

Could Not Sleep At Night.

Was All Run Down.

Had No Appetite.

FOOD WOULD NOT DIGEST.

Mrs. I. W. Warner, Riverdale, N.S., is glad there is such a remedy as Burdock Blood Bitters.

IT CURED HER AND WILL CURE YOU.

She says: "I wish to add my testimony to the many others who have spoken so highly as to the unfailing virtues of Burdock Blood Bitters. I was all run down, had no appetite, lost all ambition, could not sleep much and had terrible headache and backache, and my food did not digest properly. I saw B.B.B. advertised, so concluded to give it a trial, thinking if it did no good it could do no harm. But after using one bottle I began to feel better, and by the time I had used three bottles I was feeling like a new person. I am so glad there is such a remedy provided for suffering humanity, and cannot praise it enough for I think there is no medicine like it on the market."

Volcanic Eruption in Iceland.

London, June 1.—A steam traveler, which has arrived at Kirkwall, Orkney Islands, Scotland, reports that a volcanic eruption occurred at Iceland on May 27. The crew of the vessel were then fishing at some distance from the land, and the sea for thirty miles around, the captain says, became like "soap-suds."

Mr. Hays Saw Premier Ross.

Toronto, June 2.—Premier Ross was interviewed yesterday by Senator Cox and Mr. Chas. M. Hays, General Manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific. The visit of the magnates of railway and finance lasted about an hour. At its conclusion Mr. Hays was asked by a representative of the Globe if he would make a statement.

"I don't think I can say anything to-day," he replied.

Sensor Cox was also unwilling to make any statement, and so was Premier Ross.

WELL EARNED POPULARITY

J. J. Burns says Dodd's Kidney Pills Saved His Life

Could Scarcely Sit, Sleep or Walk When He Started to Use Them—His Trouble Gone for Good.

Darney, P. E. I., June 1.—(Special.)—The popularity of Dodd's Kidney Pills in Prince Edward Island has been earned by cures complete and permanent. John J. Burns, Lot 18, Darney, is one of the cured, and his story is a splendid example of the work Dodd's Kidney Pills are doing.

"For over eight years," says Mr. Burns, "I suffered from what the doctors pronounced Chronic Kidney inflammation of the Loins and Kidneys. In the year 1898 I got so bad that I could scarcely walk, sit or sleep. I was about to give up when an advertisement led me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills and they did a wonderful work for me."

"Dodd's Kidney Pills saved my life and though years have elapsed since my cure I have had no trouble since I used them."

"I belong to the I. O. F. and any member can vouch for my condition and that Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me."

Dodd's Kidney Pills never fail to cure any form of Kidney Disease once and for all.

OVER 4,000 IMMIGRANTS.

Two More Steamers Arrive at Halifax.

Halifax, June 2.—Two more steamers arrived with immigrants, bringing over 4,000 passengers, nearly all for the northwest.

The Allan Line Numidian, from Glasgow to New York, came in to land 20 first, 140 second and 500 steerage passengers. They were nearly all Britishers, of the same type as the many who have come here this season. Among her passengers were a large number of the wives and families of men of the R. G. Regiment.

The Hamburg-American liner Armenia followed her into port. She is bound from Hamburg to Philadelphia, and called here to land 1,323 passengers. They were principally Austrians, and, with the exception of 143 for United States ports, they are bound for the northwest.

Killed at a Crossing.

Toronto, June 2.—The need of a bridge over the railway tracks at the foot of Yonge street was again emphasized last night, when Charles Irwin, a laborer, was killed and his wife, Minnie, was severely hurt. The couple were struck by a T. R. freight car, which had been shunted. Nearly 50 people witnessed the accident.

A FORTUNE IN FRENCH.

A Valuable Hint for Ambitious and Earnest Young Canadians.

How many of the younger men know that if they will only grasp it, there is awaiting them a golden prize? It can be attained only by study: the study of French. The big wholesalers of Toronto are pushing their trade into Quebec, says The Toronto News. The manufacturers are doing the same thing. And the representatives of these firms, if they are to be successful in the French Province, must speak the language.

Toronto employers have had great difficulty in obtaining traveling salesmen who would be able to talk to the French-Canadian merchant in his own tongue. They had plenty of bright, alert, pushing young fellows, but they had only the language that their fathers taught them. All the things being equal, the young man who knows French will stand a much better chance of doing business in Quebec than will his competitor, who compels his customer to speak a language that is alien to his lips.

The French-Canadian merchant in a small town does not attempt to speak English more than once a month or so. He is gratified to find an English-speaking salesman, so that the French-speaking man from Ontario stands in with a manifest advantage. So far, many of the Ontario firms have been forced to engage French-Canadian travelers to cover the territory. The result is usually earnest and enthusiastic, but he is not so efficient as the man who has been brought up in his employer's business, and served years at his apprenticeship before being sent out on the road.

Then, everybody knows that Quebec is full of water powers that will make her, in the near future, a quantity to be reckoned with when it comes to manufacturing. Where water powers are, there will be electrical development, and electrical development means positions for many young men who know something of that branch of engineering. Toronto is full of its students. Many of them will get posts in Quebec, and under them will be hundreds of French-Canadians. Will it not be easier for them to manage the business when they know the tongue of their employers? The man who has nothing but English at his command, will have to depend largely on his French-Canadian assistants or foremen. He will often have to pay salaries that he could save if he had both languages to work on. The electrical engineer of the future, who is now studying in Ontario, had better have a try at French. The young man who is, the better still, a man who has attained middle age, can "pick it up." Many a politician has gone to Ottawa knowing no word of the alien tongue. He has found that a knowledge of it would help him in Parliament and, has commenced its study. People of our blood are notoriously timid about learning foreign languages, but there is nothing very difficult in the task of acquiring a working knowledge of French. It is something that pretty nearly any man possessing a High School education should be able to achieve in six months. If he knows his Latin in grammar pretty well, he will be immeasurably helped. But even if he has no Latin, he will do well to take up French. He will be richer financially and mentally.

One of Canada's Jurists.

The Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec, Sir Louis Jetté, who is to the front as one of Canada's jurists in the Alaskan Boundary dispute, is not known outside of his Province except by name. He is far more of a judge than a politician, in temperament and attainments. The one episode in his political career which brought him fame was his defeat of the late Sir George Cartier in Montreal East in the general elections of 1872. Then a young avocat, comparatively obscure, Jetté was brought out by the Liberals against the French Tory leader, whose prestige and authority in Quebec were then similar to Sir John Macdonald's in Ontario. Cartier had deeply offended his church by declining to intervene to save Separate schools for the New Brunswick Catholics. He had also incurred the hostility of the militia, and the late Colonel Dyde, of Montreal, and Colonel G. T. Denison, of Toronto, went quietly into the constituency and worked against him. Cartier was left in a minority of 1,250 votes; they never do things by halves in Quebec—and young Jetté woke up to find himself famous. He was made a judge by the Mackenzie Government in September, 1878, resigning from the bench in 1898 to succeed Sir Rodolphe Chabouat at Spencerwood. He is 67 years old. Mr. Rodolphe Lemieux, M.P. for Gaspe, is his son-in-law.

The Mosquito.

But all over Ontario that vindictive and typical propagating insect, the mosquito, is a pest in rural and suburban districts. Broken crockery, flower-pots and discarded vegetable and fruit cans in a back yard will often hold enough rainwater to attract an egg-laying mosquito. Of course, ponds furnish a larger probability, but not an insoluble one. With their drainage must be resorted to, and drainage calls for co-operation. For that matter, so do other methods of campaigning. Fighting mosquitoes is like shovelling snow. If Jones neglects his share, and Smith is negligent, the public loses the benefit of the former's diligence, and Jones is tempted to regret his own zeal. If one man cleans up his yard and denies the mosquito a breeding place, and his neighbor does not, virtue is not adequately rewarded. Virtue is not adequately getting it in the cervical vertebrae, anyhow, but the man who is not ready to lament the fact can never hope to make an effective bluff in the direction of convincing his fellow-citizens that he desires to look on the bright side of things. The high note he hits up the high, clear ringing note that he should always have on tap.
