Over the Sea.

BY DENNIS PLORENCE M'CARTHY.

Sad eyes! why are ye steadfastly gazing Over the sea? Is it the flocking of the ocean shepherd grazing,
Like the lambs on the lea?
Is it the dawn of the orient billows blazing,
Allureth ye?

Sad feet! why are ye constantly straying
Down by the sea?
There where the winds in the sandy harbor are playing
Childlike and free.
What is the charm, whose potent enchantment
obeying.
That charmeth ye?

Oh! sweet is the dawn, and bright are the colors it glows in!
To the beauty of God's bright creation my bosom is frozen,
Nought can I see!
Since she has departed—the dear one, the loved one, the chosen,
Over the sea!

Pleasant it was when the billows did struggle and wrestle.

Pleasant to see!

Pleasant to climb the tall cliffs where the sea birds nestle

When near to thee!

Noughi can I now behold but the track of the O'er the sea.

Long as a Lapland winter which no pleasant sunlight cheereth. The summer shall be: Vainly shall autumn be gay, in the rich robes it weareth. ft weareth.

Vainly for me!

No joy can I feel till the prow of thy vessel appeareth

Over the sea! Sweeter than summer, which tenderly, mother-

ly bringeth
Flowers to the bee!
Sweeter than autumn, which bounteously, lovingly flingeth
Fruits on the tree!
Shall be winter when homeward returning thy
swift vessel wingeth
Over the sea!

Words are poor and inadequate to express the sorrow and commiseration we feel and which we believe is felt by all his acquaintances. We trust that he whom they mourn has entered into a letter than this sorrowful world. This reflection should enable them to bear with Christian fortitude the heavy cross placed upon them, and we trust that they may be consoled by the hope of a heavenly reunion hereatter. Be it further Resolved that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Brother Crowley and family and recorded on the minutes of this meeting, also a copy be sent to the CATHOLIC RECORD for publication.

GRAND CONCERT IN MASSEY HALL.
Blantyre Park is one of the loveliest spots in the suburbs of Toronto, and His Grace Archbishop Walsh, in looking out for a place suitable for an Industrial School within easy distance of the city, was quick to perceive the advantages of Blantyre. The wayward youth will find himself transferred from the dingy by-ways of the city to the lordly surroundings of Blantyre Industry. Art and nature will make it a pleasant and profitable home rather than a place of incarceration. A large and commodious building has been erected at a great outlay, and to assist in meeting this expense the concert is run, and we trust the patronage of our friends will enable us to present His Grace with a sum that will prove the Catholics of the city desire to in completing this much-needed institution. W. LANE, S. T. and O.

Sira—I hereby humbly beg of you to accept my most heartfelt thanks and gratitude for the great kindness, brotherly love and sympathy shown by the officers and members of your most worthy Division, towards my brothers, sister and myself, during the great bereavement and sorrow which God had willed should fall upon us, in shape of the sad loss of our dear brother Joseph, who during lite was a member of your order, until it pleased Him to call him from our midst in the prime of his manhood.

I assure you, gentlemen, that your noble action in stretching out a helping hand to us
in our hour of need will not soon be forgotten,
and we shall at all times be loud in praise
of great benevoience of your grand order and shall always remember with a feeling of love and kindness and respect you showed towards us in our time of great grief.
Indeed I cannot frame in words the feeling of thankfulness towards you which is in the heart of Yours gratefully,

ROSEBERY SPEAKS.

ROSEBERY SPEAKS.

The Prime Minister, Lord Rosebery, made an attack on the House of Lords in a special in Bradford last Sunday evening.

The veto power exercised by the irresponsible chanber, he said, would prevent the present Parliament from continuing for anything like the full extent of its natural lite. The next election, in his opinion, would be fought on the question of the continued existence of the House of Lords. That House, as it existed at present, was a mockery and an invitation to revolution. He favored the principle of a second chamber, saying that the temptation of absolute power was too great for any single person or body.

The Government proposed to submit to Parliament a resolution, the exact terms of which he could not state now, but affirming the principle that the Commons, in partnership with the Lords, was unmistakably the dominant partner. The Government threw down the gauntlet to the Lords, and it was for the people to back the Government up.

The release of the Paris funds is a matter of great importance to the Irish party, and may have an indirect effect to lessen the bitterness of the feuds in Irish politics. It will remove the heavy financial embarrassment under which the party is laboring, for the expenditure of $50,000 to $75,000 annually for the relief of evicted tenants is now provided for two years to come. The amount of these funds now exceeds $200,000. The settlement was reached by Messrs. Harrington and Kenny, representing the Parnellites, and Dillon and Davitt of the Irish Nationalists. The terms are that nearly $150,000 be placed at the unconditional disposal of Davitt and Dillon for the relief of evicted tenants. The remainder, about $60,000, constitutes a fund for the payment of what are known as prior claims. It is not admitted that any such claims exist. That must be proved before the arbitration board, consisting of Messrs. Davitt, Dillon and Harrington. The only claims possible are for expenditure in behalf of the Irish cause by Mr. Parnell or by his directions prior

John Morley stated last Monday in regard to the Irish political prisoners that the cabinet had decided that the law must take its course. He would not say that the Government would never release these prisoners, as the decision of the cabinet might be reconsidered.

ARCHDIOCESE OF KINGSTON.

Brockville's Popular Pastor Remem-bered by his Parish Boys on the eve of his Patronal Feast.

Saturday, Nov. 3rd., being the eve of the Patronal Feast of Very Rev. Vicar General Gauthier, of Brockville, the boys of the Separate school took advantage of the occasion to testify to him their affection by presenting him with a beautiful upholstered coucia, accompanied by an illuminated address in the poetical form.

The Very Rev. Vicar warmly thanked the boys for their testimony of affection for him, and assured them that it did not require the magnificent gift to convince him of the singular property of the sentiments contained in their address.

Following is the address:

N ODE TO OUR BELOVED VICAR, ON THE EVE OF HIS PATRONAL PEAST, NOV. 4, 1894. This glorious eve recalls again
A scene to Catholic hearts most dear—
A scene of far-off southern glen.
And good St. Charles, so kind, sincere;
A scene which Gratitude portrays
In Memory's tablet, faithful, true,
And imaged in our boyhood's days
In deeds of love, performed by you.

St. Charles, your Patron, loved the poor: He taught them by the wayside then, In distant Italy, as o'er moor And plain he wandered, seeking men Whom Heresy had turned adrift And false Ambitton led astray. He gently taught them how to lift Their souls to Heaven, and to pray.

When deadly Plague its fetid breath, Exhaled through Milan's crowded lanes, And thousands, face to face with Death, Lay moaning, writhing in their pains, Who nobly answered Duty's call? Who fondly raised the drooping head? Twas brave St. Charles, beloved by all—The living, dying and the dead.

And beautiful the schools he built O'er unny Italy's fruitful plains: While convents reared their turrets gilt. And monasteries their flashing vanes, For one sole purpose laboring thus—To lead to Heaven his fellow men—St. Charles is emblem unto us. In God's all-wise and gracious plan. And fondly in your school-boys' eyes
Dear Vicar, doth there oft appear,
An image of St. Charles the Wise,
Who labors in your wonted sphere.
We see him in your every act,
We hear him in your every tone;
Your life, your love, your soul in fact,
Devoted to our good alone.

This small memento please accept,
As token, then, of fondest love
Though though these oft, by Folly swept,
Yet in our hearts there reigns, above
All other thoughts, a wish sincere,
A hope, that God may bless you now—
That. like St. Charles, your Patron dear,
A crown in Heaven may deek your brow.
—Your Affectinate School Boys.

AT THE CONVENT OF NOTRE DAME.

The day was also celebrated in a most appropriate manner at the Convent de Notre Dame. The walls of the beautiful edifice were most tastefully decorated with banners and mottoes, emblematic of the love and affection of the good Sisters and their pupils for their Very Rev. pastor, while a choice programme, of vocal and instrumental music, dialogues, and recitations, was presented by the young ladies of the convent in such a manner as to show the refinement of taste and elegance of execution which ever characterize the training and education imparted by the Rev. Sisters of this order to their pupils. At 20 o'clock p. m. the Vicar General, accompanied by Rev. Father Carson, C. C., of St. Francis Xavier church, proceeded to the convent, where they were received by the Rev. Mother Superior and the Rev. Sisters of the convent and conducted to the elegant and spacious drawing room, where were assembled about two hundred little girls, whose smiling faces portrayed the pleasure in store for the distinguished guest of the day.

At the close of the programme a most pleasing event took place, in the shape of the presentation of an elegant and costly set of furs—consisting of a cap and gauntlets—accompanied by a beautiful and elaborate address to the Vicar-General, by two little girls, on behalf of the pupils.

The Very Rev. pastor, in replying, thanked the pupils warmly for this expression of their affection for himself, and for the testimony it afforded of their love and respect for those place i over them in authority by Almighty God. He payed a glowing tribute to the devoted self sacritice of the Rev. Sisters, and pointed out the many blessings which flowed from a system of education in which the mind and the body received their due training.

dence, Wardsville, Ont., occurred the death of one of the oldest residents of the locality—Mr. James Cunningham, in his seventy seventh year. On Friday morning the remains were followed by a very large number of relatives and friends and neighbors of the surrounding country to pay their last respects to their departed friend.

Solemn High Mass was celebrated by the Rev. Father McKeon, of Strathroy, Ont., and Father Quinlan of West Lorne, Ont. The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. Father McKeon, having been the former pastor of Wardsville and a personal friend of the deceased. He spoke in eloquent terms of the deceased's noble and eminent qualities. The Thamesville choir, under the direction of Miss Queenie Podlewski, sang the Requiem High Mass, and added much to the sad and impressive service.

Mr. Cunningham was born in the parish of St. Columbkille, Donegal, Ireland, 5th May, 1818. Coming to Canada 1843, be took up his residence in Aldborough, where he remained until the last two years previous to his death, when he removed to Wardsville. He was always a devout and practical Catholic, a generous and consistent supporter of church and pastor. His faithfulness in life was blessed by being fortified with the last saraments of the Church he loved so well. R. I. P. Mr. WILLIAM J. MCAVEELA. PENETAN-

MR. WILLIAM J. MCAVEELA, PENETAN-GUISHENE.

By the death of Mr. William J. McAveela, which sad event occurred on Wednesday, 24th ult., the parish of Penetanguishene loses one of its most faithful and most respected members. The deceased, who was only twenty-seven years old, was claimed a victim by the fell destroyer, consumption. Though a resident of this vicinity for a few years only, he had already gained the respect and affection of all by his upright life and winning manners. He leaves a father and mother to mourn the loss of an only child.

The funeral was one of the largest ever seen in Penetanguishene. Requiem Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Laboureau, the church being crowded. Not only were the relatives and immediate friends of the deceased present, but also representatives of all classes and creeds in the community—all anxious to pay the last tribute of respect to one who, during his short life, had so completely won the affection and esteem of all.

MARRIAGE.

MCMAHON-MACKEY.

Ottawa, Oct. 31. — There was a stir in society circles here to-day when D'Arcy McMahon, son of Justice McMahon, of Toronto, was married to Jessie Mackey, daughter of Mr. Mackey, the millionaire lumberman of this city. The marriage took place in St. Patrick's church, Archbishop Walsh of Toronto, performing the ceremony, assisted by Rev. Father Whelan. The church was crowded. Justice McMahon was present, and Mr. Mackey gave the bride away. The presents to the bride were both costly and numerous. MCMAHON-MACKEY.

Ottawa Journal, Nov. 1.

Archbishop Walsh, who by the by is Mr. MacMahon's god-father, returned home today. He delighted the guests at the luncheon yesterdey by facetiously remarking, in returning thanks for the toast in his honor, that though marriage might indeed be all that was said of it, he was quite satisfied with his own state, but felt that he must defend his own position. (Great laughter.) If they would permit him he would refer to the fact that on the morrow (All Saints) he would celebrate the fortieth annniversary of his priesthood, and had not one regret that he had entered the ministry. It was a good apostolate, that of helping the poor, uplifting the fallen, and if he had the choice again he would not choose otherwise. In his closing remarks he spoke in a feeling manner of the bride and groom, wishing them every blessing. The remarks of all the gentlemen concerning the bridal couple were replete with kindly allusions. Ottawa Journal, Nov. 1.

Not go up a Step—How She Regained Health and Strength.

From the Clinton New Era.

Miss Kate Longman is a young lady of about twenty-two years of age, who lives with her mother in the pretty little village of Londeeboro, six miles from the town of Clinton. Both are well-known and highly esteemed by their many friends. The New Era having learned that Miss Longman had been a great sufferer and had recently been restored to health by the timely use of a well-known, popular remedy, dispatched a representative to get the particulars of the case. In reply to the reporter's inquiries Miss Longman said that if her experience might be the means of helping some other sufferer, she was quite willing that it should be made public. "For a long time," she said, "I was very poorly, I was weak, and run down, and at times suffered pains in my back that were simply awful. My blood was in a watery condition, and I was subject to spells of weakness to such an extent that I could not step up a door step to save my lite. I doctored a great deal for my sickness, but without avail. At last, after having frequently read in the New Era of curse effected by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I determined to give them a trial. The result was that my health soon began to return and the pains and weakness left and I was again restored to strength." At this moment Mrs. Longman entered, and being informed who the visitor was and what was his mission, said: "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the greatest medicine known. Mydaughter was so sick that I feared she would die, and she continually grew weaker until she began the use of Pink Pills, and they have cured her, as she has not had a recurrence of the trouble since. Miss Longman is now the picture of health, and de-lares that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are ontilled to the credit. The New Era knows of many others who have benefitted by this remarkable remedy,
