I receive from all Foreign Powers satisfactors assurances of their desire to maintain with me the most friendly understanding, and I look for ward with confidence to the reasonation. ward with confidence to the preservation of the general peace, which has been, and will be, the object of my constant solicitude. I lament that the civil contest in the northern provinces of Spain has not yet been brought to a termination; but taking a deep interest in the welfare of the Spanish monarchy, I shall continue to direct to cluded the treaty of quadruple alliance, and I have, in furtherance of the objects of that treaty, exercised the power rested in me by the Legislature, and have granted permission to my subjects to engage in the service of the Queen of Spain.

Swiden, fresh conventions, calculated to pre-vent the traffic in African slaves; I hope soon vent the traffic in African slaves; I hope soon to receive the ratification of a similar treaty, which has been signed with Spain. I am engaged in negotiations with other powers in Europe and in South America for the same purpose, and trust that ere long the united efforts of all civilized nations will suppress and extinguish this traffic.

I perceive with entire approbation that you have discreted some attention to the regulation.

I greatly rejoice that the internal condition I greatly rejoice that the internal condition of freland has been such as to have permitted you to substitute for the macessary severity of a law, which has been suffered to expire, enactments of a milder sharester. No part of my duty is more grateful to my feelings than the mitigation of a penal statute in any case, in which it can be effected consistently with the maintenance of order and tranquillity.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,
I thank you for the readiness with which you have voted the supplies.
You have provided not only for the expenses of the year, and for the interest upon the large sum awarded to the owners of slaves in my Colonial possessions, but also for several unexpected and peculiar claims upon the justice and liberality of the nation. It is most gratifying to observe that not only have these demands been met without additional taxation, but that you have made some further progress in reducing the burdens of my people.

I am enabled to congratulate you, that the terms upon which the loan for the compensation to the proprietors of alaves has been obtained, afford conclusive evidence of the flourishing state of the public credit, and of that general confidence, which is the result of a determination to fulfil the national engagements, and to confidence, which is the result of a determi-tion to fulfil the national engagements, and maintain inviolate the public faith.

MONTREAL, WEDNESDAY, OCT. 21, 1835.

By the packet ship Orpheus, 17th September from Liverpool, London papers to the 15th and Liverpool to the 16th ultimo, have been received. The most important news which they contain are, the prorogation of the Imperial Parliament by the King in person, on the 10th—the acceptance by the Commons of the Municipal Corporation Bill, as re-amended by the Lords, and to which the Royal Assent has been given—and the passing by the House of Lords of the Irish Tithe Bill, which also has obtained the Royal Signature.

The King's speech, and other English intelligence, will be found below.

France and Spain remain in much the same condition they were in at our last dates—the one in a state of feverish political excitement, the other desolated by civil war and insurrectionary movements.

HOUSE OF LORDS—SPT. 10.

The King delivered, in a very clear and firm tone, the Royal Spaceh. It was in the following terms:—

My Lords and Gentlemen, I find, with great satisfaction, that the state the server of the server of the complex discussions of the comparatively long period during which the bill from first to last has been before one or dother of the Houses of Parliament, has been the gradual evaporation of violence and progressive increase of calmness and good-temper-so observable in both Houses as the deliberations went on.
