FRIENDS OF BOTH

Dr. McCully is a Favorite With Both Political Parties—Want Him to Run.

Dr. McCully, an old Liberal war horse from Cedar Springs, was in the city yesterday and attended the West Kent Liberal convention. It has been rumored around in different places that Dr. McCully will be urged to contest the riding of East Kent, as an independent candidate against John Lee and John Davidson. Nothing definite has yet been done, however, as Dr. McCully, when approached by The Planet, yesterday, had not heard about it from any direct source.

It is understood that this action on the part of the Doctor's friends is the outcome of the treatment received by Dr. McCully at the recent Liberal convention held in Thamesville. His supporters expected that he would receive courteous treatment and when he was knifed they were considerably angered.

"Well," said the doctor, when asked if he intended to run as an independent, "I have not heard of it yet, and so far no one has broached the subject to me. I understand that a number of my friends have been speaking for me, but as yet they have not spoken to me personally."

"You know at last," provincial election there was a good chance for an independent candidate, and I honestly believe an independent would have carried the polls, but I am not so sure of it this time. I, however, have a lot of friends in both parties."

"In fact," said the genial doctor, as his face broadened out into a humorous smile, "I am like the Irishman the Pat who was on his death bed. His people were very anxious as to his chances in the next world and wanted to call a priest, but Pat positively refused to see the father. At last when he was almost dead his wife said to him, 'Pat, I am going to call the priest and you will have to see him.' 'But Pat still persistently refused, and said to his wife, 'I don't need a priest. I have friends in both places, so it doesn't make any difference where I go.' 'So you see I am like Pat. I have friends in both parties, so it doesn't make much difference whether I run as a Liberal or an independent.' And the interview was concluded with a laugh from his listeners which was also heartily enjoyed by the doctor himself."

Theatrical

"DON'T TELL MY WIFE"

"Don't Tell My Wife," which appears at the Grand on the 25th, is a capital comedy. The scene is laid in Atlantic City. Comedian Deming is seen as the husband, while the husband of the plot is carried by other characters of the droll story. Deming's role is one closely allied to all the main events. Deming himself is one of the very few men on the native stage to-day capable almost of amusing an audience a whole evening by himself. The engagement here is for one night, April 25.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN.

There are times in person's life when they feel, enough is as good as a feast, but anyone enjoying the satisfying performance of Al. W. Martin's Uncle Tom's Cabin at the Grand Opera House, Friday, May 9th will gladly stand all that is coming to him.

When the average theatre goer reads an announcement that Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. will appear at such and such a theatre, he is apt to note the same with a smile and some sage remarks regarding ancient history, resurrection, etc., yet in nine cases out of ten, when the night arrives for the performance of the play he will be found patiently waiting his turn at the box office with a circus come to town expression on his face, his family in town, or if not possessed of such a blessing, he has probably borrowed several hobbles for the occasion to lend dignity to his coming. He can't resist seeing the play again and again. He likes to feel his brain excited, his imagination fired by the incidents as depicted on the stage.

Uncle Tom's Cabin as a story is old yet ever new, having the same charm to enchain the attention of the reader the same power of exciting the wondering curiosity of the children as in the olden time, and will for ages to come, occupy a niche in memory pages side by side with the never to be forgotten history of our soldiers of the rebellion.

As a play Uncle Tom's Cabin has never been equalled by any other dramatized story in fidelity of detail, clearness of outline and strict adherence to the story. In this day of dramatized novels turned out by the hundred on the strength of the book sale, few are dramatic success, and it is a pleasure to enjoy a standard success that has withstood time and triumphed over the fads of the hour as has Uncle Tom's Cabin.

As presented by Al. W. Martin's company everything conspires to make us forget it is acting. Even the dogs present such ferocious bloodthirsty appearance that we sigh from thankfulness at the escape of Eliza from the slave drivers.

The company have been chosen with a careful attention to their peculiar fitness for the characters they are to represent. The scenic effects are on a lavish scale, new and together with

A PRISONER FOR LIFE

Offences against the laws of health are punished rigorously and inevitably by nature. A man may break civil laws and escape punishment. But the man who transgresses nature's law of health cannot escape the penalty. Many a man is to-day a prisoner for life, because of his outrage of the laws upon which health is conditioned. He sits idly in his chair, tormented by coughing spells and gasping for breath. The handkerchief which wipes his lips shows a red stain. He is slowly wasting away.

Weak lungs, obstinate coughs, spitting of blood, weakness and emaciation are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Thousands who have been cured by this medicine attest the fact.

Sick people are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and is confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." The sole motive for substitution is to enable the dealer to make the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines.

"Three years ago I had the grip," writes Mrs. T. L. Lacey, of Grand Rapids, Mich. "I was laid up for three months, and I am sure of it this time. I, however, have a lot of friends in both parties."

"In fact," said the genial doctor, as his face broadened out into a humorous smile, "I am like the Irishman the Pat who was on his death bed. His people were very anxious as to his chances in the next world and wanted to call a priest, but Pat positively refused to see the father. At last when he was almost dead his wife said to him, 'Pat, I am going to call the priest and you will have to see him.' 'But Pat still persistently refused, and said to his wife, 'I don't need a priest. I have friends in both places, so it doesn't make any difference where I go.' 'So you see I am like Pat. I have friends in both parties, so it doesn't make much difference whether I run as a Liberal or an independent.' And the interview was concluded with a laugh from his listeners which was also heartily enjoyed by the doctor himself."

costumes are of the time of the period.

Altogether we can endorse the opinion of the press of other cities in saying it is the best representation of Uncle Tom's Cabin now on the road.

WERE WEDDED

Pretty Ceremony Uniting Two of the Maple City's Popular Young People.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the residence of John Poile, Selkirk street, yesterday afternoon, when his sister, Miss Jennie Poile, was united in marriage with James Walter Aitken, of this city. Only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties were in attendance. The bride presented a charming appearance as she entered the drawing room leaning on the arm of her brother John. The bride was attired in white organdie trimmed with real lace and insertion. The wedding dress was a work of art, the product of Madame Skirving's skill.

The bridesmaid, Miss Cora Merritt, was attired in blue muslin de soie. The groom was supported by J. W. Young.

Miss Mable Leonard, of Dresden, played the wedding march during the entrance of the bride party. The impressive marriage service of the church of England was solemnized by the Rev. T. Beverley Smith, rector of Holy Trinity church.

After the service, the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. John William Aitken, left on the train for Toronto, to join his father, who is in the city on business.

William Huff, of Huff's Siding, is the guest of Dresden friends.

Joshua West has sold his residence on Hughes St. for the sum of $1,250, to Mr. Hauke, of the grain elevator.

TOO MUCH PRUNES.

Bobbycon Independent.

All this talk in agricultural contentions about pruning is just a shade trying to a man who is taking his prunes, steadily, three times a day.

BUT IT WAS A GOOD SPEECH.

Bobbycon Independent.

To the Advanced Thinker these Grit and Tug struggles are decidedly amusing, but it must be admitted that Mr. Whitney made from the jury point of view an effective speech.

A well-known local apple buyer says that the time is now at hand when the spraying should be commenced, the latter part of March and during April, when the buds are swelling, being the proper time. As the fruit marks act will be rigidly enforced this year, every person with an orchard will find it greatly to their advantage to thoroughly spray, as the apple buyers and pickers will not take inferior fruit—London Free Press.
