RESULT OF THE FIRST MEETING

If a good beginning has anything promising about it, this year's Literary Society is going to be something to remember.

The Quotation Contest brought out replies from many former members, and added twenty-five brand new ones. That is a good start, isn't it?

The most complete list was sent in by Miss Pearle Stacey. She had 33 assigned correctly, missing only the last two on the list, and thereby gains the first prize. Miss Myra Smith and Miss Helen Stewart tied with 31 correct answers, and Mrs. T. D. McCallum had 30 right. Miss Smith has already chosen the prize she wants, and we should like to hear from the others as promptly as possible.

The following contestants had 25 or more correct answers:—Miss Rose, M. G. Laidman, Pansy Munday, Chalgrove Fielde, Miss Sharman, Miss Ewens, W. T. Ramsay, Miss Clark, Miss Jackson, Mrs. Mooney, Mrs. Moss, A. Munday.

The following had more than half right:—Miss Ireton, Miss Gordon, L. J. Mutch, A. J. H., B. G. Sergeant, Mrs. Crowe, Mrs. McNeil, Edwin Reid, Miss Gould, Miss Hurd, Miss Taylor, Mrs. Tallant.

GET AWAY FROM THE CROWD

Robert Burdette, in a talk to young men, said:—"Get away from the crowd for a while, and think. Stand on one side and let the world run by, while you get acquainted with yourself, and see what kind of a fellow you are. Ask yourself hard questions about yourself. Ascertain from original sources, if you are really the manner of man you say you are; and if you are always honest; if you always tell the square, perfect truth in business details; if your life is as good and upright at eleven o'clock at night as it is at noon; if you are as good a temperance man on a fishing excursion as you are on a Sunday-school picnic; if you are as good when you go to the city as you are at home; if, in short, you are really the sort of man your father hopes you are, and your sweetheart believes you are. Get on intimate terms with yourself, my boy, and believe me, every time you come out of one of those private interviews with yourself, you will be a stronger, better, finer man. Don't forget this, and it will do you good."

SELECTED RECIPES

Mock Mint Julep.—Into a half glass filled with shaved ice place two or three sprigs of mint. With a masher crush the mint until the leaves are reduced to a pulp. Add four tablespoonfuls of either sherry or grape juice, and fill the glass with seltzer. Shake, strain and serve with fresh mint protruding from the glass.

Rice Griddle Cakes.—To two cupfuls of cold boiled rice add one pint of sifted flour, one beaten egg, one-half teaspoon of salt, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and enough sweet milk to make the mixture of a consistency to drop from a spoon. Bake on a hot griddle and serve with syrup.

Cream Cake.—Take  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup butter, 2 cups sugar, 3 eggs beaten in a cup of milk, 3 cups flour, 2 teaspoons cream of tartar, 1 teaspoon soda.

Cream Filling for the Above.—One pint milk brought to the boil into which is stirred  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup corn starch, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, a lump of butter as big as a walnut, vanilla flavoring.
