Dr. McCully is a Favorite With Both Political Parties-Want Him to Run.

Dr. McCully, an old Liberal war horse from Cedar Springs, was in the city yesterday and attended the West Kent Liberal convention. It has been rumored around in different places that Dr. McCully will be urged to contest the riding of East Kent, as an independent candidate against John Lee and John Davidson. Nothing definite has yet been done, however, as Dr. McCully, when approached by The Planet, yesterday, had not heard about it from any direct source.

It is understood that this action on the part of the Doctor's friends is the outcome of the treatment received by Dr. McCully at the recent Liberal convention held in Thamesville. His supporters expected that he would receive courteous treatment and when he was knifed they were considerably

"Well," said the doctor, when asked if he intended to run as an independent, "I have not heard of it yet, and so far no one has broached the subject to me. I understand that a number of my friends have been speaking for me, but as yet they have not spoken to me personally.

"You know at last provincial election there was a good chance for an independent candidate, and I honestly believe an independent would have carried the polls, but I am not so sure of it this time. I, however, have a lot of friends in both parties. "In fact," said the genial doctor, as his face broadened out into a humor ous smile, "I am like the Irishman the Pat who was on his death bed. His people were very anxious as to his chances in the next world and wanted to call a priest, but Pat positively refused to see the father. At last when he was almost dead his wife said " Pat, I am going to call the ries;

and you will have to see him. "But Pat still ersistently refused, and said to his wife.

"'I don't need a priest. I have friends in both places, so it doesn't make any difference where I go.

"So you see I am like Pat, I have friends in both parties, so it doesn't make much difference whether I run as a liberal or an independent." And the interview was concluded with a laugh from his listeners which was also beartiff. also heartily enjoyed by the doctor

"DON'T TELL MY WIFE."

"Don't Tell My Wife," which appears at the Grand on the 25th, is a capital comedy. The scene is laid in Atlantic City. Comedian Deming is Atlantic City. Comedian Deming is seen as the husband, while the bur den of the plot is carried by other characters of the droll story. Dem-ing's role is one closely allied to all the main events. Deming himself is one of the very few men on the native stage to-day capable almost of amusing an audience a whole evening by himself. The engagement here one night, April 25.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN.

There are times in person's life when they feel, enough is as good as a feast, but anyone enjoying the satisfying performance of Al, W. Martin's Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. at the Grand Opera House, Friday, May 9th will gladly stand all that is coming reads an announcement that Uncle's Tom's Cabin Co. will appear at such and such a theatre, he is apt to note the same with a smile and some sage remarks regarding ancient history, resurrection, etc., yet in nine cases out of ten, when the night arrives for the performance of the play he will be found patiently waiting his turn at the box office with a circus come to town expression on his face, his family in town, or if not possessed of such a blessing he has probably borrowed several babies for the occassion to lend dignity to his coming. He can't resist seeing the play again and again. He likes to feel his brain excited, his imagination fired by the incidents as depicted on the stage.

When the average theatre goer

Uncle Tom's Cabin as a story is old yet ever new, having the same charm to enchain the attention of the reader the same power of exciting the wondering curiosity of the children as in the olden time, and will for ages to come, occupy a niche in children as in the olden time, and will for ages to come, occupy a niche in memory pages side by side with the never to be forgotten history of our soldiers of the rebellion.

As a play Uncle Tom's Cabin has never been equalled by any other dramatized story in fidelity of detail, clearness of outline and strict adherances the story. In this day of clearness of outline and strict adherence to the story. In this day of dramatized novels turned out by the hundred on the strength of the books sale, few are dramatic success, and it is a pleasure to enjoy a standard success that has with-stood time and triumphed over the fads of the hour as has Uncle Tom's Cabin.

As presented by Al. W. Martin's company everything conspires to make us forget it is acting. Even the dogs present such ferocious bloodthirsty appearance that we sigh from thankfulness at the escape of Eliza from the slave drivers.

the slave drivers.

The company have been chosen with a careful attention to their peculiar fitness for the characters they are to represent. The scenic effects are on a lavish scale, new and together with points. There was a large crowd at the station to bid the young couple God speed on their honeymoon trip. Rice was a prominent participant in the parting send off which the newly married couple were the recipients of.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents from her hosts of friends.

J. Walter Aitken is the western superintendent of the London and Lancashire Life Insurance Co. of Canada and is very popular with all. He is also a prominent member of the Maple City cricket club and of the Gun Club. In the first he holds chief honor as bowler and in the second club he is one of the best shots.
