Making Everybody Happy.

By RUTH CAMERON.

"This makes me feel as if I were going down to M—," a friend said to me the other day, as we approached a railroad station. "I often used to come here at just about this time of day the summer we spent there."

"Too bad you aren't going there now," I said. She gave herself a little shake of distaste. "Far from it," she said. "It gives me a tired-out feeling just to think of it."

I could scarcely believe my ears. The house at M— had been a beautiful cottage in a lovely situation. It did not seem possible to me that anyone could have helped enjoying it. I said as much.

She Didn't Have to Work Hard, But—

"Yes," she said, "it was lovely, but it wasn't peaceful. I had two families there—my people and my husband's people—and I had to keep things going smoothly. I don't mean that they didn't get on perfectly well together, but you know how one person has to be the center of a family like that, and you can imagine how hard it is. Then there was a good deal of trouble with paids because we were so far out, and I had to adjust all that. I don't mean I had to work hard, it was just trying to keep everybody happy that tired me."

"Just trying to keep everybody happy"—how many women that must tire more than the actual work they have to do!

Trying To Please Everybody Is A Strain.

Just trying to keep everything moving so smoothly that no one can find a crevice to lodge a complaint in, just trying to please everyone's taste at the table, just trying to harmonize a family of strongly individual personalities, to convince a father that his son is not extravagant, and a son that his father is not stingy, to keep a maid good-tempered when the family are late to meals, or bear the brunt of the family ill temper when a meal is late in appearing—just these and a hundred similar details of adjustment help use up the average homemaker's nervous force.

Every Mother An Adjustment Bureau.

And in many cases she manages all this under the constant strain of the fear of being scolded. Every mother is an adjustment bureau of domestic complaints. The woman at the adjustment bureau in the big shop has no sinecure of a position, but she does not have the same nervous strain. To be sure, people are sometimes cross to her, but it doesn't matter so much, because they are not the people she cares about. At the mother's adjustment bureau, on the other hand, the complaints are all from those she loves the best and whose disapproval hurts her the most. And mothers, somehow, never get used to being scolded, which, as I have remarked before, is incomprehensible, because they get so much practice in endurance.

The epitaph over many a tired little mother who folds her weary hands and succumbs to some minor disease might well be:

"She gave daily of her vitality to oil the machinery of family life, and had none left to save herself in the time of need."

Ship Sinks When Almost Saved.

During the gale that swept the S. W. Coast a few days ago, the Gloucester schooner Filistation, owned by the Gorton Pew Co., which was wrecked at Port aux Basques early last month, slipped from the rock on which she was wrecked, sank in the water. With the exception of the top of her masts the ship is completely submerged. Mr. Jacob Davis is out of pocket $200 as the result of material and labour lost in an attempt to refloat the ship.

Pulp Shipment.

The S. S. Florizel moved from the Red Cross pier last evening and berthed at the Furness Withy wharf where she took on board a few hundred tons of pulp, shipped by the A. N. D. Co., of Grand Falls. The Florizel got away last midnight for New York. Her passengers were published by us yesterday.

RECRUITS COMING IN.—Quite a number of volunteers came to the city yesterday by the different trains and were met at the station by squads from the Armory.

Amusements.

GRAND PICTURES AT THE NICKEL.

There were crowded audiences at the mid-week production of the Nickel Theatre yesterday. "The Exploits of Elaine" is one of the most popular serials ever given in St. John's and whenever it is shown the building is crowded, yesterday's episode was a most thrilling one and afforded general satisfaction. Maurice Costello who appeared in "Rags and the Girl" was as popular as ever. "The Sultan of the Desert" was a very interesting picture also, while the Edison Comedy: "The Widow's Breezy Suit" was extremely funny. The vocalists, Messrs. Lane and Stanley, were in splendid form again. This evening the programme will be repeated and no one should miss it.

"WHEN LOVE IS MOCKED."

Will be Repeated at The Crescent. "When Love is Mocked" will be repeated at the Crescent Picture Palace to-day. This wonderful appealing drama is a production of the Selig Company and contains some beautiful scenes of rugged shore and sea. "The Deception" is a fine society drama by the Lubin Company featuring Ethel Clayton and Thurston Hall. "The Serpent's Tooth" is a great Vitaphone comedy with Wally Van. Mr. Frank DeGroot sings the fine ballad, "She's the Daughter of Mother McChree" in his usual good style.

At the House.

Petitions were presented by Mr. Lloyd asking for a light at St. Jones Without Hr.; by Mr. Deyoreaux for motor ferry at Branch; by Mr. Currie from Birin for steam service and by Mr. Emerson asking that the tax be taken off lumber.

The report of the Joint Select Committee on the Sealing Bill was adopted.

An amendment was made to the Municipal Bill keeping the present Commission in power as an advisory Board regarding the new City Charter.

The Premier moved an address to the Governor in Council for a Commission of members of both Houses to sit while the House is not in session on the Municipal measure.

Messages received from the Legislature Council intimating their concurrence in bills were read.

All the business of the House was finished last evening and His Excellency the Governor will prorogue the Assembly this afternoon.

Local Druggists Repair What Famous Surgeons Cannot Touch

Shattered nerves are beyond the reach of the Surgeon's knife. What will repair them? Dozens of people right here in your home town will bear testimony to this fact that Zoetic—the health tonic—has set them on their feet again. This famous combination of glycer-phosphates—the actual element of the human body—Cod Liver Oil and delicious tonic wine, supply the very elements that worn out nerves require. In a quiet way the action of Zoetic is truly marvellous. Without a trace of narcotic it induces sound sleep. And following that, better and better digestion. And following that a final and complete rebuilding of the nervous system drained of vitality. Two weeks' faithful use of it will convince you. Because you have been so often misled, expecting much and receiving little, we offer outright to refund the purchase price of Zoetic if at the end of two weeks you cannot report real progress toward better health. Start trying it to-day. Sold by T. McDermott & Co., Sole Distributing Agents for Newfoundland.

Particulars of Landslide at Port Blandford.

Further particulars of the landslide and washout in the neighbourhood of Port Blandford show that what occurred was of a serious nature. At 8 o'clock Monday evening a rumbling noise was heard west of the place mentioned. The section men accompanied by several people belonging to the port walked out two miles to a place called Birch Point, where they discovered that 27 lengths of railway track had been submerged or swept into the landwash by the falling earth which descended from a steep cliff overhanging the track, carrying with it tons of large rocks, trees and scrub that grew along the waters edge. In places the earth was piled from 8 to 10 feet in height. A short distance east of Port Blandford, at the south west water chute, the track was flooded for a distance of 30 feet with an average depth of 8 feet, over which a temporary trestle had to be erected. Roadmaster Graham with a crew of 100 men did quick work and by 10 o'clock the following evening the express was over the danger zone and speeding her way towards the city. This is the worst landslide for many years in that locality. Port Blandford at the time no train was passing.

SALES FOR SYDNEY.—The S. S. Nevada which has been on dock undergoing repairs is expected to sail for North Sydney to-day.
