ST. CLEMENTS.

A post village in the township of Wellesley, ten miles from Berlin, and seventy-two miles from Toronto. The village was first settled in 1840, by Michael Spiehlmacker. The post office was established in 1853, and John Stroh, appointed postmaster. It contains a very handsome and large Roman Catholic Church, built of brick, size 80 × 120, at a cost of ten thousand dollars, and will accommodate one thousand persons. In connection there is a separate school with a large attendance. There are two stores, three hotels, and several work shops. Population, 400. Mails tri-weekly.

ALPHABETICAL LIST OF PROFESSIONS, TRADES, &c.

Abel, Henry, weaver.
Adam, Joseph, potter.
Baker, Adam, mason.
Birr, Francis, weaver.
Bobz, Michael, laborer.
Bowman, Matthias, wagon-maker.
Breneau, George, blacksmith.
Dornberger, Lambert, brickmaker.
Drewar, Henry, laborer.
Esig, Gotleib, tailor.
Feidel, Henry, laborer.
Fester, Ludwig, laborer.
Fischer, Casper, blacksmith.
Flacks, John, fanning mill maker.
Flacks, George, laborer.
Flacks, John, fanning mill maker.
Forer, Francis, wheelwright.
Freiberger, Joseph, hotel keeper.
Garich, Lorenz, weaver.
Gatschene, John, hotel keeper.
Harris, Henry, shoemaker.
Hell, Simon, shoemaker.
Heckler, John, shoemaker.
Hildmann, Mr., laborer.
Keller, Frederick, carpenter.
Knittle, John, carpenter.
McNab, Michael, general merchant.

MEHSNER, REV. COLOMPAN, R. C. clergyman.
Mindel, Christopher, tailor.
Oelschlager, William, general merchant.
Pfeiffer, Francis, carpenter.
Phreel, Andrew, carpenter.
Rau, John, shoemaker.
Rosenblat, John, cabinet-maker.
Schimer, Joseph, mason.
Schmidt, Mr., teacher.
Simmer, John, laborer.
Spielmacker, Michael, laborer.
Starr, John, wheelwright.
Starr, Samuel, carpenter.
Stroh, John, postmaster.
Scheckler, Christian, laborer.
Salm, Peter, laborer.
Salm, Frederick, laborer.
Steis, Falden, weaver.
Stompf, Joseph, laborer.
Seiler, John, wheelwright.
Voigt, Joseph, stonemason.
Wernette, John, blacksmith and hotel keeper.
Wernette, Jacob, brickmaker.
Zunke, Frederick, carpenter.