matters, those who bear that particular party's label but of whose ideas as carried out in the legislature he does not approve.

"Professional Politics."
(Ottawa Journal.)

A political writer in the Farmers' Sun, Toronto, deprecates the presence in Canadian public life of so many "professional politicians" or men who make politics their only occupation.
He mentions conspicuous examples of such in the Cabinet, Mr. Caldwell, Mr. Reid, and Mr. Meighen, the last named having "devoted little time to his 11" "practice since 1917." He considers this practice of politics distasteful for the country and says: "Men who have no source of income but politics will stick at nothing to attain office or hold on to it, and as a result

But are not the duties of a Cabinet
