While the poultry keeper should exercise the greatest care over his flock in the matter of housing and feeding during the breeding season the same should apply to birds intended for breeders from the time they are hatched until they are a year old. At this age they should be fully matured and capable of producing eggs suitable for hatching purposes if cared for properly.

The pens should not be mated until 10 days or two weeks before the eggs are required for hatching. It is strongly recommended by some breeders that two male birds be kept for each pen, and placed in the pens on alternate days, a suitable coop being constructed in the pen in which to keep the bird not in use. It is further contended by many breeders that a greater percentage of fertile eggs can be secured when a comparatively few females are mated with a male.

The eggs should be gathered as often as necessary, to insure them from being chilled in the early season and later against undesirable odors and heat. It has been found that 70 degrees will start the germ to incubate. This more or less seriously affects the eggs for hatching.

The better way is to gather the eggs while still warm and place them in a dry and well-ventilated room, where the temperature stands at about 60 degrees. The operator will find that he will have a more uniform hatch if the eggs saved are not more than five days old, preferably fresher. In this connection it is well to remember that after an egg is completed it remains in the hen's body 12 to 18 hours before being laid, and during this period incubation is in progress. Incubation is, therefore, retarded from the time the egg is laid until it again comes under incubation heat, the germ gradually becoming weaker.

In securing eggs for incubation, care should be taken to select only those of the color characteristic of the breed to which they belong. Double-yolked, misshaped and generally deformed eggs should be discarded. Thin-shelled eggs, or those with a mottled appearance, should also be discarded.

Machinery Farmers Use

"The character of the machinery which farmers have built for the education of the children in comparison with the machinery which the people of the towns have built for the education of town children, is as a hand sickle to a header-binder."—John Fields.

Generosity

Four or five ladies bustled into a private office the other day.

What can I do for you, ladies?" asked the manager pleasantly.

"Why, began one of the visitors, "we are taking up a subscription, and we knew you wouldn't like it if we didn't give you an opportunity to subscribe."

The manager bowed graciously and asked: "And the object? Of course it is a worthy one, or you would not be interested in it."

"Yes, sir," replied the spokeswoman, "we think it a very worthy object. It is to build a home for aged and indigent widows."

"Excellent! Excellent! I shall take pleasure in making you out a check."

"Oh, how lovely of you!" exclaimed the spokeswoman when she received the bit of paper and read the amount—one hundred pounds. "Oh, we didn't expect to get that much from you. We are ever so much obliged."

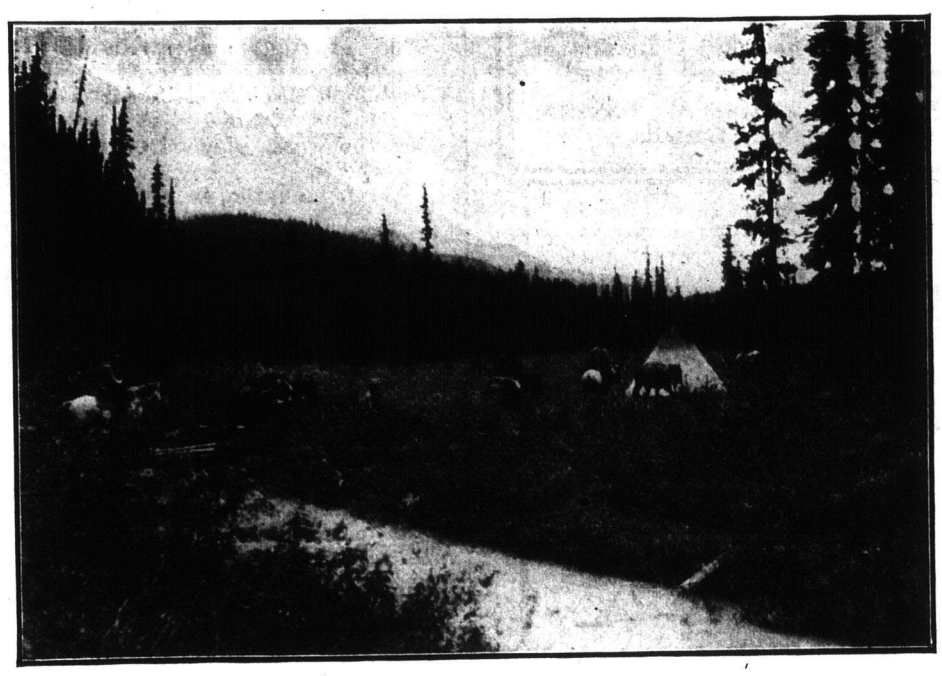
"So good of him!" and similar exclamations were heard as the check was passed around for the admiration of the party.

"But," said the lady who handled the check last, "you haven't igned it."

"That is because I do not wish my benefactions known to the world," said the manager modestly. "I wish to give the check anonymously." And he bowed the ladies out with great dignity.—Weekly Telegraph.

Victoria Day

Is there a man who will not pay
His homage to Victoria's Day,
Revering the greatest Queen?
The one who through a splendid reign
Lived without a slur or stain,
Ruling the highways of the main,
Britain's greatest Queen!
Never thought she of aught but good,
Her eyes were fixed on the golden rood,
Flowers of love bloomed where she stood,
Victoria, the Empress-Queen.



Going Into Camp, G. T. P., Canadian Rockies

Flies there a flag that one can say
Is finer than this of Victoria's Day,
Splendor of Britain's Queen?
The one that marks the jewels rare
Of Canada and lands that pair
To form an empire without compare—
Of Britain's greatest Queen!
O'er this land of the freeborn soul
Who takes from the earth its willing toll
Everywhere on this day will roll
The name of the Empress-Queen.

Through the thousand miles of springing lands
That our fair Snow Lady scans,
Voices will praise the Queen.
In farm and school and city hall
Will rise the people's loyal call,
At the gates of God it will droop and fall—
The homage to the Queen.
Babes will learn to lisp the name,
Weave it into a fay game,
Till later they learn the splendid fame
Of Victoria, the Empress-Queen.

So send the flag up the swaying mast,
Let it swell in the sounding blast
Of wind, and make it taut and fast
On our Victoria Day.
So that those strangers within our gates
May know the flag that defies the fates
Of tyranny and its mates
The flag of the Queen's high ay

$3.50 Recipe FREE For Weak Men.

Send Name and Address Today—You Can Have it Free and Be Strong and Vigorous.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervou debility, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, failing memory and lame back, brought on by excesses unnatural drains, or the follies of youth, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and virility, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men, and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination for the cure of deficient manhood and vigor failure ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow men to send them a copy in confidence, so that any man anywhere who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop drugging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest acting restorative, up-building, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 4215 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain, ordinary envelope free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $3.00 to $5.00 for merely writing out a prescription like this but I send it entirely free.
