

Y^E. PEINTOVRS MARTE

Alle Sygne of y^e CAMELL and NEEDLE

So much the more the Carvers exchequer an adorned Does not the stone refuse in
For being more stone than it? WINTER 1640

"Her brow her eye

"The dimple on her cheek and such sweet skill
Hath from the cunning workmans penell flowne.
Those lips look freshe and lovely as her mine
Seemur to move and sneake"

DEKKERS Horell Woman.

YE WILL

discovery: y^e sygne above yovre Hed is a sygne metaphoricall wherof y^e poynte is y^e ye hve of y^e wares of thys shoppe. Statuas of Marbel and Woode Peintynge in tincts of w^h aler and of Oyle theyr pryses at thys tyme somewhat abated y^t everie gentleman shal hve what hym lysteth. Y^e workman wyth y^e LEES awayteth to cacche y^e Sonne and Heyre Hys Visage.

DAME J. S. McLENNAN

and Maystresse ABBOTT, Holpen by

Dame R. L. MacDonnell and Maystresses Harriet Abbott Hope
Bertha Angvs
MacDonnell.

